Low Rates Come to Stay. All hopes by passenger men that the low second-class rates inaugurated by the Great Northern some time ago were to be temporary have been dashed to the ground by the declaration of that company that the rates have been put in to stay. The pas-senger officials of the Great Northern say the results of the experiment have been very satisfactory in bringing settlers along their line. They hold that the steady settlement of the country through which the Great Northern runs on account of these permanent low rates is a great improvement over the periodical rushes incident to the old system of making the cheap rates apply

SAVING THE SCHOOL BOOKS

Experiments of Using Patent Covers is Now Being Tried. In accordance with instructions given by the Board of Education recently Secretary Gillan has ordered 10,000 patent book covers that are to be used during the remainder of the school year as an experiment. Some thing of the kind, it is said, has long been needed to save the wear and tear on school books, and if the covers are found to be satisfactory next fall the board will probably order enough of them to cover all its books. Secretary Gillan has also ordered the easuring instruments that are to be used n measuring school children for the purose of discovering what Omaha's normal chool child is. The measurements will be taken in all the schools in the city some time next month.

lliness and death of Mrs. Rutherford's BOSTON STORE GREAT SENSATIONS. CITY MUST BORROW MONEY Some of Its Bonds Will Soon Be

Due, and There's No Cash to Pay Them. City officials declare that unless the city council devises some plan to raise additional money for the general fund, aside from the amount that will result from the annual tax levy, Omaha will again have to borrow money to pay some of its bonds. This is another of the embarrassing problems cu out for the city fathers as a consequence of an inadequate tax levy. The obligations that threaten this danger consist of special improvement bonds. In he case of many improvement districts the tax for certain improvements has been bodily knocked out by the courts and consequently the city has no outstanding tax o draw against. Whatever bonds and interest become due in such district an insuffi-cient tax has been levied to pay bonds and

When the lilacs, carnations, violets, etc., sold | finance committee of the council was making up the annual levy the city comptroller made the same estimate to it. The committee however, failed to provide for this deficit Even now Councilmen Lobeck, Burkley and Stuht, comprising the finance committee, cannot or will not say how this extra money is to be raised, although they seem to have a blind faith that providence will in some

The present difficulty has been tided over by replenishing the general fund with something like $3,000 that remained as a balance in the road fund from last year This transfer of money is illegal, according to the opinion of the city attorney, but the council did it anyway.

Of the $4,000 deficit in the improvemen districts this month a goodly portion represents the cost of the Walnut Hill grading done several years ago. The tax for this years; Authur Rothery, Lincoln, 39 years; work was declared illegal by the courts. The city is making an endeavor now to asesents the cost of the Walnut Hill grading sess one-half the cost of the grading against adjoining property and once submitted a plan of assessment to a Board of Equalization.
