GOES OVER FOR A FEW DAYS

Habeas Corpus Case from Thurston County Has a Partial Hearing.

INDIAN AGENT MORGAN GIVES TESTIMONY

Explains the Assault Made Upon Him by Henry Holt and the Subsequent Occurrences Leading Up to His Arrest.

At the earliest it will be the last of the present week before Judge Munger of the United States court will dispose of the habeas corpus case brought by Acting Agent Howell Morgan of the Winnebago and Omaha agency in Thurston county. The case was given a partial hearing yesterday and a continuance granted until Saturday in order to secure the attendance of several witnesses who are now absent from the state.

The trouble on the Winnebago and Omaha Indian agency started on March 18, when a couple of Indians conceived the idea that they would like to take a trip to Washington. They applied to the acting agent for permission to leave the agency and were informed that they could not do so; that if they did they might consider themselves discharged from the position which they held—that of Indian police. A few days later one of the men, Henry Holt, concluded that if he could not go to Washington he could have some trouble, and consequently proceeded to stir up some. He visited the hotel where the agent was staying and provoked a quarrel and then assaulted him by threatening to brain him with a stove poker. The agent and his men took the weapon away from the man and incarcerated him in the agency guardhouse, where he remained over night. The following morning Holt was released and immediately started out for Pender, where he secured a warrant for the arrest of Acting Agent Morgan, charging him with assault and battery. On this warrant an arrest was made and the agent taken before the county judge of Thurston county, who held him in bonds, which the official refused to furnish, whereupon he was committed to jail.

Morgan applied to Judge Munger of the United States court for a writ of habeas corpus, alleging unlawful detention, his contention being that as he is an official of the United States the state courts have no jurisdiction over his person in cases of the kind charged.

Holt Hunts for a Row.

When Judge Munger took up the hearing Morgan was called and testified that Sunday evening, March 19, he was eating supper at the hotel at the agency when Henry Holt, Albert Hensley and Henry French called and were ushered into the sitting room. Hensley stated that he and Holt desired to leave the agency for a couple of weeks for the purpose of going to Washington. Witness informed the men that they could not go, after which Holt answered, "I am tired of being treated like a slave."

Witness said that after making the foregoing statement Holt seized an iron poker and make an attempt to strike, but the weapon was wrested from his hands, after which he was taken to the guard house and detained until the following morning, when a warrant was issued by United States Commissioner Sloan. The next day Holt and his wife went to Pender, where they secured from the county judge a warrant for the arrest of the witness.

Other witnesses, including Herbert Spencer, a clerk in the agency store; Henry Nesber, the agency farmer, and John Logan were called and all testified to the assault made by Holt upon Morgan, Logan saying that he heard Holt say several times, "I intended to kill him."

Owing to the absence of certain witnesses, a further hearing of the case was continued until next Saturday, when the defendant will introduce testimony in support of his contention that the United States officers have no authority to act in the premises. Holt's position is that he is a citizen of the United States, holds land in accordance with the provisions of the laws of the country and for years has enjoyed all of the rights and privileges of other citizens of the state, and that consequently the federal court has no right to take cognizance of the case.

Delay Means Much to Indians.

Agent Morgan says that his detention and being kept away from the agency is working a great injury to the Indians. There are nearly 100 leases of lands which the parties are ready to sign, but as he is unable to be there and attend to them the farmers and stockmen are likely to go elsewhere and secure lands for the coming season. It is urged that the time for putting in the spring crop is almost at hand and that if the leases are not executed within a few days much of the land will remain idle this year.

Speaking of the trouble at the agency, Agent Morgan said: "It is the same old difficulty with which we have had to contend for years. There are a number of men up there who are mischief makers and if they cannot run things to suit themselves they want to stir up a row. Captain Beck had the same trouble and so did Captain Mercer. Both of these men brought these fellows to time and after that they behaved themselves reasonably well. Now they are trying the same tactics on me, but like the officials who have preceded me, I propose to stand firm and upon my rights. I am working in the interest of the Indians and I know that the most of them are with me and will stand by me in the position that I have taken."

