Union Pacific Takes Steps to Induce Settlers to Come West.

SUMMER EXCURSIONS ARE TO BE FEATURED

Officials of the "Overland" System Anticipate a Heavy Immigration to This State During the Next Few Months.

Now that the deeds to the Nebraska lands have passed to the company the land department of the Union Pacific railroad will leave nothing undone which will tend to Induce settlers to come to Nebraska and locate along its line of road. Appraisers have been in the field for sevcral weeks putting new values on the Union Pacific land and relisting it. The old classification has been found unsuitable. Much of the land was listed for farming purposes, or prices with the tendency generally lower. These lands have been out of the market for a year, and a special effort will be made to attract attention to them on the part of thomeseekers. Other lands of considerable area, on which the contracts of sale had been allowed. which is now being put under the head of allowed to lapse, will also go on the market ugain. The company will take full advantage of the summer homeseekers' excursions to bring out prospective settlers, and a traveling agent will be located at Chicago to disseminate such information among eastern renters as may have the effect of interesting them in Nebraska. Under the terms on which the company sells these lands the officials of the road look for a heavy immigration to the state during the next few

Boom Out at Alliance.

E. Kelby, assistant general solicitor for the Burlington, has returned from Alliance. He gives an interesting report of the life and activity which prevails at that place as a result of the railroad building operations conducted from that point. He said there is not a vacant house in the town and that the tiotels are overcrowded. One night while he was there he was compelled to sleep in a chair for the want of better accommodations. Laborers to work upon the railroad contract arrive on every train. Everything is bustle and confusion, and it to said Alliance never saw better times than it 98c; sale price, 25c. is experiencing at the present. The boom has taken hold of all kinds of business. The people there expect to have a city excelling anything in the western part of the state by the time the new road is ready for operation.

Burlington Puts on New Equipment. Burlington operating officials now lay claim to two of the largest passenger locomotives ever constructed. The Boston & Albany road had this distinction until the western road stepped to the fore. These engines are numbered 1591 and 1592, and weigh 127 tons each. They are used in pulling the Chicago-Denver train out of Chicago and the fast mail trains over the same division. For this train the Burlington has just received from the Pullman company five new composite smoking, buffet and baggage cars. The smoking room occuples over half the entire length of the car and is finished in vermillion wood, with special design of decoration. They are lighted with gas and electricity, and are furnished with wicker chairs upholstered in Pushing Work on Union Depot.

Contractors for the new union depot ex-pect to begin putting the roof over the waiting room portion of the building by the end of this week. The walls are up to the level of the top of the windows of the second story, and stone arches are ready to be put in. A layer of stone will he put on and the walls extended seven feet higher, bringing them to the ceiling level.

There will be a pitch roof, and the steel trusses for this are now being prepared to set in place. The stone finish on the front of the depot, facing the viaduct, has about reached the level where the stone pillars will rest. There will be four of these, two on each side of the main entrance. The contractors hope now to have the building complete sometime in August.

ONE MAN WHO HAS GREAT MEMORY

George White Springs a Surprise or the People Who Employ Him. George White, employed at the Burlington reight depot in this city, is a man possessed of a remarkable memory, a talent which is valuable to him in the particular work he has to do. He came from Lincoln. White working in the yards at the latter place he was under a man who had but one arm This physical deficiency made it difficult for the agent to note the letters and numbers on the cars in his yard and he cultivated a memory to assist him in the work. This his mind in the direction of remembering cars.

A short time ago a train of thirty cars was loaded with stock at the distillery and the agent here sent White down to take the let- round trip has been arranged and through ters and numbers on the cars that the records might be made out and ready for the trainmen when they came to the freight office. BLUE COATS EASY PICKING

Three Soldiers Meet with Some Un pleasant Adventures "Down the Line."

Soldiers have appeared to be easy picking for the women "down the line." Three got into trouble Saturday night, two having been robbed and the third believing himself short a watch. The first report was made by William Smith, who claimed that he J. A. Munroe, freight traffic manager for the Union Pacific, has gone to Washington. D. C., where he will attend the meeting of uresidents and traffic managers of western roads with the Interstate Commerce comyears ago she was bound over to the district court on a similar offense, but escaped enviction.

When Charles E. Coats entered Lib Dean's resort he secreted $7 and a bottle of whisky. That was the last he saw of both. He charges a grader with having purloined the articles from where they were concealed. The last soldier visited Rhoda Tolson's abode on the row and in the excitement of the evening hid his watch for safe keeping. The Tolson woman disappeared and he jumped to the conclusion that he had been robbed, as he forgot where he had hidden his watch. The woman was located by the police, whom she told where they would find the missing timepiece. It was recovered and restored to the bluecoat much to his Funeral of Mrs. Frank G. Wallace. The funeral of Mrs. Frank G. Walface occurred yesterday from the residence at Thirtieth and Webster streets. The remains were conveyed at 8 o'cock to St. Cecilia's church, where requiem high mass was cele-brated. The interment took place at the Hoty Sepuichre cemetery. The floral offer-ings were very beautiful and many in number. The deceased leaves three children, two girls and a boy, the oldest being 13 years of age and the youngest 9.

DOES CREDIT TO HIS NAME Merry Old Soul Buys Beer for a Siren, Who He Says Robbed

Him.

Frisky old John Merry of LaPlatte, Neb. does credit to his name if the story related by himself is true. He is a tiller of the soil of Sarpy county and came to the city late Sunday evening to visit a friend out at Florence. Yesterday morning at 7 o'clock as he was walking down South Ninth street a woman called to him from the doorway at whenever opportunity offers, hoping that No. 103 and asked him to come in and buy ome beer for her. Although 70 years of age, the old man says he likes to watch the sprightly actions of the painted sex, so he concluded this was his opportunity. He ought the beer and talked to the woman that $7 of his cash had grown wings for the purpose of making a miraculous disappearance. He went to the station and filed complaint against the woman, as he wanted his cash returned to him.
