The cattle market this week has been in The cattle market this week has been in a most satisfactory condition as regards the Belling interests. Packers, however, are not so well pleased, as they say that beef cattle are too high and at the present time are losing money. The general tendency of prices has been upward and it is safe to say that beer steers are fully loc higher and in many cases loc higher than a week ago. Heavy cattle have experienced fully as much advance as other kinds and have been in nuch better demand than they were during previous weeks. All kinds of cattle have been active sellers and the reciepts 42,000 head. "Wheat. May July Sept. Corn. May. July. Sept. Oats. May. July. Sept. Pers. during previous weeks. Surplus Gold in Financial Centers Larger Than for Eleven Months. NEW YORK, May 28 .- The Financier says: he surplus reserve for the New York clearing house banks is now higher than reported for eleven months, the gain of $9.

302,200 for the week ending May 37, having swelled the total to $43,933,725. The feature of the current exhibit is the reduction of $17,500,000 in loans and the contraction of $12,333,000 in deposits. Reserve require-ments, by reason of the heavy deposit change, were reduced by $3,000,000 and over, and this added to the $6,000,000 gain in cash, raised the excess funds in banks more than $9,000,000

Taking the known operations of the week as a basis the greater part of the cash ex-pansion should be attributed to interior novements, but this is essentially mislead-ng. The National City bank, for instance, which figures prominently in the statement, reports a gain of more than $9,000,000 in cash, nearly all in gold. Its loans are down $16,000,000 and deposits early $7,000,000. This is probably due in part to operations con-nected with the financing of the Amalgamated Copper subscriptions. The interestng feature disclosed by such an analysis is that, whereas as the banks as a whole have gained enormously, the reserves of the ma-jority of the institutions do not vary much from those from the previous week. In other words the gain in cash has been made by a few banks. It is incorrect, however, to say that this is actually the case, for the supply of money held by nearly every financial institution in New York is much in excess of the demand. Considered broadly he statement indicates a prolonged period of easy rates. One factor which is attracting some attention is the condition of the sterling exchange market. There is a possibility that with a continued piling up of money here and a falling in rates, international credits cannot be operated to advantage and actual exports of gold may follow. The only thing that can well prevent such an occurrence is the maintenance of money here at somehing above the level prevailing abroad. Whether this can be done depends largely on a revival in speculative activity. It is certain, however, that for every dollar of gold which may be lost this season a greater number will be gained from Europe in the fall.

The advance was the mo.1 pronounced on the common to fair hogs, while good hogs were very little bette than yesterday. Several good loads sold yesterday at $5.5, and it was very hard work to get any more than that this fairly active until about two-thirds of the hogs had charged hands, and then, under the influence of lower reports from Chicago, if flattee out and for a time almost nothing was doing, with about thirty-five loads un-sold. Later on the market revived and the pens were tinally cleared, the most of the sold. Later on the market revived and the pens were finally cleared, the most of the hogs going at $3.50, as against $3.55 yesterday. This has been the big week of the season as regards hog receipts, and the result has been to give values a lower tendency. Tuesday was the high point of the week and from that day the tendency was stealidly and from that day the fendency was stealdly downward until the close of the week when there was a slight reaction. The total de-cline in values, however, has been very small, and at the close of the week the market is only 5c lower than it was at the close of the week before. The demand has been good all the week and the receipts in apite of the "act that they have been un-usually large, have met with ready sale, as a rule at current prices.

to make a test of the market or to establish prices. Choice sheep or lambs would proba-ly have sold at steady prices. The market the last week has been in good shape at this point, as arrivals have to any extent. During the weakness experienced at some other points has not been feit here to any extent. During the weak Mexican lambs sold up to $6.90, which was the high point of the year to date. Grass sheep in Arizona and Texas are commencing to move, and while it is not likely that any of them to amount to anything will come here them to amount to anything will come here $2.0073.20. Rye flour, sulet; good to fair, move, and while it is not likely that any of them to amount to anything will come here direct, they will be almost sure to break other markets, and this market would of course follow the othern down. For that reason operators on the market, as a rule, are advising feeders who have any fat sheep ready for market to ship them in at once. With the probability of lower prices in the near future it would seem to be the policy of wisdom to unload fed sheep as seon as possible, especially as present soon an possible, especially as present

COST OF LIVING IN LONDON.

It Requires More Patience and Money

Living, in a word, is cheaper for the English poor than for our own, says a writer riages, why don't they pay some attention in Harper's Magazine, and dearer for the well-to-do than in America, because there are here two standards of living. The unit of value for the well-to-do in England is the sovereign, or the $5 piece, whereas our American unit of value in housekeeping and practical affairs is a dollar. The unit of value with the English poor is a sliding standard that runs from a penny down to a farthing, just as in America it is a nickel. No American of middle circumstances who

CONCERNING CHEWING GUM.

Manufacturer Who Naturally Thinks it a Good Thing.

The most successful chewing gum manufacturer of the United States was doing a little shop talk by request of the Washington Star man.

"When I first went into the business," he was saying, "chewing gum was classed with children's confectionery and was sold almost entirely by the penny confection-ers to school children. If a grown person used it at all he got it from the children, and such a thing as an adult buying gum for his own use was almost unheard of. I noticed this and as I grew ambitious to extend my business I also noticed other things. One of these was that the man who was occupied always seemed to want to have something to chew on. If he used tobacco as a chew the desire was satisfied, but if he did not he would use something else. I saw the farmer chewing on a wisp of hay; I saw the man at the thresher chewing a straw; I saw the lawyer at his desk chewing a pen, the editor nibbling at a pencil, the merchant chewing on a wad of paper crumpled up from an envelope; I saw a man on the street absorbed in "Can they do anything with you, sor?" thought crunching on a toothpick, and so on among all sorts and conditions. I found out then that the mouth was really the nerve center of the entire body and that this chewing was not a habit that meant nothing but habit; but was a response to a demand of nature. So I set out to meet that demand with chewing gum. I threw voice, "I'm yer substituot, sor. I clim' the aside the old ideas in the manufacture of fence an hour beyant midnight. I didn't the gum and devised new things, not only see no pickets. So good-by, Mr. Owens, in the material used but in the methods of its making and in time had something This was true. The Irishman made his on the market that would in my opinion ay to Canada and remained until the close suit the adult taste. But the adult was of the war, when he returned, and through ashamed to be seen chewing gum, much the efforts of Owens, who never ceased to less buying it, and I distributed, free, thousands of paskages of my article, until employment as a watchman about a I had proved conclusively that it was a
