AN APPEAL TO THE COURTS

Injunction Asked For Against Purchase of Oakland Avenue Tract.

Stack Peterson Brings Suit in Behalf of Himself and Others, Giving Numerous Reasons for His Action.

Opponents to the Oakland avenue tract is the site for the new High school buildng have appealed to the courts and yester lay filed a petition in the district court asking that the Board of Education be enjoined from completing the purchase of the prop erty. The validity of the proposed issue of bonds is attacked on the ground that it will cause the indebtedness of the school district to exceed the constitutional limit. It is alleged that the selection of the Oakland avenue site was made through fraud. The suit is brought in the name of Slack Peterson, a section foreman in the employ costs on the charge of seining in Lake of the Milwaukee railway, who has figured Manawa, by Justice Vien, has appealed to somewhat prominently in local politics somewhat prominently in local politics. Peterson, it is understood, is merely acting as a figurehead, the real parties bringing the suit being a number of attorneys whose interests are north of Broadway and principally in the Fourth ward. The original no-tice as served on the board was prepared by Attorney J. J. Hess, who was interested in one of the sites offered, and is signed by Stone & Tinley and Clem F. Kimball, assistant county attorney. The petition was prepared in the office of Attorney Flickinger, who appears for Peterson along with the other lawyers.

Judge Smith has set next Monday mornng at 9:30 o'clock for hearing the application for a temporary writ of injunction Judge Smith, feeling that he is an interested party, has declined to hear the application and some judge living outside the school district will be secured.

Allegations of the Petitioner.

The petition opens with the statement payer of the Independent School District of F. L. Ellis was granted a building permit their and in his own behalf. Continuing, the the use of patent paints on the ground that was filed a few days ago and there seems to thirty-nine minutes. petition recites the facts regarding the sub-mission of the question of a bond issue to gested that ordinary paint would be cheaper that the proposition was that the building | mittee. should be placed on a site selected by the board as centrally located as in its judgment was possible.

The petitioner then attacks the legality of the Oakland avenue site, and alleges that the meaning of the resolution carried by be held until the flood receded. Advices the meaning of the resolution carried by were to the effect that the Courtland school the electors of the district; that the location is at the extreme north side of the district Miss Webster, who for a number of years has been at the head of the English litera-

Miss Jennie Pyle, erty should be selected, announced that no choice had been made, although in truth and in fact said site had been legally and properly selected by a majority vote, and ordered that another ballot be taken without regard to the one already had. The allegation is made that this act of President Sims was illegal and without authority in law, and was for the purpose of preventing the selection and confirmation of the other site. The petition alleges that President Sims at the commencement of the balloting for a site announced that the two most convenient and centrally located sites which had been under consideration by the board for a long time prior thereto had been withdrawn in whole or in part from the market by the owners. These statements, it is claimed, were untrue and were made with the intent and purpose of diverting the attention of the other members of the board from these sites, and directing their attention to the selection of the Oakland avenue tract for which President Sims was strenuously laboring. Validity of Bond Issue Attacked.

The petition attacks the validity of the bond issue of $65,000, claiming that if issued the bonds would be in excess of the constitutional limit of indebtedness of the district, and that unless enjoined the board | While the firemen were putting out the intends to pay the sum of $8,000 to complete the purchase of the Oakland avenue the hose on Pearl street, but without intract out of other funds than the bonds juring it or causing the car to jump the voted for the purchase of a site and the track. construction of a building.

Suit of Intervention.

The First National bank of this city filed a petition of intervention yesterday in the suit brought by Peterson & Schoening against J. N. Casady, Simon Casady and others affecting the title to the Oakland avenue tract. The bank asks that a judgment it holds against J. N. Casady of $808.57 and $38 costs be made a lien on the property paramount to the interests claimed by the defendants. It is said that number of similar suits will be brought y parties holding judgments against J. N Casady. In the petition of intervention filed by the First National bank the same allegations as to the conveyance of the property from J. N. Casady to his wife and her subsequently mortgaging it to Simon Casady as being without consideration are made as in the original petition filed by Peterson & Schoening.
