Colorado and Utah Shun the Western Passenger Association.

PREFER A TRANSMISSOURI ORGANIZATION

Denver Meeting of Passenger Agents is Not Attended with Any Results-Views of Lomax and Smith.

Colorado and Utah railroads are not ready to come into the Western Passenger association. The committee from the association which went to Denver last week to consult with the managers of those roads, failed to accomplish any great amount of results. The Missouri Pacific and the Colorado Midland were not represented at the meeting at The representatives of the Denver & Rio Grande, Rio Grande Western and Oregon Short Line virtually refused to have anything to do with the Western Passenger association, signifying a preference for a transmissouri association. The Colorado Southern, while willing to respect any agreement made by its connecting lines, preferred not to become a member of the association. The Santa Fe declared it was the Western association or nothing, and that it would not split its line at the Missouri river for a transmissourt association. The Rock Island and Burlington expressed preference for the Western association, but would go into a transmissouri agreement if one was found necessary. The Union Pacific favored the transmissouri association, but would go into once took up the criminal business of the the other if its connecting lines did likewise. Mr. Lomax did suggest that if the Colorado Southern would respect the Union Riley. Pacific's tariff agreement, he might consent to accept the Western association agreement, but he preferred to have this road also member of the association.

Will Try It Again. This is as far as the conference came to reaching an agreement, and another meeting was set for Chicago for the first of next week, at which few of the western lines will be represented. It is hoped by the other roads, from the position taken by Mr. Lomax at Denver, that the Western Passenger association agreement will be accepted by the Union Pacific, and the bickering among the roads come to an end. Mr. Lomax, in talking of the prospect "I still maintain that the transmis souri association is the fariest for the Union Pacific road. The Missouri river is the natural dividing line. It is so accepted in other lines of traffic. The conditions west of the Missouri are different from those east, and it is not reasonable to place railroads in Nebraska, Wyoming, Colorado and Utah on the same footing with roads in Illinois and Iowa."

A. B. Smith of the Burlington, who represented that road at the Denver conference, is hopeful. He said: "I think there is a good prospect of our getting together on the Western Passenger association agreement. Mr. Lomax made a number of concessions at Denver which will be the means of remov ing much of the objection heretofore raised to the agreement. I believed that an agree ment, effective as to Colorado points, will be made at the Chicago meeting.

IT GIVES OMAHA THE GO-BY Burlington to Run Its Fast Train by

Way of Plattsmouth. Two important results in the Burlington's announced change in time are that the new Denver train will give Omaha the go-by, and that the daylight train to Chicago will b discontinued. These points will not be mentioned in the time card, but they are none the less patent. The present No. 1 goes through Omaha at about midnight, but after next Sunday it will cross from Plattsmouth to Lincoln, through Ashland. Much of the time saved between Chicago and Denver by the new time card is cut off by making the run over that line, and as there is always an excuse for everything done by a railroad, it is advanced that no one would take this train from Omaha to Denver and ride all day, when by leaving here in the and the vigorous fight over the appropriaevening they can reach Denver in the morning after a good night's rest.

Under the new card No. 1 will leave Chi cago at 6 o'clock in the evening and reach Pacific Junction about 5 o'clock in the morning. For a portion of the distance between Chicago and the Missouri river the running time almost equals that of No. 7, the fast mail. From Chicago to Galesburg the fast mail's time is three hours and sixteen minutes, and that of No. 1 will be three hours and thirty minutes. Most of the fast running by this train, however, will be made east of the Mississippi river. Burlington officials say this train will be the quickest service now in force in the country for a distance of 1,000 miles.

In doing away with the daylight trains between Omaha and Chicago, the Burlington has changed the time of No. 6, which will leave Denver at 9:80 a. m. instead of 1:40 p. m., leaving Omaha at 12:30 a. m. and arriving in Chicago at 2:15 p. m. It is alleged that this train will shorten the time between Denver and New York about three The important change in No. 5, as has already been announced, will be in shortening its time between Chicago and Omaha two hours and fifteen minutes. This will all be made up by leaving Chicago later, except five minutes in an earlier arrival at Omaha The train will leave Chicago at 8 o'clock instead of 5:50 p. m. and arrive here at 8 a. m. instead of 8:05 a. m. From this point west the time will remain unchanged

While the Burlington has officially given notice that these changes are to be made next Sunday, there is a well defined feeling that many things may happen during the coming week which may partially alter the plans of the road, chief of which is an greement by the roads to abandon the fast train service.

