KYLE COMMENDED; PETTIGREW CONDEMNED

Sennte Passes Resolutions on the Votes of the Senators on the Pence Theaty-Business of the House.

PIERRE, S. D., Feb. 9 .- (Special Telegram.)-The house started business by granting the use of the house chamber Sunday evening to a church service of churches of the city. Marietta Bones of Yankton sent in a long communication of woes of the horse and asking for action on a bill creating the office of state veterinarian.

The ways and means committee reported on that portion of the governor's message relating to the financial transactions of Treasurer Philipps during his last term. The report embodied a statement of the extreasurer, giving a detailed history of the work of the department for the term and the reasons for all his actions. This was coat. Man Who Played the Part of Messiah Prefers Prison Bars to South Dakota Temperature.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Feb. 9 .- (Special Telegram.)-Albert C. Hopkins, the man who gained considerable notoriety during the Indian trouble at the Pine Ridge Agency eight years ago by appearing at the agency at a most critical juncture and announcing himself to the assembled Sioux as the locked-for Messiah, in default of bonds has been in the county jail for some time waiting trial at the next term of federal court. He is charged with using the mails for improper purposes. Friends at Canton finally came to the rescue and offered the necessary bond, but Hopkins refused to avail himself of the proffered freedom, giving the present cold weather as a reason for not wishing to leave jail.

FIGHTING FIRE IN A MINE. Constant Streams of Water Are

Poured on a Stubborn Bluze. DIAMONDVILLE, Wyo., Feb. 9 .- (Special.)-A determined fight is maintained by the owners of the Diamondville mine at this place which has been on fire since December 26 last. Six shifts of men are at work, each shift working four hours. The fire started on No. 5 level and has since worked its way up to No. 1, a distance of over 1,000 feet. It has been put out on No. 1 and No. 2 levels and the men are now working with hose on level No. 3.

It will probably require several weeks of constant work before the fire is conquered. after which it will require several week's work to clear away the debris, put up new timber and place the mine in condition for work. It is hoped to resume shipments by Since the fire the owners of the property have opened a new mine on the vein from which they are now shipping about 300 tons daily. The coal all goes to the Anaconda smelters.

When somebody asked him how he could cultivate a habit so much at variance with his principles he replied: 'I used to drink as regularly and as frequently as any one, but one day while walking through the cemetery at Little Rock saw the new-made grave of a bright man had had my share." and town residents took up a large part of

Another of the attorney general's peculiarities was an intense hatred of doctors. He used to say that until he broke his leg he had never paid a doctor's bill or spent medical profession was a humbug; that no that he could be cured by correcting that he was afflicted by a swelling of the jaws. He got a notion that he had been poisoned in some manner and his associates persuaded him to go to a doctor. The physician looked him over and remarked: 'There is nothing serious the matter with you. You have only a mild case of mumps.'

"H-, mumps!" exclaimed Mr. Garland in rage; "I'll be blanked if you know the difference between mumps and cholera infantum.

Mr. Garland was very fond of practical jokes and during his term of service in the whom he was very friendly, finally determined to turn the tables. Mr. Garland had in effect. a habit like Voorhees of munching candy, and Vest and Voorhees made it up between them to take advantage of his fondness for sweets to play their trick. They had some tempting looking chocolate caramels prepared, with the interior filled with brown soap. These they took to the senate chamber and Voorhees placed them on his desk. Senator Vest replied that it could do no nore than make him sick. Garland swallowed the stuff, although he was foaming at the mouth from the soapsuds. He related the incident afterward with great gusto and said that he would have swallowed it if it

Mr. Garland once related how, while member of the confederate senate he and another senator who lived at the came boarding house thought they would present their landlady with a fine fat turkey. Having just drawn a month's pay, they started to market with their pockets bulging with money, all confederate notes. They selected the fattest and most tempting turkey they could find and, to their great dismay, found when they came to pay for it that their combined salaries for the month were not sufficient to meet the price of the turkey. They compromised by spending the salaries in the purchase of a drink. Later on, when Skiles of Maryland and William M. for 1858 was presented to the council. It Today is Chosen for the General Debate on All-Important Topic.

O'BRIEN'S HOPES FOR TREASURER KILLED

Warm Controversy Develops Over Sclection of Next Year's Meeting Place-Thorns J. Keenan Elected President.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Feb. 9.-The great question of the continued control of racing by the League of American Wheelmen came very nearly being settled in short order and without debate at the meeting today. Only an act of courtesy on the part of one or two delegates who are strongly opposed to the giving up of racing allowed the matter to stand and gave the advocates of the roposed amendment to the constitution an oportunity to discuss the matter, which they will do in the morning.

The regular routine work of the assembly passed off with remarkable smoothness, with only a short debate on some of the reports and no contest whatever on the ofcers, so that it was not until late in the day that the spirit for debate became manifest in the discussion over the next assembly place. It took nearly two hours to decide the matter, as a very pretty three-cornered fight developed between Jacksonville, Fla., Philadelphia and Detroit. The assembly, however, decided to seek a warmer clime next year and chose Jacksonville.

