Exercises Occur at the Millard Hotel, Where a Banquet is Enjoyed-List of Graduates and Cinss Officers.

The class of '99 of the dental department of the University of Omaha held its commencement exercises last evening in the banquet room of the Millard hotel.

It was the innuguration of a plan to observe commencement day by a banquet instead of the customary exercises in a hall. and the trustees, together with members of the faculty and the graduating class, assembled around the banquet board to make the occasion one of distinction and one memorable in the lives of the young men and women who went forth equipped with the diplomas of their aima mater.

The rooms were tastefully decorated with palms and potted plants while at intervals down the length of the tables were banks of roses and ferns in artistic designs, interspersed with vases containing clusters of long-stemmed American Beauty roses.

After the invocation, by Rev. David R. Kerr, chancellor of the university, the tables were loaded with good things to eat and drink, and in the lively conversation of goodfellowship the minutes slipped by unnoticed until the end of the feast, when Rev. Mr. Kerr arose to respond to the toast "The University."

His remarks were brief and referred chiefly to the progress made in the different departments of the institution and the thoroughness of the work.

Members of the class then took places before Dean Hunt at the head of the table for the announcement of graduates. Afterward came the conferring of degrees by the chancellor and the address to graduates by J. B. Meikle. Members of the class and the class officers are as follows:

president, J. G. Somers, Omaha; secretary, P. M. Kemp, Pickering, Mo.; treasurer, G. H. Kay, Lincoln; historian, C. O. Hald, Grand Island; C. E. Beebee, Omaha; A. G. Greene, Creston, Ia.; A. N. Hagen, South Omaha; M. R. Hendrix, Omaha; W. J. Hostetter, Silver City, Ia.; P. J. Hunter, Omaha; Miss Pauline Koobetsheck, Perry, In.; L. G. Meyers, Omaha; C. B. Rich, Omaha.

of his patrons himself one night when he added "so I take mine yeast every day," and that is that no amount of adulation will ever serve to turn his head. He is distinctively modest about his ability, in fact, too much so for his own good. His generosity was exemplified last night by the way in which he dispensed encores, not the least acceptable being the charming little paraphrase of his own on the "Suwanee River" theme.

The string quartet which made its initial appearance was well received and it was a happy thought of the programmaker to introduce it. The second violin was played by Mr. Higgins, the viola by Mr. Huster, and the cello by Mr. Letovsky. In the quartet Mr. Letovsky gave place to Mr. Carl Smith, while he played the bass viol In the Schumann "Abendlied" Mr. Albert played solo while Mr. Higgins took first violin, changing with Mr. Hoffman, who played second.

This quintet should become a permanent organization. The personnel could not be improved upon and the reception which was accorded showed plainly that the Omaha people are hungry for that kind of music. Mr. Landsberg was at the plano and again if demonstrated his more than ordinary ability. He is an enthusiast and a scholar and to his forethought and arduous work the audience is indebted for its enjoyment of the magnificent Tschaikowsky concerto, which while severely high class in some places for the average listener, and occupying over half an hour did not seem to weary those who were not as well initiated as the musicians, who were completely wrought up over that gigantic piece of musical architecture.

It is but fair to Mr. Albert to say that his interpretation was highly satisfactory, and his execution seemed to be the best work of the evening, which was all good.

The program was the most artistic and the most strictly accurate that has been placed in the hands of a critic for many, many moons.

It is to be hoped that Mr. Hans Albert will not wait such a long time again before he gives another recital as the audience which he drew on this occasion will be duplicated the next time he gives such illustrious examples of his genius as he did

Plea for the Negro.

OMAHA, April 4 .- To the Editor of The Bee: In last Sunday's Bee I read an item the effect that the federal government had at last aroused itself from the lethargy in which it has reposed since the breaking up of the Ku Kiux during Grant's administration. It would be an act of humanity now that the Filipinos are about conquered, for the president to send a few of our avail-able troops into the oppressed regions and bring all those to justice who are (as it seems) dissatisfied unless they are always on the track of some poor negro for an alleged crime which is laid upon him by a class which has not as much sense as the negro. Were there so many negroes killed by Judge Lynch before the emancipation proclamation as there are today? No. And why not? Simply because the negro was considered no better than a beast of burden and was thought incapable of any crime.

But since he has been declared free and has shown a disposition to be somebody he must be accused of some crime that is committed by another or when he has shown his ability to hold a responsible position he is warned to leave his post of duty, and if he refuses, is put to death like a dog and his children driven out of doors or where is the honor of the United States government, a government of the people, by the people, for the people? Apparently that does not include the negro of the south. Earnestly hoping that, as the government has at last begun its movement against Judge Lynch in the south that it will leave no stone unturned in its effort to convict the murderers of Postmaster Frazer B.
