

WELL KNOWN CROOK CAUGHT

Believed to Be the Man Who Attempted to Rob Council Bluffs Bank.

TAKEN INTO CUSTODY IN SOUTH OMAHA

Alex McGregor, alias Robert Day, who has done time in the Penitentiary, is captured in Agona.

The first important arrest in connection with the attempted bank robbery at Council Bluffs, April 17, was made in Agona, South Omaha by Captain Alley and Officer Morrissey of the South Omaha police department.

The South Omaha officers were assisting Detective Donahue in a hunt for a man wanted here when they ran across McGregor by accident on N street.

McGregor corresponds to the description of the would-be bank robber in every detail excepting that of height, being only five feet and three inches tall. On the way to the jail he expressed great fear of being taken to Council Bluffs of being seen by the Iowa authorities.

McGregor admits having been in Council Bluffs and South Omaha before and after the date of the attempted robbery, but he says he was in St. Joseph the day it occurred.

SOUTH OMAHA NEWS.

HUMAN BODY IN SOAP BOX

Belongs to a Medical Student—A Short-lived Sensation at Burlington Depot.

An ordinary soap box, from which some kind of liquid was being dispensed, was found in the street near the Burlington depot.

It was thought that some person had been murdered and that the body had been packed in the box and shipped to a point in Iowa.

Victims of a bloody crime were indulged in, until it was decided that the quickest way to solve the mystery was to turn the box over to the police for investigation.

Coroner Swanson was notified to send his wagon to the station. Then the officers hurried up the passenger in whom the box was found and asked for an explanation.

He gave the name as Ralph Payne and his residence as Nevada, Ia. He had been attending medical college in St. Louis and was on his way home.

He had secured a permit from the health commissioner in St. Louis to take the dissected remains of a girl home with him.

These had been wrapped in a newspaper. Not being properly packed the heat caused the paper to become saturated with oil from the body, which finally trickled through and began to ooze from the box.

This was found to be the cause of the odor which caused the investigation. The remains were packed more securely and the body returned to the station to be forwarded to its destination.

RUNAWAY ON FARNAM STREET

Mrs. Peasinger and Daughter Are Thrown from a Carriage and Badly Hurt.

The breaking of a badly worn shaft strap was the cause of a runaway last evening that resulted in two women being thrown from a carriage and seriously injured.

The accident occurred at Twenty-fourth and Farnam streets about 10 o'clock. The horse, pulling in a light gallop, swung the carriage in which the women were driving against a telegraph pole.

Mrs. Peasinger's right forearm was broken and she was partially paralyzed about the hip. Her daughter received a deep cut along the scalp and established a fracture of the right leg above the knee.

The animal became frightened and started to run, increasing his speed as the street struck his legs at each jump. A few hundred feet from the corner the horse turned toward the curb and the survey was wrecked into a telegraph pole.

ORDER OF THE SPANISH WAR

Local Volunteers in United States Service Will Incorporate and Become Permanent Order.

NEW YORK, April 21.—A meeting of the Naval and Military Order of the Spanish-American war was held here tonight.

Commander Brigadier General O'Connell presiding. It was decided to incorporate the organization and adopt an insignia and organize a national commandery and adopt a national constitution and by-laws.

After considerable discussion it was resolved to address all United States volunteers as "The United States Volunteers." The record made by the following officers were elected: Commander, Theodore Roosevelt, U. S. V., senior vice commander, Captain Henry Taylor, U. S. N., junior vice commander, Brigadier General Wallace Handolph, U. S. V., secretary, Lieutenant, J. S. S. U. S. V., treasurer, Ensign, Frank W. Toppan, U. S. N., registrar, Lieutenant, Theodore C. Zerg, U. S. N., V. chaplain, Charles A. Parks.

The president's assurance, had the war with Spain continued, that the seventh corps would have been selected to lead the assault upon the Havana line, prove that the corps possessed the confidence of the commander-in-chief of the army and navy, a confidence shared by his fellow countrymen.

It is gratifying to review the career and remember the harmony which existed among the 40,000 soldiers who answered the roll call at Tampa, Jacksonville, Savannah and Cuba. Whether it were the volunteers, who afterward at various times broke ranks and resumed the duties of American citizenship, or the regulars, whose standards are still being and who are how the advance sentinels of American progress and civilization, soldiers of the north and south took the sunshine and storm of camp together and marched side by side under one flag, in one cause, for one country.
