

proceeded diagonally with General Wheaton and his staff close behind and scouts closely observing the ground.

When the Americans were within about 300 yards of the intrenchments the Filipino suddenly suffered heavily.

The Twenty-second, which was holding the center, suffered considerably, but with the Oregonians on the left and the Kansas on the right in the woods the fighting was kept up for half an hour.

Colonel Egbert, who was in the thickest of the fighting, was shot in the abdomen. He was placed on a stretcher and an attempt was made to carry him to the cars, but he died on the way.

General MacArthur's advance guard, the Third Artillery and the Twentieth Kansas, joined Wheaton's brigade shortly after Manila was taken, pressing along the Novaleses road westward.

The Third Artillery, acting as infantry, with two guns of the Utah artillery, and the Kansas had a sharp fight east of Malina. The Americans had but slight losses.

General MacArthur's division is advancing upon Polo along the railroad.

As the bridge is destroyed and the river cannot be forded, an advance is temporarily checked.

In the fighting west of Malina the Oregonians captured a Spaniard, but he denied that he was taking part in the battle.

General Otis is kept fully advised from the Capital of Progress of Day's Fighting.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—Advisers from General Otis were watched with keenest interest by War department officials today and Assistant Secretary Melkijohn, who in the absence of Secretary Alger is acting secretary of war, remained in his office throughout the day in order to keep in close touch with the progress of the fighting.

Many army officers were at the department and the president was kept advised as to the developments as indicated in General Otis' dispatches.

MANILA, March 26.—4 p. m.—Our casualties today much lighter than yesterday. The total reported since the engagement began is forty-five dead and 145 wounded.

MANILA, March 26.—4:30 a. m.—MacArthur has driven enemy strongly intrenched in large force north of Polo. Will continue to press him. Insurgents have strong intrenchments from Calococan to Malolos, which have taken them months to construct.

MANILA, March 26.—6:10 p. m.—United States gunboats have been shelling Malolos for several hours and the Filipinos are apparently withdrawing.

General Otis' dispatch, received at 1 p. m. tonight, recording MacArthur's advance to Newayanwan marked a distinct and important step by the American troops in the opinion of Acting Secretary Melkijohn and Adjutant General Cobbin.

The tenacity of the Filipinos in the last few days' fighting has somewhat surprised the war officials here, who did not think them capable of putting up and maintaining the contest they have.

AGUINALDO DELUDES HIS MEN. All engagements between forces chronicled at Malolos Headquarters as American Defeats.

MANILA, March 26.—(Via Hong Kong, March 26).—Insurgent papers received here from Malolos show that Aguinaldo is endeavoring to deceive his followers into the belief that they are winning great victories. All the recent engagements are proclaimed as American defeats. The papers describe the insurgents' meeting with the American forces at various points and end their accounts with the assertion that the Americans retreated to their original lines after suffering great slaughter.

FIGHT VIEWED IN LONDON. Most of the Heavy Thinking Papers Say American Victories Are Not Conclusive.

LONDON, March 27.—The Philippine campaign of late had rather lost interest for British readers, but today there is an entire change. All the dispatches are printed prominently and at length.

The Daily Telegraph says: "Most of the papers contain editorials expressing admiration for the bravery of the American troops and sympathy with them in the difficulties they have encountered."

The Daily Telegraph says: "All the accounts show that the Americans will have to bear their full share of the 'White Man's Burden.'"

The Daily Chronicle says: "The experience the United States is gathering today is that of every power which has sought to find beyond its own shores."

The Daily Mail, remarking on the improved tactics of the insurgents, who "in many cases seem to have better arms than the Americans," says: "We now see the result of sending an army into the field improperly organized and improperly armed."

CAREER OF COLONEL EGBERT. Served in the Civil War, in Indian Campaign and in the Spanish War.

Colonel Harry C. Egbert is pronounced by many men to have been one of the most beloved officers in the service.

Colonel Egbert was born in Pennsylvania January 3, 1831. At the outbreak of the civil war he was appointed from civil life as first lieutenant in the Twelfth Infantry on April 1, 1865.

Colonel Egbert's career has been distinguished by his fighting qualities. His record during the civil war was especially one of great activity.

Colonel Egbert's services in Cuba were of the same high character as those which marked his career earlier in life.

Colonel Egbert was stationed for some time at Fort Thomas near Cincinnati. He enjoyed social life and was popular with the people in that city.