MEETING OF WOMAN'S CLUB

Program is Given in French and the Czar's Peace Conference Project is Endorsed.

The department of French conversation treated the Woman's club Monday to its first experience of an entertainment in a foreign tongue. Mrs. Sill, the leader of the department, presided and introduced the pianist, Mr. Charles Keefer, who played with great acceptance Mendelssohn's "Rondo Capriccioso, op. 14."

A dialogue followed in which the parts were taken by Mrs. Arthur Brandeis and Miss Drummond.

The third number of the program was a humorous recital by Mrs. Dorward of the experiences of a Frenchman who forgot his English together with his street and number when he visited New York. In response to an encore Mrs. Dorward gave a model reading lesson from the district school.

Mr. Dakelly's short address was occupied with the comparison between the education of French and American girls.

The program was closed by the "Marseillaise," effectively sung by Mrs. J. F. Cook, the department joining in the chorus.

The guests of the day were Major Edith Marshall, Captain Hattie Core and Ensign Corgeshall of the Salvation Army, and during the business hour Major Marshall was given opportunity to present the rescue work for women in which she and her colleagues are engaged. Captain Core was heard in a pathetic song descriptive of the experience of a penitent woman and Ensign Corgeshall invited the club to a reception at the Omaha home, 2612 Pinkney street, on Wednesday at 3 o'clock.

Another invitation has to do with a reception to Mrs. Lake of St. Louis, president of the Catholic Abstinence society, who is to be the guest today of Miss Burke, 1820 Parnam street. The hours are from 2 to 4 o'clock and the Woman's club and the Woman's Christian Temperance union are informally invited.

The department of household economics gives invitations to a lecture by Dr. Lankton on Thursday at 3 o'clock, and the department of social science would have the club and its friends hear Dr. Gifford next Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock on "Some Beneficial Effects of a Clean City."

Lorado Taft will lecture on "Modern French Painters," under the auspices of the art department, next Monday evening.

The department of ethics and philosophy will discuss Lessing's "Nathan, the Wise," this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. Shumsenborough of Plattsmouth will address the club at its meeting April 8 on "Ethics in Public Schools."

The only items of business were the decision to continue the "travelers' aid," in the person of Miss Bertha Burket, at the Burlington and Union railway stations, and the adoption of resolutions presented by Mrs. Keysor, Miss Hamilton and Miss Fairbrother. These resolutions were as follows:

Whereas, Nicholas II did last August issue an appeal to all accredited nations for a conference in the interest of ultimate and universal peace, and

Whereas, Woman's clubs, churches and educators in various parts of the country are discussing the matter; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Omaha Woman's club endorses the conference and especially favors the discussion of the question by leading citizens of all governments at the meeting at The Hague in May of this year, and be it further

Resolved, That we respectfully petition the president of the United States that he comply with the request of the czar and appoint a representative or representatives to meet the other nations in the conference as suggested.

WILL BE SUPERINTENDENTS

School Architects Will Receive Extra Compensation for Their Work.

Architects McDonald and Latenser, who have been selected by the Board of Education to draw plans of the new High school and three grammar schools soon to be built, will also act as superintendents of construction of their respective buildings if the board concurs in the recommendation that the committee on buildings and property will make at the next meeting. Their compensation for both the drawing of the plans and specifications and for the superintendency of construction will be 5 per cent of the contract cost of the buildings, the regular professional figure for the work.

