The ceremony was very simple and the guests numbered but seventy, but the reception that followed was attended by 600 and was by far the most brilliant social event ever witnessed in the capital city of Iowa. A hundred prominent society folk, including a number of the diplomatic corps of foreign nations, came from Chicago on special cars and the city has been turned over to the wedding party today. President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor arrived in the city this evening. He speaks tomorrow evening un-

The mines at Pana, Ill., have closed down and the colored miners have practically promised to withdraw from the district rather than continue the war which has been going on there for a long time. What they will do or where they will go is a question over which there is a difference of opinion among the miners and operators here who are interested in coal mining. But it is said that a very natural thing for them to do would be to come to the west, as the conditions in the east would not warrant them going that way and rumor has it that many of these miners will come to Des Moines to work the mines here The operators here have made no overtures to the Pana miners, so they say. They have had no agents among them and any action the Pana men may take will be voluntary, but should they come they will be given an opportunity to work. Whether
