The result of these bear influences was to cause a weak market. The market opened 254326 lower than the best time yesterday, the popular bid of the buyers being $3.90 for the general run of good hogs, Sellers were slow about making any such concession, and the market in consequence was very much licined to drag at first. A little later, when it became apparent that a decline could not be avoided, sellers took off and the hogs sold in a hurry. Everything in the yards, in spite of large offerings, changed bands at a very early hour, and the market as a whole would have to be reported as active. Buyers evidently want the hogs, as was remarked yesterday, and it does not appear to make any difference how large the receipts are, they want everything coming.

The hogs sold today largely at $3.6043.6216, while yesterday the long string went at $3.82433.6718. It will be noted from table of average prices that the market loday was about where it was at the opening of the week, the advance of yesterday being lost today, it will also be noted that the market was just a little better than it was on Wednesday of last week. SHEEP-Receipts were the largest in some days and it seemed more like old times in the sheep barn this morning, with quite a sprinkling in the pens. Unfortunately the receipts made a better showing on paper than anywhere else. In the first place there were three loads from Kansas City which were consigned direct to a packer and not offered for sale, then there were seventeen loads of Colorado lambs which were designed for an eastern market. The demand was good for mutton sheep and lambs, as usual, and everything offered met with prompt sale at good steady to strong prices.

Quotations on Wooled Lambs—Good to choice Colorado Mexican lambs, $6.7576.90; fair to good Colorado Mexican lambs, $6.5008.00.
