house. They were amazed for several reasons: That a Holt county populist would refuse a nomination, that he should predict the end of fusion in 1900 and that he should say that a straight populist nomination in the Sixth district would be preferable to fusion with the democrats. Some of the office hunters and especially Silas A. Holcomb and his friends, held a hurrled consultation during the forenoon and decided that such a statement coming from such a prominent man as Harrington would county lawyer deny the interview. It was during the balance of his stay in the city and fairly fawned upon him in a way that was noticeable to all observers.

There were some populists at the state house, however, who spoke their minds freely on the fusion question in the Sixth district. They said that Harrington was perfeetly right in making the statement, as there were less than 2,000 democrats in the district and these were not all true to fusion and were unmanageable in every campaign The populists declare themselves to be disgusted with the deals that have been made between Neville and Holcomb whereby the offices are already parceled out, and they say that the people of the district may take some hand in making the nominations. They say that Harrington would make the best run, but that in the event of his refusal, as now seems probable, then H. G. Steward, formerly of Dawes county but now a resident of Box Butte, would be the most acceptable man. The state officials today intimated that they would completely ignore the legislative investigating committee and that any move to call witnesses would be resisted. Secretary Porter said the books of all the offices would be open to inspection, but the members of the committee would be treated as private citizens and would not be furnished committee room in the state building Others of the officials were as outspoken, and it is plain that they do not court an investigation and will throw every possible hindrance in the way of one.

E. J. Burkett received today from H. C. Sessions, supreme master workman of the Ancient Order of United Workmen, a copy of his decision in the matter relating to the number of delegates for the next session of the grand lodge of Nebraska.

Two years ago the grand lodge attempted session of the grand lodge by limiting each memorate the memory of the nation s fallen lodge to one delegate. High School Athletes on Young Men's Christian Association Park

Some Records Were Very Creditable-Music of High School Cadet Band Added Much to the Pleasure of the Occasion.

The young athletes of the High school held their annual field meet at the Young Men's Christian Association park on Ames On Friday morning Postmaster Besserman avenue yesterday afternoon and presented started a subscription to the First Nebraska a most interesting and enjoyable exhibition of amateur sport, even though the world's records were not broken. Some of the "coming greats," however, surpassed marks they have made in the past in the compe-

> The scene of the meet was not calculated to conduce to record breaking. The grounds are in the throes of a transformation, as workmen are busily engaged in constructing the athletic field. As a consequence the games had to be held in one corner of the field and upon ground that had not been prepared to any great degree. The sprinters and the runners were the most handicapped, as the track was laid out on soft ground. This accounts for the rather poor marks in the running events.

But despite all these disadvantages the meet was a success in every way and the youngsters gave an exhibition that they may be proud of. A very commendable feature of the affair was the promptness with which it was started and run off. Another very enjoyable feature was the amount $63,184. Town and city mortgages playing of the High School Cadet band, an organization which is only three months old but which discoursed sweet music with a good bit of harmony. All this conspired to give a pleasant afternoon to an appreciative crowd of spectators, among whom were a number of Council Bluffs' High school boys, who were on hand to get a few pointers on the material of which the Omahana are made of, as it is quite likely that the teams of the two schools will meet this spring.

Some of the records were creditable. Earl Painter, captain of the team, did a nice performance in clearing the bar at 5 feet 11/2 inches in the running high jump, narrowly missing 5 feet 3 inches. A mark of 38 feet 101/2 inches by Cathrow in the 12-pound shotput was also good, while the running broad jump of 18 feet 2% inches by Welch was more than fair. The results of the afternoon were as follows: One hundred-yard dash: Painter, first, :113-5; Fairbrother, second; Bivens, Davison, Thomas and Kopald also ran.
