OMAHA GIRL TAKES HUSBAND

Miss Jessie E. Wolfe is Married to Edward J. Donnelly.

CEREMONY PERFORMED AT KANSAS CITY

Bridegroom Said to Be a Prominent Politician of San Francisco—Nuptial Knot Tied by a Probate Judge.

A special telegram received by The Bee last night from Kansas City tells a tale of love and romance in the life of an alleged Omaha girl. The young woman gave her name as Jessie E. Wolfe to the magistrate who tied the nuptial knot for her and a San Francisco man. Miss Wolfe's name does not appear in the Omaha directory. The story runs as follows:
KANSAS CITY, May 11.—(Special Telegram.)—Just as Probate Judge Snyder of Kansas City, Kan., was closing his office this evening a telephone message summoned him in haste to the Altman hotel, where he found a man and a young woman anxiously awaiting him.
"Is this the probate judge?" inquired the man, who had every appearance of redoubt, as the magistrate entered. Judge Snyder replied in the affirmative.
"Well, my name is Edward J. Donnelly of San Francisco and my companion is Miss Jessie E. Wolfe of Omaha," continued the hotel guest, "and we desire to get married. I trust you will give us an explanation of the trouble of calling here, but we did not like to visit the court house and we are in a hurry."
The ceremony was quickly performed following it Mr. Donnelly refused to newspaper men or to give any explanation as to how he came here. He is believed to be an Omaha girl. A local newspaper man who used to know Donnelly says he is a prominent San Francisco politician.

PROGRESS OF EXPOSITION

Last Assessment is Ordered at Meeting of the Directors—Various Reports Received.

At the meeting of the directors of the Greater America Exposition, held yesterday afternoon, the fourth and last assessment on the capital stock was ordered issued, the same becoming due on June 1. This assessment is the first of a series of assessments ordered yesterday afternoon being 25 per cent.
Superintendent Simpson of the Department of Exhibits submitted a report in which he stated that contracts for 67,623 feet of floor space have been made, or enough to exhaust most of the space in the Machinery, Manufacture and Liberal Arts buildings, with other exhibits in sight, but for which contracts have not been closed, to fill the Agriculture building. Of the space disposed of, 29,690 feet will be occupied by live exhibits.
Secretary Smith reported the arrival of the Libby Prison War museum, saying that

SOUTH OMAHA NEWS.

A story has been current in financial circles of a week past regarding a proposed consolidation of all of the packing houses in the country. In other words the scheme was to form a gigantic packing house trust which would control the live stock market all over the United States.
Mr. Cudahy, vice president of the Cudahy Packing company, was interviewed yesterday on this subject, and he was inclined to laugh at the idea. He said that he had heard the rumors, but he had never heard a word of the kind from a responsible party. The men packing, he said, had never talked about the affair, and for that reason he assumed that there was nothing in the rumor.
In speaking of the same subject another prominent packer said that P. D. Armour would never lose his individuality by allowing his interests to be absorbed by a trust. Mr. Armour is now in Europe and a cablegram received here yesterday read that he was in fairly good health and that the reports of his serious illness were false.
As for a packing house trust he would not consider it for a moment.
The same might be said of G. F. Swift. The Swift Packing company has a representative all over the world and a reputation of this concern asserted that Mr. Swift would never consent to a combination of interests, as he held his trade on the merits of his products. Other packers talked in about the same way, and it is evident that while trusts in different lines may be formed every day there will be no packing house trust.
In case a trust was organized any one of the great packing houses here could handle all the business at this point and only one live stock buyer would be necessary. Armour virtually controls the stock yards here, while Swift has the upper hand at St. Louis. In Kansas City and Chicago the controlling interests are divided between several of the great packers.
So far South Omaha has not been afflicted with a great trust and the prospects are that it never will be. A prominent packer said that everything moved along smoothly, but that by the forming of the trust 12,000 men were thrown out of employment, and as far as he was concerned he would never vote for the organization of a packing house trust on account of the large number of men who would be thrown out of work. More than this it would take an immense sum to purchase the machinery now in use in the various plants. If not used daily this machinery deteriorates in value rapidly and in a year or two would be practically worthless. For this one reason alone the packers asserted that there is no prospect of a trust being formed.

REPAIRS TO STREET VIADUCT.

City Engineer Beal and Chief Engineer King of the Stock Yards company made a trip over the L street viaduct yesterday, and Mr. Beal expressed himself as well pleased with the manner in which the stock yards company had made the repairs directed by the city council. The city engineer asserted that the work had been so well done that he would recommend to the council that the same construction gang under Chief Engineer King be employed by the council to repair the west end of the Beal viaduct and that by having the work done as the men and material are still on the ground a saving of at least $48 would be made. As the city has to pay for repairing the west approach it is thought that the council will favorably consider the recommendation of the engineer. This work will not cost more than $200, and it is thought that it can be done for possibly $150.

HORGAN INJUNCTION IS DISPOSED OF.

The Horgan injunction case against the Union Stock Yards company has gone glimmering, as Judge Fawcett refused to grant a temporary injunction. Horgan purchased a livery stable and feed lots on L street a short time ago and when he found that the stock yards company paid better prices than a cow yard company could afford to do he made a kick. Horgan wanted to sell his cow yard and sheds for something over $4,000, which was double the amount he had paid for the same property a short time before. The yard company declined to buy at the figures mentioned and Horgan then employed City Attorney Montgomery to commence suit against the yards for maintaining a nuisance on the vacant lots north of the L street viaduct. This land in question is owned by the stock yards company and is being filled with manure, hay and straw, and will be treated with a top dressing of two feet of earth and allowed to settle, then more earth will be piled on and when this is settled switch tracks will be laid.

South Omaha camp, No. 1935, Modern Woodmen of America, will give a dancing party at Modern Woodman hall Friday evening.

PASSENGER'S STRANGE ACT.

Jumps Through a Coach Window at Chappell and Runs Away on the Prairie.
A Rowle, wife and two children, were traveling east over the Union Pacific from California. While the train was at Chappell, Neb., Thursday morning, for some unaccountable reason, Mr. Rowle jumped through the window of his coach and the last seen of him he was running across the prairie. His family left the train there and will remain until he concludes to return, or until he is brought back.
Social at Westminster Church.

NEW YORK, May 11.—The directors of the Pacific Mail Steamship company have declared the regular semi-annual dividend of one-half per cent, payable June 1.

LIFE BEHIND PRISON BARS

Bishop McCabe Entertains a Large Audience with a Recital of War Experiences.
The pulpit of Trinity Methodist Episcopal church was occupied last evening by Bishop McCabe, and the audience was kept in their seats during the recital of his war experiences. The bishop's descriptions of his comrades in the famous prison, the receiving of the news by the men of Lee's surrender and their celebration were graphic and thrilling.
Bishop McCabe alluded to Queen Victoria's attitude to America during the Spanish war and commented on the influence with European powers England's friendship for us had. His remarks were concluded by a benediction for the queen that was responded to by his hearers with a hearty amen.
