COMPARATIVE CARRIER DELIVERY CIRCULATIONS OF OMAHA DAILIES

Names of Subscribers Arranged in Parallel Columns Tell the Story in Indisputable Array.

MORE THAN TWO TO ONE IN FAVOR OF THE BEE

Let Every One Read the Lists and Note for Himself the Number and Character of the People Who Read This Paper as Shown by a Census of Eight Districts Just Taken.

To show its superiority as an advertising medium, The Bee has just had taken a newspaper census of eight out of eighty-four city routes in the best residence districts of Omaha. The results are here exhibited in parallel column, giving names and addresses of the subscribers to the different Omaha dailies, and their correctness is vouched for under oath by the young men who have made the canvass.

This showing speaks for itself because it is in reality the carrier delivery subscription lists of the respective papers in the districts described. Local advertisers are asked to go over the names carefully and note how many patrons they have in the list of Bee subscribers as compared with the list of World-Herald subscribers. The census districts comprise the best residence sections of the city, where the merchant gets his best patronage, but the ratio in favor of The Bee is substantially the same throughout the city.
