Surgeon General Wyman of the Marine Hospital service was first consulted by Surgeon General Van Reypen, inasmuch as he is in charge of the national guarantine service at Norfolk, and he declared there would be no danger in adopting this course, particularly as he would undertake to have the Mercedes thoroughly disinfected and cleaned. The Navy department has not yet received the application of the New York board of aldermen to have the ship sent to New York, but unless the Norfolk authorities interfere the Mercedes will not be sent north before it is repaired. A board of inspection will be appointed immediately to survey the ship and estimate the cost of putting it in thorough repair.
