was that of the National Trotting associa-tion against the Louisville Driving and Fair association. The case was interesting, for the reason that it involved the power of a judge or association to suspend or modify a fine assessed against a driver after the action of the authorities had been publicly announced from the stand. The Board of Review declared that the judges or asso-ciation had no authority under the rules to remit a fine after it had been announced. The case in question occurred at a meeting of the Louisville Driving and Fair associa-tion hast fail, when the judges fined W. O. Foote $50, George Saunders $100 and Fred Keyes $50 for laying up heats in the Doug-as stakes, which were remitted shortly after by the judges. The next meeting of the board will be held in December in New York.
