SCHOONER SINKS WITH CREW

Nine Persons Drowned on Board Coal-Laden Boat Which Founders in Fierce Gale.

SAULT STE MARIE, Mich., May 14 --- The schooner Nelson, deeply laden with a cargo of coal, foundered in Lake Superior off Grand Marais last evening and carried down all hands. So far as known here only one man, Captain Haghney, escaped from the first disaster of the season. The crew consisted of the following: Captain Andrew Haghney of Toledo, wife and 2-year-old child; Fred Hassaler, residence unknown; six sailors, names unknown.

The Nelson, which is owned by the Mitchell Transportation company of Bay City, was in tow of the steamer A. Folsom, which also had the schooner Mary B. Mitchell as a consort. The Folsom and Mitchell turned back and arrived here this respondent of the Dally Mail says: At a

The Folsom, Mitchell and Nelson were laden with coal. At the time of the disaster the wind was blowing a gale of fifty miles an hour and freezing hard. The three very low in the water. The sea broke aboard constantly and the force of the gale was driving them toward the beach.

The beach at Grand Marais was but four miles under the lee of the boats and Captain White determined to try the dangerous experiment of turning the tow in the sea and running before the wind for White Fish point. Before the turn was finished the Nelson was turned toward the shore and t became evident that the line had parted under the strain or had been cut. Soon it became apparent that the boat was sinking. There was no chance of rendering any assistance, however. In a few minutes the Nelson threw its stern into the air and dove straight for the bottom. Where sank there is 300 feet of water. The crew had no time even to lower their yawl boat. which hung on the davits at the stern.