The buildings and property committee reached this determination after an extensive consideration of the situation. The members admit that the buildings might possibly be erected a little cheaper if other superintendents besides the architects were appointed, but they do not believe that the result would be so satisfactory. If the architects were not employed as superintendents they would be paid 3 per cent for their plans. The extra 2 per cent to be paid for the superintendence, basing the calculation on the estimate that the buildings will cost $500,000, amounts to $5,000. If separate superintendents were appointed they would draw about $150 per month. The High school man would be employed for about a year, his salary amounting therefore to $1,800. A separate superintendent would have to be employed for the three other buildings, and they would work about three months and a half each, their aggregate salary being $2,700. The total cost of the superintendence under this plan would therefore be some $4,500, or $500 less than will be paid the architects. It is maintained that the thorough knowledge of the plans and specifications that the architects will possess will be worth more than this extra $500.

The buildings and property committee is now tussling with the question of the size of the three grammar schools. The committee is of the opinion that they should contain the following number of rooms: Pacific school, sixteen rooms; Davenport school, ten rooms; Cass school, fourteen or sixteen rooms. Taking Architect Latenser's estimate that the schools will cost at the rate of $2,000 a room, the cost of the buildings will be: Pacific, $48,000; Davenport, $30,000; Cass, $48,000. The aggregate is $126,000, to which must be added 5 per cent more for plans and superintendence, bringing the total cost to $132,300.

The committee strikes a snag here in the fact that of the $250,000 school bonds voted last fall, $150,000 is to be used for a High school, and only $100,000 for the grammar schools. Therefore, if the school buildings are to be of the size proposed, the board will find itself over $32,000 short of their cost. The committee is trying to figure out some means of raising this money. A portion will be provided out of the $20,000 premium for which the bonds were sold, and for the remainder the committee is looking longingly at the $15,000 which the city owes the board for the Dodge street jail site.

EVICTED FROM THEIR HOME

Mrs. David Robb Makes Complaint to Police and is Referred to Associated Charities.

Mrs. David Robb and little boy came to the police station yesterday afternoon and stated that when they had returned home they found their household goods on the sidewalk and themselves without a roof to shelter them. Mrs. Robb says that her husband owed Dennis Callahan $4 rent which he was unable to pay, and that Constable Learn had evicted them during their absence. The house is opposite the Webster street depot. Mrs. Robb said her health made it dangerous to be exposed and she did not know what she could do, as her husband was unable to get steady work. She was referred to the Associated Charities for assistance.

PRISONER TRIES TO ESCAPE

Walks Out of the Court Room and Takes to His Heels.

OFFICER INDA IS SOON IN HOT PURSUIT

Fires at the Fugitive, Who, After a Lively Chase, is Captured and Taken Back to Police Court.

Pursuing bullets and a half dozen policemen were called into requisition yesterday afternoon to prevent the escape of a prisoner from the city jail. The leaden pellets came nearer striking innocent parties than the individuals they were aimed at, but the bluecoats were swifter of foot than the pursued and he was again brought back into the clutches of the law. The man who made the break for liberty was Alfred Coleman, who is, or has been, wanted for various and divers offenses.

Coleman had been brought into the police court with a companion in crime. While the attorneys were squabbling over the date when his trial should take place the prisoner nonchalantly walked out of the door of the court room. As soon as he was out of sight he ran down the staircase at breakneck speed and as soon as he landed on the street he turned north on Eleventh and commenced to strike the ground only in the high places.

Court Officer Inda was in a second aware that his prisoner had slipped from his grasp and promptly gave pursuit. Coleman was only a short way ahead, but was evidently gaining. When almost in front of 106 North Eleventh street Inda fired at him, but the bullet passed over the fugitive's head and almost struck a group of half a dozen men working in the front room of the building at that number. Coleman kept on in his flight, but by this time six or seven officers having joined in the chase he was run to earth at Davenport street and brought back to the police station.

Coleman was arrested in company with Frank Fryson on the charge of robbing a man in the Midland saloon. These men are acquaintances of the police, and once they both jumped bonds in cases pending against them. Fryson has a more variegated career than his companion. He is the colored man who was brought back from Kansas City to be tried for robbing a Chinaman last fall. The celestial refused to return to the city to prosecute him, and consequently the case was dropped. Fryson was then turned over to the Council Bluffs authorities to be tried for larceny from the person. He regained his liberty, although his wife was sent to the penitentiary for the crime. Coleman is said to be an ex-convict from the Nebraska penitentiary.

