TERMINAL FREIGHT DEPOT Manager Webster is Calling for Bids for Its Construction. executivo Edwin Gould, D. D. Parmly, Thomas T

LOCATION CHICAGO AND ELEVENTH STREETS Russell Sage.

Brick and Iron Structure and Will Be the Finest Freight House in Omnha-Other Railway Matters.

John R. Webster, general manager for the Omaha Bridge and Terminal company, is asking for bids for the construction of a freight depot for his company. The building will be erected in the vicinity of Chicago and Eleventh streets, the exact location to be determined in a few days. It will stand diagonally with the screets, and a tract of ground, quadrilateral in shape, adjoining the building, will be parked to keep the approach to the depot clear.

The plans for the structure were drawn by Fisher & Lawrie, and contemplate a building for the depot proper 35x200 feet, with a covered platform 20x100 feet. The office part of the building will be 25x60 feet and two stories high, furnishing ample accommodations for the official force expected to be needed there. The depot will be of brick and iron, with a slate roof. It promises to be by far the finest freight house in the city, and the plans embrace all modern improvements for a structure of that character. The erection of the building and the attendant improvements upon the property will involve an outlay of about $20,000. The plans and specifications for the depot are in Mr. Webster's office, where contractors are inspecting them and taking notes from which they will submit their bids. Mr. Webster cannot tell how long it will be before the building is completed until the bids are in and the contract let.

The terminal company is preparing for a good deal of other work in connection with its lines into the city, and the indications are that there will be considerable activity in that section of the city within a few weeks. The last batch of appraisements on property which the company will condemn for its use will be submitted to the county judge next Tuesday

PEACEFUL DISSOLUTION MAY COME

Possibility that the Western Passenger Association May Go to Wall.

Passenger officials of the Burlington refute the statement from Chicago that their lines west of the Missouri river will be withdrawn from the Western Passenger association. It is said that if any withdrawal is made it will be of the whole system, and not of the lines west of the river. When asked if the withdrawal of the whole system was contemplated, the officials would not commit themselves further than to say that if it becomes apparent that the assoclation is to be dissolved such action may be taken.

As there seems to be no question now but that the days of usefulness for the association are passed, it will be no surprise 44. to hear of the withdrawal of all the western roads at any time. None of them expect the association to continue with the Union Pacific outside the fold, and no one seriously believes that road can be induced to join the organization. Consequently it is said peaceful dissolution is all that is left for the association to do. Fredicated upon that territory will within six months be as badly demoralized as they are now in the terrimove. tory covered by the northern transconti-

BUT LITTLE GRAIN IS BEING MOVED.

Contention that Farmers Are Holding Products, Expecting Lower Rutes. There is an unusually light movement of grain over the milroads in this territory at the present time. Reports from Chicago are that the receipts there from the western country are about half what they were one year ago. This commodity forming a large per cent of the freight business of western ronds, the falling off is noticeable to them. The freight men attribute the decrease to several causes, one of which is that there is but little grain in the west outside of that held by speculators which can be shipped. Many men bought corn during the early part of the winter when the price was advancing, expecting to make a big profit on . Before they had secured the amount they desired the price broke, and it has since been unsteady. It is said they are now holding on to their possessions waiting for the market to recover that they may make themselves whole.

Local freight men do not anticipate any reak in rates. While climatic conditions may have the result of increasing the price of grain, thereby encouraging its shipment, they believe that those who are holding for better rate will be disappointed. Even the suggestion which comes from Chicago that eastern roads may be compelled to resort to heroic measures to meet what they term the unfair differential in grain rates in favor of shipments from the Mississippi iver, is not seriously considered by local men as a sufficient factor to break the existence of present rate agreements.

Mail Weighing Time Near at Hand. Assistant Superintendent Vandervoort of the rallway mail service has received instructions from Superintendent Troy at Chicago to take charge of weighing the mails on the trunk lines in Iowa. This is th task that keeps the service hustling for nearly forty days once in four years, and on this occasion the order states that the weighing will begin March 28.

Colonist Rates Are Intuct. ST. PAUL, Minn., March 24 .- J. 1. Whit-

iey, general passenger and ticket agent of the Great Northern, said today there was no foundation for the statement that the Canadian Pacific had cut the present colonist rates from St. Paul to the Pacific coast. The story was telegraphed from Montreal.

Railway Notes and Personals.

A carload of Italians went west through Omaha on their way to Utah, where they will work in the mines. The Canadian Pacific officials say the re port is incorrect which charges that road ington, Oregon and California, with having made a rate of $12.50 from St. ticket office, 1323 Farnam street.

Paul to the Pacific const. Gross earnings of the Northwestern for February were $2,691,421, an increase of $104,549. From June 1 until February 29 cross carnings show an increase of $1,473,-

The Northern Pacific has announced that t will make the same rates to California oints by Portland that are made by the other roads through Ogden. It quotes a rate of $42.50 from Chicago to these points by St. Paul and Portland.

For the meeting of the National Educaional association at Los Angeles in July result is the declaration by a leading west-ern passenger man that the rates in this territory will within six months be as badly either direct or circuitous routes, on the dates or at the time the business would which in the future will be left entirely over the excellent service rendered by the to the independent action of the several lines in transporting troops during the last

Mr .Pickrel says: "My 13-year-old son Arthur, who is a messenger for the Omaha road, picked up the money near the First National bank soon after Mr. Officer lost it. He saw there was a great deal of money in the roll and placed it in his pocket. Thinking about it afterwards he made up his mind that if he said anything to us about it we might think he had taken it at the office some time, and therefore he concealed it in a barrel of sawdust and rubbish in our back yard.
