Co. of Cleveland, the purchasers of the bonds, that the securities be delivered on May 1. If the bonds are delivered then, the school district must commence to pay interest upon them at once, whereas it is certain that the buildlugs will not be commenced until June 1. It can be expected that the contractors need not be supplied with any money until July 1 and the $5,000 which the bond company put up to guaranty good faith can be used in buying a Davenport school site. Inasmuch as the money may not be needed until July 1, therefore the members of the poard seem to be of the opinion that it would e folly to deliver them before that date, as according to the terms of the contract they do not need to deliver them until then Lamprecht Bros. Co. would naturally wish to get the bonds two months earlier because they would gain in such an event two full months' interest, amounting to some $1,666.

The board will soon hold a special meeting to act upon this request. The latter says: "The premium was unquestionably the General Gomez and his army of Cubans highest ever paid for Omaha bonds and have fared a great deal better with their pay, observes the Chicago Record, than did shows the excellent standing that Omaha George Washington and the revolutionary has in the bond markets of the country. In June, 1892, we sold $400,000 city twentypatriots who fought under his command. They got very little pay, or clothing or sup- year bonds at what we considered an excelall:35 am a 4 05 pm plies, for that matter, and were in about the lent figure. These brought a price of $106.68 same condition as the Cubans when the war and were 5 per cents. These just sold draw closed and congress gave orders to have but 4 per cent and the premium for which they were sold was $21,275-a price of $108.51. By further comparison the price is even less to do anything, but entreated them to higher than it appears. In the case of the be patient and wait the generosity of concity bonds I have mentioned there was no gress, which was then engaged in petty accrued interest, the bonds drawing intercontroversies and disgraceful intrigues. In the case of treasury was empty and the states refused these school bonds, the bonds need not be to give the government any further pedelivered and need not draw interest until unlary aid. It was then that Colonel Lewis July 1, although they are dated January 1. Nicola, an influential officer, suggested a Thus two months' interest has already been monarchy with Washington as king, and saved and if the board does not need the drew from the general a rebuke in some of money another four months' interest may the noblest patriotic sentences ever framed be saved. Thus a total in interest of $5,000 may be saved, which could properly be added to the premium, making it $26,275. "This sale is a great contrast to the one of a year ago when the city sold $300,000 funding bonds. The highest premium they brought was $12,857.10, but this deal fell through. The bonds were later sold at a premium of only $3,550. The uneasiness of the bond market because of the war was accountable for this small premium."
