The question come up by instructing the street commissioner to repair certain wooden sidewalks. It is One of my milliners was taking Chambers estimated that the city has paid out at least $1,000 during the last year for repairs to that time, which seemed to relieve her wooden sidewalks and the street repair fund quickly that I bought some for myself. is thus depleted every year. According to Barrett something must be done to relieve the street repair fund of this drain, and he therefore advocates the laying of permanent walks on all graded streets.

There is a standing rule to the effect that where sidewalk repairs cost over $1 that the amount be taxed to the property, but in spite of this order repairs are being constantly made which come under this amount and which in the aggregate cost the taxpayers a goodly sum. It is asserted by those interested in the project that by establishing a permanent sidewalk district and engorcing the ordi nance a great many damage suits would be avoided. The cost of a brick walk amounts to a very little more as compared with a wooden walk and it lasts for years. IF YOU DON'T KNOW

Why Dyspepsia Cures Have Failed to Relieve You

THE FOLLOWING WILL EXPLAIN

In reply to the question, Why have all dyspepsia cures heretofore used falled to cure? a well known physician said: "For years we have known that there were at east two distinct kinds of dyspepsia, and that each required separate remedies. Yet we have always combined these and prescribed them to be taken in one described them to be taken in one described. we have always combined these and pre-proceed them to be taken in one dose with-out a thought of one counteracting the effect of the other, which they are bound to do." This is one reason, another is this— only recently has it been found that food is not digested in the stomach at all, but in-stead prepared by this organ for digestion in the intestines; now, as all cures hereto-fore manufactured have been directed to-ward assisting the stomach to digest what fore manufactured have been directed toward assisting the stomach to digest what we cat. It stands to reason that no benefit could possibly be derived from their use. These two mistakes, made by the manufacturers of dyspepsia cures, would seem to explain sufficiently the cause of failure to cur, but a stronger reason than these can be given. It is found in the treatment of that most dangerous and prevalent form of dyspepsia, intestinal indigestion: for this disease there has never been any remely known to the profession, caused as it is by bacteria; no germicide strong enough to destroy them could be given without great danger to the patient. Consequently the physician has been compelled to let the patient suffer, and the result has been that 44 per cent of all the grown people in our country are now dysp piles; moreover, nine out of every ten cases of appendicitis are now known to come from intestinal indigestion. Is it any wonder, then, that dyspepsian all its forms has become more previous Is it any wonder, then, that dyspensing its forms has become more prevaleng year? y year?

AND NERVES.

Greatest of All Spring Remedies---Paine's Celery Compound.

It makes new blood, and new nerve tissues A few steps to most any neighbor will tell you the plain truth about the amazing sults that have followed its use. Paine's Celery Compound is so far above any other spring medicine in its strengthening, nerve-restoring, blood-making, health-giving, lasting effects that it has no competitor. The old "cures," one by one, in the last few years have dropped by the way, until today the sales of Paine's Celery Compound in every civilized country are larger than those of all other spring remedies of all kinds combined. Paine's Celery Compound is the one spring medicine endorsed by physicians because it is the only known remedy that for all run-down conditions of the nerves, orain and tissues, and for purifying the blood (especially in the spring when the body is most amenable to improvement) has never yet failed! In the spring take Paine's Celery Compound.

XWINE OF CARDU WOMAN KNOWS WOMAN.

I used Wine of Cardul for ryousness and weakness in e womb. After taking one ttle I was well again. I am a the womb. After taking one bottle I was well again. I am a midwife, and always recommend Wine of Cardui to my lady friends during pregnancy and after birth as a tonic. Every lady who takes it finds that it

MRS. V. M. BOISVERT.

Wine of Cardui

Nobody knows woman like voman Men go to medical colleges, study books and listen to lecturers. They learn indirectly of the diseases of women, but they are men and can never fully understand the ailments, the sufferings, the agonies of mothers, wives and sisters. A woman knows. Mrs. Boisvert knows. She has passed through the trials and tribulations of her sex. She has been near by when her sisters suffered. She has seen them relieved and cured with Wine of Cardui. Is it any wonder she recommends it? Is it any wonder that thousands of other women recommend it. They