SOUTH OMAHA NEWS.

Although the frost is not out of the ground, building operations are already commencing and those interested in the sale of building materials here predict that the coming season will be the best in the history of South Omaha. Lumber dealers look for a busy season and are ordering supplies in large quantities. At the present time business men report trade a little slack, but the prospect is good for spring and summer trade.

As is customary at this season of the year, the receipts of live stock at the yards are light as compared with later months and naturally the lack of shippers reduces the mercantile trade here. Laboring men are, however, buying lots with the intention of building houses, and there will no doubt be a boom in the building business before long.

Work has already commenced on the Pabst buildings at Twenty-seventh and N streets and Twenty-fifth and Q streets. Excavating is hard work, however, and very little progress is being made. The frozen ground has to be pried off in chunks to the depth of three feet before scrapers and shovelers can work. This prying off process is slow work. A number of buildings are projected and work upon them will begin as soon as the frost is out of the ground. Building Inspector Dunscombe has been consulted about plans for various buildings about the city, but the projectors assert that there is no use commencing until the ground softens up.

The following building permits have been issued within the last few days: Mrs. Olga Krause cottage, 2510 Washington street; Mike Murphy, cottage, Missouri Avenue park; Mina Mullner, store building, Twenty-seventh and Y streets; John Parks, addition to office building, Twenty-fourth and M streets; C. E. Mayes, cottage, Twenty-third and Monroe streets; John Stevens, cottage, Twenty-second and Madison streets; R. S. Lums, cottage, Seventeenth and Madison streets; Emma A. Zoellers, addition to dwelling, Twenty-eighth and S streets.

No permits for any of the large buildings to be erected here have been secured as yet as the excavating is still uncompleted.

Ballots for City Election.

City Clerk Carpenter has ordered the official and sample ballots for the coming election printed. It will take about 27,000. This number includes the official ballots for the city election and also for the Board of Education election. Sample ballots for both will be issued in a day or two. It is expected that interest in the local campaign will increase within the next few days. No meetings of importance have been held as yet, but it is thought that the city central committees of both parties will arrange for a series of meetings within the next few days. The principal fights will be made in the Second and Fourth wards where petition candidates are on the ticket.

Will Put On Fire Escapes.

A number of the owners of business blocks in the city are negotiating for fire escapes. The notices served by Building Inspector Dunscombe seem to be bearing fruit, and it is the hope of the building department that all buildings of more than two stories in height will soon be provided with suitable fire escapes. The halls in this city where lodges meet are not provided with suitable fire escapes, but the building inspector expects to bring about a change in the existing laws before long. Some of the lodging houses are not prepared for a fire and these are receiving the attention of the inspector at the present time.

Stenger Paving Case in Court.

The E. Stenger paving case is on the call in the district court today. It was announced yesterday that the case would surely come to trial within the next day or two. This is the case where the validity of the special ordinance levying a tax for the paving of Twenty-fourth street is questioned. Realizing the importance of the case the city council at a recent meeting decided to employ General Cowin to assist City Attorney Montgomery in defending the rights of the city. It is expected that the case will be carried to the supreme court, no matter which side wins.

South Omaha Meats Were Good.

Clarence Higley of Dixon, Ill., a member of the Sixth Illinois volunteer infantry, spent yesterday in the city, the guest of City Clerk Carpenter. Mr. Higley spent two months and a half in Porto Rico and contracted a fever from which he has not entirely recovered. The Sixth Illinois was, according to Mr. Higley, one of the first volunteer regiments to land in Porto Rico. In speaking of the food furnished the soldiers Mr. Higley asserted that the meats bearing a South Omaha label reached Porto Rico in first-class shape.

