Alterention Occurs in Chamber Regarding Amount to Be Expended on Faure's Obsequies-Order Vigorously Maintained in Paris.

(Copyright, 1899, by Press Publishing Co.) PARIS, Feb. 20 .- (New York World Cablegram-Special Telegram.)-Faure already is as completely forgotten as if he never had existed and partisan passions are raging furiously around his successor. Anti-Dreyfus papers are exhausting their vocabulary of vituperation on Loubet's devoted head in today's issues. The following COMBINE BUYS UP WHISKY are some of the rancorous epithets applied to him in their columns: "Imbecile noniinee," "Hebrew press protector," "Drey-fusards' wretch-elect," "scum of the peo-ple," "a bas la calotte," "perjurer," "conspuez Loubet," "the president of the Panathaists," "down with Loubet," and he is frantically warned to resign.

Loubet himself is astonished at the virulence of these unprovoked attacks. He was prevailed upon to accept the presidency as above reproach by all parties. The anti-Dreyfusites are aiming to terrorize him into following Faure's line in revision. If stated that buyers who have been making of the court. he is able to withstand their threats it will big investments in whisky during the last surprise those who know him best. PARIS, Feb. 20 .- In the Chamber o Deputies today the premier, M. Dupuy asked for a credit of 160,000 francs to defray the expenses of the obsequies of the late President Felix Faure.

Seques be purely c. This drew forth murmurs and protests from the rightists chamber. The president of the Chamber of Deputies, M. Deschanel, interrupted M. De Jeant several times, calling upon him to respect the stricken family of the dead president. M. De Jeant's motion was rejected by a vote 443 to 60 and the credit was adopted by a vote of 463 to 42.

The Chamber unanimously decided to attend the departure of the body from the Elysee palace on Thursday, although the procession will really be formed after leaving the cathedral of Notre Dame. A large audience filed before the coffin of the dead president today.

The city is calm and stringent precau tions have been taken to maintain order About 160 persons were arrested yesterday taking part in the disturbances. Of this number sixty were detained in custody.

Agitation Dying Out.

The demonstrations have entirely ceased perhaps only till after the funeral of M. Faure, but the aspect is better and President Loubet's seat seems permanent.

He has reaffirmed his intention to retain the Dupuy cabinet-a step which tends to remove the suspicion that he is a Drey fusard. During the mouth of mourning he will not attend any public ceremony. He has followed the custom of giving a holiday remission of punishments to the army and navy and made large donations to the poor in Montelimar, his native town, and in

The fiery Patrie Francaise has issued unexpectedly a mild manifesto briefly express ing the wish that the new president shall extricate himself from all compromising connections and have a clear consciousness of his duty toward the fatherland and the prmy. The manifesto is signed by Cavaignac Coppe, Forain, Lemaître and others. The inference is that the agitation against the president is already dying both in the streets and in the newspapers.

The latter are now concerned in a prosaibut piquant investigation of M. Loubet's domestic connections. Reporters have visited the Montelimar district and interviewed all his relatives, including his mother, who is over 80, a bronzed, cheery farmer's widow of the peasant class, in snug circumstances, who has never seen Paris and who regret's her son's election, because, as she says, she would see him now more seldom than ever before.

President Loubet's brother-in-law, a well to-do fron monger, said he was delighted at the news of the election, but complaine that he would be besieged by office hunters who would be wanting recommendations to M. Loubet. He said M. Loubet was not a rich man and would not be able to spend much beyond his official income and allow unces and he thought the plunge into polities-taking him from his books and musicwould not prove a happy change.

Samuel Lichty Makes Definite Charges Against Mr. Cornell.

ABSTRACT FILED WITH THE COMMITTEE

Burlington Road.

Charged with Helding Back Sums of Money Belonging to the State.

DEPUTIES SPECULATE WITH STATE FUNDS

Simpson and Palm Alleged to Have Been Appointed for the Purpose of Doing a "Holdup" Business.

LINCOLN, Feb. 20 .- (Special.) -The following abstract of the charges filed against Auditor Cornell by Samuel Lichty was compiled and filed with the legislative investigating committee today: 1. State Auditor Cornell had in his possession on the 1st day of June, 1897, sums belonging to the state, amounting to over $5,000, which the constitution required to be paid into the treasury "in advance." During the whole of the year 1897 he held back money belonging to treasury, and had the same deposited as his own private funds in banks outside the state capital, or was using the same for private speculation. (See Broatch agalest Moores, declaring such action to be embezzlement. This decision also mays: was made in the full confidence that it would be made good and no one would be harmed. There is no middle ground either how willing he may afterward prove to be to replace the misappropriation of that which was not his own.")

2. The state auditor, accompanied by his friends and relatives, accepted the free use of a special train on the Burlington road of the Nebraska State Board of Equalipation, of which the state auditor was chair-man. By the means of passes and other favors from the ratiroad companies he was induced to vote against any increase of taxes on these companies. 3 State Auditor Corneal received contri-butions and transportation from railroad companies to assist in securing a renomina-tion in 1898, one of these contributions being fifty trip passes "for yourself and More head," having been sent just previous to the state convention on request of the state auditor. (See session laws, 1897, page 186).

4. Auditor Cornell appointed his nephew J. A. Simpson, as county treasurer exam-iner, with a specific salary of $1,200 per year and expenses, and while he was drawing this salary, authorized him to examine usurance companies and extort illegal fees
