SOCIETY EXTENDS A WELCOME

Admiral and Mrs. Sobley Honored Guests of the City.

THEIR STAY HERE TO BE MADE PLEASANT

Rent Western Welcome is Extended to the Brave "Hero of Santiago" and the Spanish War.

Naturally all interest at this time is cen tered in Admiral and Mrs. Schley, who are for a few days only the guests of Genera and Mrs. Manderson, to whom all of high and low degree are so eager to pay their homage and extend a right royal welcome It is also only to be expected now that al other affairs will sink into momentary ob livion, temporary insignificance and be totally eclipsed by and subordinated to the various brilliant and interesting affairs of one sort and another which will occur it connection with the entertainment of the admiral and his wife.

Needless to say that the event which will attract mere attention and notice than any offier which has been devised by the howpitable people of the city for the delectation of their distinguished visitors will be the claborate reception to be tendered them at the Omaha club Monday evening, to insurwhose unmarred success no pains have been

Last night the members of the Loyal Legion entertained their noble comrade, the admiral, informally. Today Admiral and Mrs. Schley will attend services at Trinity cathedral in the morning and enjoy a pleas ant drive later, weather permitting. Baum-Hill.

Last Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock Miss Lara Margaret Baum and Mr. Fred James Hill were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs Daniel Baum. The ceremony was one of th prettiest home weddings ever witnessed in the city, though of a strictly private char actor, none but relatives of the bride an groom being present. The house was darkened and a pretty light shone softly through globes shaded with pink. The drawing room, where the ceremony was performed was completely banked on all sides with green palms and garlands of smilax, relieved here and there by masses of deep pink carnations. The library, halls and din ing room were decorated in a similar manner. Promptly at 4 o'clock the bridal party descended the stairs to the strains of the wedding march from "Lohengrin," softly played on the harp and other stringed instruments. Rev. T. J. Mackay of All Saints' church was the officiating minister. The bride looked extremely pretty in her traveling gown of soft gray wool. Immediately after the wedding supper, which followed the coremony, the young couple left for there they will reside. The outof-town greats were Mrs. Funke of Lincoln and the Misses McCormick of Chariton, Ia

Exposition Strike.

The reported strike of workmen on the Exposition grounds on account of the employment of non-union labor has caused Marris considerable talk among the skilled labor-ers employed there. It was claimed that only two men had left their work, but statements from heads of the unions indicate that all except two men quit. In speaking of the strike, J. E. Keller, walking delegate for the electrical workers, says:

"I was authorized to represent the plasterers and it was I who called them of their work. Five men were employed on their work. Five men were employed on the Nebraska building, and these left their work Friday morning. Four were busy on the Fine Arts building when I got there. I told them it was a non-union job and they immediately removed their overalls and they immediately removed their overalls and left the grounds. The carpenters and painters have all quit, so there are only two union men at work on the grounds at this gave a smoker last evening in the rooms possibilities of the order.