Racing Question Up. Then came suddenly upon the meeting the racing question, and before three quarters of those present realized it the previous question on the motion to reject the amendments had been made and carried and the the main question, without hearing a single speech for or against racing. The advocates of the amendments pleaded hard for delay and a chance to debate, and after a while, notwithstanding their superiority in numbers and the certainty of ultimate victory, the or ponents yielded and tomorrow the League will spend the day in discussing

The result of the election of new officers caused great satisfaction and the new president, Mr. Keenan, showed much ability in a cent for medicine for himself; that the handling the convention during the stormy discussion of the afternoon. Sterling Elman was ill unless he abused himself, and flott will have charge of the debate on the side of the amendments and C. W. Mears abuse. But while he was attorney general of Ohio and E. VanValkenburg of Wisconsin will lead the opposition.

The report of the treasurer, James G.

Tattersall, showed the league to be on a firm financial basis. The report of the committee on rights and privileges in contested elections was the first one of the important matters before the assembly. The case was that of A. K. Peck, who protested against the recent election of the state officers in Massachusetts. The committee found that while the counting was improperly conducted and the checktion, but by the advice of friends remained ing was irregular, the result as declared

The committee found no evidence fraud. The report led to a sharp discussion, but senate frequently turned the laugh on his by an overwhelming vote the assembly colleagues, Senators Voorhees and Vest, with adopted the report and the officers of Massachusetts as declared elected will continue been the same under other conditions.

Otto Dorner's report, as chairman of the highway improvement committee, Chairman Mott's report of the work on the racing board and the report of the committee of local organization were presented in order. The report of the auditing committee was then discussed and a recommendation that the reading board in the future keep its books in a business-like way was adopted with only slight opposition.

Get Down to Officers' Election. The first business of the assembly in the afternoon was the consideration of the report writing and responded, "Caramels; help of the executive committee on the question of turning over the control of racing to Garland needed no second invitation, and some other body. There were only a few votes in opposition to the adoption of the report of the committee.

The annual election of officers followed. W. J. VanValkenburg of Milwaukee nominated Thomas J. Keenan of Pittsburg for president. The nomination was seconded by Chief Consuls Boyle of Pennsylvania, Kirekes of New Jersey and Elliott of Massachusetts. Mr. Keenan was elected by a unanimous vote. He made a short speech in which he thanked the assembly for the honor and said the furtherance of the interests of the league would be his only purpose. Herbert W. Foultz of New Jersey was unanimously elected first vice president. Robert T. Kinsbury of New Hampshire was made unanimous choice for second vice president. The same proceedings were carried through in the re-election of James W. Tattersall as treasurer and in the election of an auditing committee, consisting of Howard L. Perkins of Portland, Thomas M

The first real contest came on the question of selecting a place for the next general assembly. The claims of Detroit and senator, they walked to the Mississippi Jacksonville and Philadelphia were presented. Mr. Potter favored leaving the selection to the executive committee.

A warm discussion followed and an attempt to place the matter in the hands of the executive committee recommending that Jacksonville be favored by the committee was voted down as was the plain motion to let the executive committee make the selec-There was a long wrangle and finally a proxy vote Jacksonville won. If satisfactory arrangements cannot be made the executive committee is authorized to change the place.

Controversy Cut Off. At 5:30 the convention started to consider the all-important question of divorcing racing from the league. Fitzsimmons-Sharkey Match Fails and Julian Looks After Jeffries. NEW YORK, Feb. 9,-The chances for secting between Fitzsimmons and Tom Sharkey in a twenty-four-foot ring for the eavyweight championship of the world are rather remote. It was generally expected that these two would have been matched that these two would have been matched today for a limited round or finish contest, but after parleying for over an hour Martin Julian and Tom O Rourke failed to agree on a date for the contest and the negotiations fell through.

Julian immediately began to arrange a bout between Fitz-immons and J-ffri's and soon had the matter well in hand. Julian arrived late in the afternoon from Detroit, but prior to his arrival O'Rourke announced that he had signed Sharkey to meet Charley Mitchell of England for a purse of $11,000, the bout to take place before the Boling-broke club of London, May 29.

Julian opened the proceedings by stating he was ready to match Bob Fitzsimmons against Sharkey and was anxious to have the contest take place as soon as possible tefore the club offering the largest purse, He stated that the conditions should be Queensberry rules to govern with the exception that there should be no hitting in clinches or breakways, no bandages to be worn by either contestants and the pair should box twenty-five rounds if the contest should occur in this state, but if a club would offer a larger purse than any other and a finish fight could be arranged, then the principals would sceept that offer, O'Rourke agreed to all these proposals, but when Julian said the men should meet within eight weeks from the signing of the articles O'Rourke objected, He said Sharkey could not meet Fitzsimmons before November next.

"I know your reasons for not wanting to fight now." said Julian.
"Well. I can tell you." raplied O'Rourke.
"I know Sharkev is improving, while Fitz-simmons is standing still, and as your man has not fought in two years I feel that Sharkey has a right to dictate terms and should get until November."
"My money has been up for a long time," replied Julian, "and yours is only up for a couple of days."

More words followed. Julian made several references to the meeting of Fitzsimmons.

More words followed. Julian made several references to the meeting of Fitzsimmons and Sharkey in San Francisco and finally said: "I drop all negotiations with you and Sharkey and will take on Jeffries."

J. P.
