Allison and George Hedger of Cedar Rapids paid Council Bluffs a visit yesterday and during the day were the guests of Mayor Jennings and the city officials. Their visit here was for the purpose of inquiring into the status of the litigation in which this city is at present involved. They were given all the information possible regarding the suit brought by Shea to invalidate the outstanding warrants the decision in which is anxiously looked for from Judge Towner. They were also told all about the Phillips warrant case and the 40 unsatisfactory ruling made by the supreme court, also about the suit brought by the 125 city against the county over the county road fund. This information they wanted in order that they might steer the municipal bark of Cedar Rapids clear from similar litigation. In the afternoon they took a trip to Omaha

Man Robbed by Colored Women Does Not Court Publicity.

The case against the two colored women, ida Truesdale and Belle Pillows, charged with robbing "John Hamilton" of $115, was ontinued in police court yesterday morning by Judge Aylesworth until next Tuesda. The two women have engaged the service f attorneys and are going to make a hard ight for their liberty and owing to the manner in which the police have handled the case it is not at all improbable that they may both escape punishment. Further, there is a chance of the women regaining the money which it is alleged they stole from Hamilton. Up to yesterday afternoon so information had been filed against the women either by Hamilton or the police. the latter being unwilling to take the sten as they appeared to be anxious to screen Hamilton, whose right name it transpired yesterday is Jake Galbraith. The case has now taken a new turn and after it was continued in police court the attorneys for the women filed an information against John Hamilton, alias Jake Galbraith, with conducting a gambling game and being a gambler. No warrant for Galbraith's arrest was issued and last evening Chief Bixby this stated he understood Galbraith had left the city and was now in Nebraska. Late in the afternoon an information charging the women with larceny from the person was town, as there appeared on the surface no valid reason why an information in the first place had not been filed against the women and Galbraith held as a witness if he was unwilling to prosecute. It developed also yesterday afternoon that the money which had been recovered, amounting to $110, had not been turned over o Galbraith, but was, as Chief Bixby ex-