There will be a meeting of the Commercial club tonight for the purpose of electing directors and members of an executive committee. The delegation which was sent to Lincoln yesterday to lobby against the Prout bill will also make a report. Every member of the club is urged to attend this meeting in order that all may participate in the election.

Plumbing Inspector Cook caused the arrest yesterday afternoon of Tom Brondner for violating the city plumbing ordinance. The inspector asserts that Brondner dug a hole in the street at Twenty-first and N streets without a permit. Brondner is the plumber who dug a trench in Twenty-fourth street and left it unprotected at night. John Ashe drove into the hole and now has a claim for damages against the city.

IN THE INTEREST OF PARKS

North Side Improvement Club Listens to an Address by Commissioner Cornish.

Boulevards and parks formed the subject of discussion at the meeting Monday night of the North Side Improvement club. Park Commissioner E. J. Cornish made an extended address.

"The trouble with you people up here," said Mr. Cornish, "is that you awoke to the interest of your parks too late. You appeared to show considerable indignation because the pest house was located in Fontanelle park, but if you had been up and after your interests the chances are the pest house would have been located elsewhere. I do not know but the action of the Board of Health will prove to be a good thing for this part of the city in that it has aroused you to the fact that you have parks up here which ought to be looked after.

"The policy of the board now is to apportion the money set aside for its use among the different parks according to the percentage of tax paid into the fund by the people living in the neighborhood of the several parks. The board has caused to be planted in Miller park some 25,000 trees. We have thousands of trees at Brownville which we own, but which we have not the money to bring to Omaha. It would not be a bad idea for the friends of Fontanelle park to subscribe a few dollars apiece toward a fund to be used in driving those trees to Omaha and planting them in this park."

Mr. Cornish gave figures from the records in the treasurer's office showing how the assessed valuation of property had improved in the vicinity of Hanscom park over and above the improvement in property in other sections of the city.

John Powers, president, and John Butler of the South Side Improvement club were present at the meeting as guests and each made a short address.

A resolution was adopted asking the Board of Education to establish an eighth grade room at Saratoga school.

Another resolution was adopted asking that some of the old buildings at Fort Omaha be condemned and that the military authorities be requested to remove the squatters from the reservation and sell such buildings as can be of any use.

LOCAL BREVITIES.

Judge Baxter issued a license yesterday for the marriage of Henry M. Knox, aged 22, and Laura W. McNall, aged 21, both of Omaha.

A permit has been granted to D. H. Broecke to erect a story and a half frame dwelling at 2936 North Twentieth street to cost $1,500.

Julius Slobodinsky has been discharged in police court for want of prosecution, as Daniel Kline failed to appear against him. He was accused of assault and battery. It was a family "scrap."

Martha La Motte of 2216 South Twenty-seventh street has filed a complaint against Vladislav Swituik, Peter Bylic and John Iwo, who, as she alleges, entered her house Sunday night and robbed her of $16 worth of her valuables.

The police received a report Monday morning that a sneak thief had stolen an eight-day clock from a tool house near the Burlington depot, taking a step ladder with him in order that he might get up to see the time.

George Garten and Tom Johnson are under arrest for taking a horse and buggy belonging to H. E. Pinney, from Thirteenth and Farnam streets, and driving the rig around the city. Officers Hellfeldt and Donahue soon located the men.

Miss Marie Spethman of 4270 Harney street has been appointed to a clerkship in the Agricultural department at Washington. The appointment comes through the Civil Service commission, she having passed the examination before the local board during the winter.

Sketches of the iron steps of fire escapes to be placed on the Patterson block, Seventeenth and Farnam streets, have been submitted to Chief Redell for his approval. It is claimed that they will be placed on the building as soon as the chief designates where they ought to be erected.

The complaint charging Kittie Over with the larceny of three checks valued at $100 from Haven T. Andrews was dismissed yesterday afternoon on motion of the deputy county attorney. He said he realized that paper not bearing an indorsement on its back was of no value and consequently it would be useless to try to convict the defendant.

