HISCOX MEETS HIS ACCUSERS

Motion to Dismiss in Sellers Murder Trial is Overruled.

DEFENSE DISCREDITS WITNESS FOR STATE

Circumstances Narrow the Crime to Three Perpetrators—Victim is Shot at Once After Arrival of the Hiscox Brothers.

TEKAMAH, Neb., March 2.—(Special.)—

The defense in the case of the State against Calvin Hiscox, charged with the murder of Fred Sellers on June 2, 1896, was begun by filing a motion for dismissal, on the ground that the state failed to make a case.

After the arguments the court, in summing up, held that it was not his province to pass on the credibility of witnesses; that there was sufficient evidence produced in this case, if true, to show that Olive Hiscox never killed Fred Sellers.

George Riley of Blencoe, Ia., was the first witness for the defense. He said that he was acquainted with James Cowick, a witness who testified for the state, and that his reputation for truth and veracity was bad.

J. G. Arthur and Peter Lund testified that they were present at midnight last night of the murder. Their testimony was unimportant. With this the state rested.

The afternoon was occupied by the arguments to the jury.

MURDER FOR SAKE OF A GIRL

Young Man Kills a Favored Sultor in Fit of Jealousy and Later Ends His Own Life.

FAIRBURY, Neb., March 2.—(Special Telegram.)—Bert Grandy shot and instantly killed Clyde Cole, a well known and prosperous cattleman, living in Sheridan county, northeast of here, was arrested this week on the charge of incest, and his preliminary hearing was held in Rushville yesterday.

The complaining witness, Wright's eldest daughter, 22 years old, swore that her father had been indulging in illicit relations with her for the last two years and at frequent intervals. It is believed by many that the case is merely the outcome of a family quarrel. It seems that Wright and his wife are incompatible and their married life has not been satisfactory for several years.

GOOD HEALTH AND DISCIPLINE

Nebraskans at Manila Attract Attention as Well Drilled and Gallant Soldiers.

LINCOLN, March 2.—(Special.)—The following letter was received today by General Barry giving some interesting information regarding the First Nebraska regiment:

CAMP SANTA MESA, MANILA, P. I., Jan. 21.—To the Adjutant General of the State of Nebraska, Lincoln: Enclose you please find a copy of the report of the commanding officer of the Nebraska soldiers at Manila.

It is an honor to be in the ranks of the Nebraska soldiers at Manila. I have intended writing you at length of the regiment, its condition and progress. It has been a very interesting experience.

We are in camp about a mile from Manila, near the junction of the San Juan and the Manila rivers, and about 400 yards from the Philippine government buildings, the powder magazine, and the waterworks, which are all on the hill in the village of San Juan del Monte.

We have to keep our heavy guns and our heavy baggage on the hill during the day. It is very light and only four men are on guard at a time in the camp. We are getting in fine shape as far as discipline and drill are concerned.

Today we were inspected by the division inspector, a regular army officer, and although it had been raining and the ground was extremely muddy he repeatedly remarked on the fine appearance of the command.

As we were the first regiment to be inspected by the division inspector, and as we did not have any previous notice (it was merely a regular weekly inspection) I think we had something to feel proud of.

We have a fine band, and the credit which is almost entirely due to Lieutenant Richards, who has taken a great interest in the band.

John M. Stotsenberg, Colonel First Nebraska. One of the reports enclosed was that of the brigade surgeon and was dated January 7.

The camp of this company is greatly improved. The grounds are well plowed and are ready for planting.

First Nebraska Infantry, U. S. V.—The camp of this regiment was seen after a heavy rain, and it looked exceedingly well. The hospital tents and dispensary are especially commended.

Geneva, Neb., March 2.—(Special.)—The wheat in this section is reported injured considerably by the severe winter, the longest ever known.

ANTI-PASS BILL ADVANCED

Lieutenant Governor Gilbert's Measure is Placed on General File.

COMMITTEE RECOMMENDS POSTPONEMENT

Report Calls Out Lively Discussion in Which Republicans Score the Populists for Their Past Record.

LINCOLN, March 2.—(Special.)—President Gilbert's anti-pass bill won first blood in the senate this morning. The railroad committee to which the bill had been referred returned an unanimous opinion that it should be indefinitely postponed.

Farrell believed the measure merited discussion and moved to amend the report so that the bill would go to the general file. That precipitated the discussion, which became quite interesting to the lobby and gallery, as well as the members themselves.

"How about going on record two years ago?" asked Steele of Jefferson. "You were in the majority then."

"Well, it seems to be the unanimous disposition of the committee not to go on record this year," replied the senator from Merrick.

"What about two years ago?" insisted Owens of Dawson, seconded by other members.

"We are glad to extend the glad hand and meet you half way this year," said Senator Farrell, after slight hesitation, not caring to review the record of his party on this bill at the last session, when they had a majority.

"I think it is unfair to insist upon Senator Farrell's answering that question (referring to two years ago)," remarked Van Dusen of Douglas. "It's a blow below the belt."

Currie of Custer made an able talk upon the motion to put the bill on general file. He said he came from a district that had not elected a republican for the past five years.

"If you were a member of the investigating committee, or have read the testimony taken before that committee, you would not doubt that assertion one minute," replied Senator Currie.