BEST OF FEELING IS EXISTING. Union Pacific Management and Tele

graphers to Get Together. By mutual agreement the Order of Rail-way Telegraphers of the Union Pacific and the general manager of the road have postponed action on the new rules for the gov ernment of the telegraphers until March 1. The committee of the telegraphers had a inference with Mr. Dickinson, and that official requested, owing to the many important matters demanding his attention at this time, which will require his absence from the city at frequent intervals, that the matter be deferred until the time specified, and the committee granted it. committee was courteously received by Mr. Dickinson, and it believes from what the general manager said that the company will deal fairly with its employes in the telegraph department, and feels that when the conference it will reach an amicable understanding. It says they can come together the first of next month and finish up the work at one sitting, while if it insisted on action now the sessions would be interrupted and no time gained. The members of the committee for the telegraphers are: R. R. Root of Pine Bluffs, Wyo., who has just been elected secretary and treasurer for the division; R. R. Genge of Osceola, Neb., who has been appointed to act as general chairman; F. A. Baldwin of St. Edward, Neb., E. G. Everly of River Bend, Colo., and L. M. Tudor of Rawlins, Mr. Baldwin will remain to the city a few days to finish up some work of the order, while Mr. Tudor will remain to continue treatment for his eyes, which he is receiving here. The others will depart for

Among others who were seen in Washngton by Secretary Smith was Dr. Marcus Benjamin of the Smithsonian Institution, who is most enthusiastically in favor of the exposition. Dr. Benjamin says that Omaha has an extraordinary opportunity and that an exposition along the lines proposed can be made a great success. He has already written a review of the scope and character of the undertaking for an encyclopedia.

ZERO WEATHER SEEMS MUCH LIKE SUMMER

Cold Wave of the Last Few Days Pushes South and Catches the Residents Along the Gulf Const.

When the early riser consulted the thernometer on his back porch Monday morning and found it only a few degrees below the zero point he was moved to get out his light vercoat and summer underwear.

In view of the extraordinary conditions of the last few weeks, a temperature that would ordinarily be considered an extreme of frigidity seemed like a breath from Elysian fields, and the people turned down their fur collars and rode down town on the outside of the motor trains with all the comfort of an April morning. It wasn't so very warm at that, for the temperature was down to 9 below during the night, yet it moderated rapidly toward morning. At 7 o'clock the government thermometer said 5 below and from that hour it rose steadily until by the ime ordinary business avocations were begun the atmosphere was really enjoyable Further west the change was even more marked than along the Missouri river. In Montana the temperature has risen 66 degrees in the last forty-eight hours, and through the Dakotas the mercury runs in the 20's above zero, instead of being from 20 to 38 below, as previously. Announcements. Madame Carreno might have had as great a success as an opera singer as she has had as a planist. It was in Edinburgh, Scotland, that she established the fact and at the same that she established the fact and at the same time saved the veteran manager, Colonel Mapleson, from a difficult situation. The pianist had played with success on the continent and was resting in the Scotch capital before making her London appearance. Mapleson had announced "Les Huguenots" for the queen's birthday and the house was sold out. Three days before the performance the singer who was cast for the part of the Queen was taken desperately ill. Mapleson telegraphed all over the country. Every telegraphed all over the country. Every singer within three days' journey who could sing the part was engaged. Knowing sing the part was engaged. Knowing Madame Carreno's great musical talent and having heard her sing in private he proposed that she should sing the role of Queen. Madame Carréno, then a young girl in her teens, laughed at the idea. Mapleson was desperate. He told her that she alone could save the performance. "I will sing on one condition," she said, "give me the singers that I want for my London concert." Mapleson was only too happy to consent. After she had learned the role and was ready to appear she grew frightened at the risk of the undertaking. If she should fail her London prospects as a planist would be injured irretrievably. There was no escape, however, so she assumed a stage name and on her appearance scored a great success in the role.

Three men who were caught in the slide were taken out with only slight bruises and they will recover. It is known that thirteen persons were in the slide and that two are missing. Possibly a dozen more were caught by the slide, but the Italians who lived in the canyon are averse to giving information. The men who were saved say that it was by a miracle, for they were unable to get out of the way of the moving mass of snow.
