WOMEN FAVOR HIGH SCHOOL.

Election Day. It developed at the mass meeting, held yesterday afternoon in St. John's English Lutheran church to discuss the bond proposition for a new High school, that the rider tacked onto the proposition by Member J. J. Stewart, providing that the old building should be retained as a ward school, was not to the liking of a great number of voters. When this uestion was brought up by one of the women present Jacob Sims explained that the rider should not, in his SMITH opinion, militate against the carrying of the proposition to vote the bonds. The rider, he said, did not, in the event of the proposition carrying, in any way bind the school board to use the old High school building as a ward school.

Contention that City Officials Throw Down the Bars and Allow the Gamesters to Have Full Swing.

Mayor Jennings and the democratic city administration have placed themselves in rather a peculiar position in reference to the law prohibiting gambling. A certain saloonkeeper in the city, believing that as the authorities permitted gambling to be open and unmolested and even protected by the police, he had the right to keep a slot machine in his place of business for the amusement of his customers. The slot ma-chine in question was one of the contrivances known as a "poker game," a game which is played in all of the gambling rooms in the city. Yesterday Chief of Police Bixby notified the saloonkeeper that unless he wished to be arrested he had better take the slot nachine out of his place. The saloonkeeper along. Eddie Johnson, the 15-year-old son of Samuel Johnson, living at 305 Kapell avenue, accidently shot himself in the fleshy part of the right thigh last evening with a revolver. The boy had been reading dime novels and had become imbued with the idea that it would be a great thing to own a revolver. He lacked the price, however, but was not to be daunted by such a small circumstance as that. So during his father's absence from the house yesterday afternoon he took his sire's overcoat and promptly hied himself to Sam Snyder's pawnshop, where he quickly traded it for a revolver and a box of cartridges. Then he repaired to a cave in the bluffs back of North Second street where he and some youthful comphysician extracted the bullet.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 7 .- At the opening of the court today in the trial of Mrs. Margaret E. Cody, charged with attempting to blackmail the heirs of Jay Gould, the de fendant was called to the stand. She was asked to identify a number of letters written to her from Rock Springs, Wyo., by Mrs J. F. Pierce, the alleged daughter of Jay Gould and Mrs. Angell and from Mr. Pierce's husband. The letters asserted positively that Jay Gould was Mrs, Pierce's father and announced the intention of the writer to press the suit to secure a share in the Gould estate. Mrs. Cody was offered a large sum, not stated, to take up and conduct the suit.

Mrs. Cody related the circumstances connected with her search for the mother of Mrs. Pierce. Having found Mrs. Angell in April, 1895, the latter told her that Mr. Pierce was her daughter by an early mar ringe with Jason Gould, the date of which she thought, was April 2, 1853. "The issue of this marriage," continue Mrs. Cody, "Mrs. Angell told me was a daughter which was bound out to a Cana dian weaver when 2 years old. Gould deserted his wife after a short time. I asked her if she had the marriage certificate whereupon she related that after Gould had Iowa farmer near Oscoola purchased thirty head of sheep on time. Since then he has cleared $2,000 from the sale of sheep and thrown it into the from her, torn it up and thrown it into the
