

CANNOT AGREE UPON RATES

Transcontinental Lines Are Confronted by Many Problems.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC URGES ITS DEMANDS

Order Gateway Lines Hold Out for a Flat Rate to the National Educational Association Meeting.

If rates to the Pacific coast are not demoralized next summer it will be because there is more harmony among the transcontinental lines than existed last night when the meeting of passenger men adjourned over until this morning.

With sixteen roads represented at the meeting, fourteen of them favor the report of a committee, appointed for the purpose, fixing a straight rate of one fare for the round trip, plus $2, for the National Educational association meeting.

When the meeting was called to order in the morning only two new faces were present. These were G. H. Macrae of St. Paul, assistant general passenger agent for the Omaha, and T. E. Fisher of Denver, assistant general passenger agent for the Colorado Southern.

Two New Faces Appear. When the meeting was called to order in the morning only two new faces were present. These were G. H. Macrae of St. Paul, assistant general passenger agent for the Omaha, and T. E. Fisher of Denver, assistant general passenger agent for the Colorado Southern.

This report, as was expected, recommended a one-fare rate for the round trip to Los Angeles, plus $2, to apply to all roads, whether the route adopted was through Ogden or by the southern lines.

The meeting adopted resolutions that the one fare rate to Pacific coast points should be applied only to second-class tickets. This is the only extension in the future to which the one fare rate is advertised to apply.
