It is believed that Anderson was one of the ringleaders in the recent attempt to saw out of the county jail.

The several cases of embezzlement against G. G. Bell, the commission dealer, have been continued, the understanding being that his friends are effecting a settlement with the parties whom it is alloged he defrauded.

Another state case continued to next term is that against Robert Johnson, the young man charged with perjury in connection with the trial of the chicken thieves, Tracy and Lawrence.

Judge Smith has yet to pass sentence on Sam Barnes, convicted of the burglary of George Bishop's house, and on Frank Henthe young man who pleaded guilty to assaulting Perry Lavenberg, with intent to commit great bodily injury.

In the case of F. M. Phillips and Charles Walker, charged with illegal fishing in Lake Manawa, brought an appeal from the court of Justice Vien, where the defendants were found guilty. The defense claims that the portion of the lake where the alleged illegal fishing is charged with taking place is boundary water, and therefore does not come under the protection of the law. Walker, one of the defendants, died suddenly a few months ago from the effects of drinking too much whisky.

May Pay for School Site.

Judge Green's ruling, in which he disolves the injunction restraining the board from paying for the High school site out of the school house fund is as follows:

'With reference to that part of the order which restrains the defendant from paying for the site except out of the proceeds of the bonds, the contention of the defendants must be sustained. It may have been the intention of the voters to so limit the entire expense connected with the building, but the that the state and counties should be an proposition submitted to the voters does not so state. The petition does not allege that it is the intention to divert the proceeds of the bonds from the purpose for which they School for the Deaf at Council Bluffs, which were voted. It is not chaimed that funds have, or will be, illegally raised to make