Continuing Senator Currie said that thousands of dollars had been used by officials of all parties in passing.

Referring to his senatorial campaign, he said his opponent (Beal) had been in position to receive railroad passes and had distributed them to his friends in his district. Finally the limit of the number he could receive was reached.

"I got those three votes," said the senator. "I got those three votes—Did you furnish them passes?"

"I never gave anyone a pass in my life. I never asked for a pass for myself, even. I never rode a mile on a pass in my life," he said.

Miller of Buffalo thought he held the distinction in the senate of being the only one who had never ridden on a pass until he heard the senator from Custer say so.

Whereas, the subjugation of the Philippines is not in harmony with the declaration of the people of the United States; and

Whereas, a continuation of the struggle will result in greater losses of life and property, and expenditures of money; therefore be it

Resolved, by the house of representatives of the United States, that the American forces in the Philippines be withdrawn as soon as possible, and that the government of the Philippines be left to the people of the islands.

The chair promptly ruled the resolution out of order, because it was a concurrent resolution and must take the course of a bill, and could not be introduced now without a special message from the governor.

CROWD IN THE GALLERIES INCREASES

Evidence of a Growing Interest in the Struggle for the Senatorship—No Developments Expected Pending a Caucus Decision.

H. R. 7 was passed by a vote of 70 to 11. The bill is Evans' bill, providing for the submitting to the electors of the state in the year 1900 the question of holding a constitutional convention.

The house went into committee of the whole on the bill to amend the act of 1854, the Zellers voting machine bill, was first taken up. This bill had been considered once before and recommitted for amendment.

When taken up today the objection was that the bill would compel the counties to purchase some special make of machine, and a motion to indefinitely postpone the bill carried by a large majority.

H. R. 265, by Jansen, providing that in changes of venue of criminal cases to another county the county attorney of the original county shall prosecute in the new county and shall be allowed necessary expenses in addition to his salary in such cases.

In committee of the whole this afternoon H. R. 161, the Weaver insurance commission bill, was taken up. There was little discussion on the provisions of the bill until the original bill provided a 4 per cent tax against foreign companies doing business in the state.

The committee reduced this to 2½ per cent. When this was reached today Weaver moved that the rate be fixed at 3 per cent. An amendment by Groveson making it 2½ per cent was defeated and the Weaver amendment was adopted.

Those who took the floor in opposition to this discriminating tax were Olinick, Burman and Clark, while those who spoke in its favor were Weaver, Fisher, Burns and Haller.

The bill as adopted provides a 2 per cent discriminating tax against insurance companies of states other than Nebraska, and 3 per cent against companies from foreign countries. It is this latter tax that caused the debate.

The section as adopted relating to foreign companies is as follows: Section 38. Foreign country companies of any and every character whatever shall pay for their legal expenses incurred in order to comply with this act, and the certificate of the commissioner admitting them to transact business in this state, a fee of $100, more than that the business shall pay $500 for filing copy of any amended charter, $500 for filing and examination of annual statement of business done in this state, and $100 for filing and examination of the annual statement of business, transacting business in this state.

Section 39. Foreign country companies of any and every character whatever shall pay for their legal expenses incurred in order to comply with this act, and the certificate of the commissioner admitting them to transact business in this state, a fee of $100, more than that the business shall pay $500 for filing copy of any amended charter, $500 for filing and examination of annual statement of business done in this state, and $100 for filing and examination of the annual statement of business, transacting business in this state.

The American manager or trustees of any foreign country company shall in January of each year certify to the state commissioner, under oath, the amount of gross premium receipts for the preceding calendar year upon insurance effected upon property located in this state, and upon any deduction whatever shall pay to the state treasurer a tax of 3 per cent on same. No company shall be re-licensed for the year until the tax is paid.

It shall be lawful for any city or village, by ordinance, to impose a reasonable taxation tax on any foreign country company transacting business in such city or village. Every city or village having a paid or volunteer fire department shall in January of each year collect a 2 per cent tax on net premiums from every foreign country company having an agency in such city or village.

Upon reaching the forty-second section the committee arose and recommended that the bill be made a special order for tomorrow afternoon.

EFFORT NOT SUCCESSFUL

Delegates to Cincinnati Reform Conference Solely Disappointed Over Failure to Announce.

CINCINNATI, March 2.—The general conference of the national union reform party concluded its work today at noon. Its organization preparatory to nominating an independent presidential ticket next year will be completed within a few days.

The effort to amalgamate the populist, silver republican, socialist labor party, the national liberty party and other scattering elements was not successful. There were only 154 delegates present representing fifteen states, yesterday and still less today.

Joe Parker of the Texas Press Reform association and Dr. H. A. Thompson, a leading prohibitionist, and other leading reformers, who participated yesterday, were present today and the advocates of amalgamation freely expressed their disappointment over the result of the general conference.

Stove-makers Advance Prices. CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., March 2.—The Southern Stove Manufacturers' association met here today, all the important business terms of the south being represented.

The most important feature of the meeting was a decision reached to materially advance prices on all kinds of stoves. It is believed this is the recent advance in the price of iron and other material used. The advanced prices go on tomorrow.