PORT ARTHUR ROUTE DEPOT

City Council is Asked to Close a Portion of Chicago Street.

FREIGHT HOUSE TO BE A BIG STRUCTURE

Proposed Ordinance, Vacating a Part of the Street, Will Be Introduced at the City Council Meeting This Evening.

At the meeting of the council committee of the whole yesterday afternoon General Manager Webster of the Omaha Bridge and Terminal company made the official announcement that the Port Arthur route had entered into a twenty-five years' contract for the use of his company's tracks, now being constructed on the right of way granted by the city last January, and also for the use of a big freight depot, the plans for which were made public by the terminal company some time ago. This depot is to be located in block 62, bounded by Tenth, Eleventh, Davenport and Chicago streets.

General Manager Webster's purpose in bringing the matter up was to have the council close Chicago street, between Tenth and Eleventh, in order that the depot may extend across that thoroughfare. The structure is to run diagonally from southeast to northwest—from the corner of Tenth street and the alley south of Chicago over and across Chicago street to Eleventh. The depot proper will be 200x35 feet, and from its northwest end a platform of the same width and 100 feet long will extend.

Mr. Webster explained that if Chicago street is closed his company will build a roadway fifty feet wide along the west face of the depot to the alley south. This alley will also be widened to forty feet along its entire length from Tenth to Eleventh street. These roads will be paved by the company.

Manager Webster wanted the council to act at once on an ordinance vacating Chicago street, but the city attorney believed that the measure should contain provisions compelling the company to keep the proposed roadways in good repair. The ordinance was therefore referred to the city attorney, and will be introduced at tonight's council meeting, with or without amendments.

Mr. Webster also announced that he will some time this week file the plat showing the tracks that the company proposes to build on its right of way. This plat is required by the ordinance granting the right of way.

Consult Bishop Worthington.

Yesterday afternoon the standing committee of the Episcopal church for the diocese of Nebraska met in this city to learn of Bishop Worthington officially his wishes regarding the selection of a coadjutor for the diocese. The committee met at the bishop's house and was informed by him that it was his desire that there be a coadjutor. The committee thereupon decided to officially notify the parishes in the diocese that the subject might be understood when the council meets in this city May 18.

YOU MUST NOT FORGET

That All This Excitement About Inhalation

Was Caused by the Wonderful Results Obtained from the Use of Hyomei.

The Only Dry Air Germicide Ever Found Which Can be Inhaled in the Air We Breathe.

Just at this time, when every one is in a fever of excitement over treatments which are advertised to cure by inhalation, it is thought advisable to impress upon the minds of the public the true cause for this sudden abandonment of all their old methods and remedies, and the adoption of inhalation by almost every advertising doctor and catarrh specialist in the country. It was brought about by the discovery of "Hyomei," the first dry air germicide ever found which can be inhaled in the air we breathe; and to make a long story short, this new germicide was once tested by the medical profession all over the country. During the past year more than seven hundred thousand persons, sufferers from catarrh, bronchitis, coughs, colds, pneumonia and consumption, were induced by them to use "Hyomei," and out of this vast throng only one hundred and six reported no benefit received. This is the true explanation of this complete revolution in the method of treating respiratory diseases; such a radical change was never known before in the history of medicine, yet the public should understand that the R. T. Booth Co., alone, own and control every ounce of "Hyomei."

No other manufacturer or advertising doctor can obtain it.
No other inhaler contains a drop of this germicide.
No other dry air germicide has ever been found.
Nothing but a dry air germicide can enter the bronchial tubes and lungs.

No other treatment by inhalation is guaranteed.

Just remember these truths when in need of a remedy for coughs, colds, bronchitis and consumption, and if you are not cured The R. T. Booth Co. will cheerfully refund the money.

Every Bottle of Hyomei is Guaranteed.
