

SUNDAY AT THE EXPOSITION

Big Crowd on Last Free Day Before the Opening Next Month.

WONDROUS CHANGES HAVE TAKEN PLACE

Buildings Are Found to Be in Excellent Condition - Workmen Busy Everywhere in Getting Everything Ready for July 1.

If the Greater America Exposition management had collected 50 cents from each person who passed through the gates yesterday quite a large sum would have been added to the surplus in the treasury. However, there was no fee collected...

Early yesterday morning there were indications of rain, and consequently the crowds were slow in starting out toward the exposition grounds, but long before noon the clouds broke and the sun shined brightly...

Wondrous changes have taken place on the exposition grounds during the last week. The grass has been cut and the lawns and parks are now as green as emerald and as smooth as billiard tables.

Buildings in Good Condition.

The condition of the buildings is something that surprises nearly all the visitors to the exposition grounds. It was thought that the staff would not stand the rigors of the Nebraska winter and that many of the buildings would be in a dilapidated condition.

As yet there are few exhibits here, but word has been received at the general offices that large quantities have been shipped and in order to be ready for their arrival...

On the main court and the bluff track little yet remains to be done aside from planting a few of the flower beds and placing the palms and aquatic plants...

On the East and North midways the workmen knew no Sunday yesterday. There the saw and the hammer were instruments that furnished the music and a lively note it was that they played from early morning until night.

Some New Features. Good progress is being made upon the bicycle course and race track, and within two weeks it will be ready for use.

Buffalo and Return. One Fare for the Round Trip. From Chicago via Lake Shore & Michigan Southern railway. Tickets on sale June 11th, 12th and 13th.

TRIES TO SEVER WINDPIPE

Tom Collins Attempts to End His Own Existence with the Aid of Another's Razor.

Despondent from the use of liquor, having been a protracted spree for several days, Tom Collins, a laborer, living at 1510 Mason street, attempted to commit suicide Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock by cutting his throat with a razor. He was unsuccessful and now occupies a cell in the city jail, charged with drunkenness.

Collins entered the barber shop at 720 South Thirteenth street and tried to borrow a razor. His appearance indicated that he was under the influence of liquor and the barber refused his request.

...AMUSEMENTS...

W. M. Gallagher of Bryan, Pa., says: "For forty years I have tried various cough medicines. One Minute Cough Cure is best of all." It relieves instantly and cures all throat and lung troubles.

George W. Day, the monologist, helps to pass away fifteen minutes in a very pleasing manner. His wit is clean and never fails to produce laughter, while his parodies upon "Just One Girl" and "Only Me," two of the most popular songs of the day, were big hits.

Martinetta and Sutherland do a comedy singing and acrobatic dancing act that is clever. Martinetta's imitations being ridiculously funny.

Another recruit who has entered vaudeville after two seasons on the legitimate stage is Jessica Duncan, who is quite well known in Omaha society. She is the daughter of ex-Mayor George Duncan of Burlington, Ia.

The distinct features of this week's vaudeville bill at the Trocadero are the acts of the five Carnallias and William De Boe. The Carnalia troupe consists of three men and two women, who offer an acrobatic specialty that is as clever as has been seen here during the season.

William De Boe, who styles himself the upside down man, does some head balancing upon a trapeze that is certainly contrary to all laws of equilibrium.

Dorant and May offer a laugh-provoking turn in which Mr. Bartlett presents a German character study that is true to life. He is also quite a contortionist and the use he puts his long, thin limbs to produces some hearty laughter.

Edward Garvie and Mollie Thompson, the popular comedienne, offer a sketch entitled "The Missionary," in which they introduce some clever singing and dancing. The balance of the bill includes Joy and Clayton, in an acrobatic contortion, skirt show, dancing act, and Attie Spencer, comedienne.

JACK TARS HUG THE SHORE

Sailors from the Transport Sheridan Pass Through Omaha Sunday Afternoon.

ARE HOMEWARD BOUND FROM THE ORIENT

Made the Trip from New York, Via the Suez Canal, to Manila—They "Blow" Themselves in San Francisco.

Forty sailors from the transport Sheridan passed through Omaha yesterday afternoon on the Burlington en route to Jersey City. They signed for the voyage to Manila about three months ago. On the journey over the ship carried the Tenth Infantry, and one battalion of the Seventeenth infantry, under command of Lieutenant Colonel Jacob Smith.

The outward trip was made from New York City, through the Suez canal, and occupied about six weeks, during which time the ship put in at several ports, the visit at the island of Malta being especially noteworthy, as the troops were disembarked and reviewed by the English army officers stationed there.

After spending about three weeks at Manila the transport sailed for San Francisco, where it arrived about two weeks ago. On its return it brought several invalid officers and a number of discharged soldiers. The remains of Colonel John M. Stoenberg were also brought back on this transport.

When the transport reached San Francisco the sailors refused to continue their service and, although the officers of the ship tried to coerce them, they gained their point. They report having had a pleasant journey both ways, but their homes were in New York, Brooklyn and Jersey City, and they did not take to such long trips so far from their native haunts.

The men admitted that they were just returning from a state of financial embarrassment, incident to the week spent in exploiting the mysteries of San Francisco.

The sailors represented nearly all nationalities, Italians, English, Irish and Swedes being conspicuous.

An Epidemic of Whooping Cough. Last winter, during an epidemic of whooping cough, my children contracted the disease, having several attacks. I had used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy very successfully for croup and naturally tried it at that time and found it relieved the cough and effected a complete cure.—JOHN E. CLIFFORD, Proprietor, Norwood House, Norwood, N. Y.

SOUTH OMAHA NEWS.

A comparative statement showing the receipts of live stock at the four principal markets from January 1 to June 2, inclusive, as set forth by the Stock Yards company. This statement shows that South Omaha holds third place in cattle and hog receipts and second place in sheep receipts.

For the period of time mentioned an increase of 125,100 hogs is shown as compared with the corresponding months of last year. South Omaha is sixth to Chicago in sheep receipts, while Kansas City's sheep receipts have fallen off nearly 27,000 since the first of the year.

In connection with the alleged scarcity of good beef cattle and the prevailing high prices, the National Stockman of recent date has this to say: "An anonymous correspondent of an exchange takes a very gloomy view of the beef business from the standpoint of the consumer. According to his figures the shortage of good beef cattle this year will be from 500,000 to 700,000 head and out of this and the indications for the future he deduces the statement that 'cheap meat is a thing of the past.' It is true that the consumers of good beef cattle are paying more for some time and conditions point to the probability that he will have to continue to do so. But no such dismal outlook confronts the people as this prophet would have us believe. The population of the United States has a number of times gone through a period when cattle were selling higher than now and when meats were costing the people much greater figures, and still we didn't starve, nor did we meet with anything special in the shape of disaster."

Board of Education. The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Education will be held tonight. Aside from the regular routine a description of a number of teachers. The list of teachers will be gone over and those whom the board desires to retain will be re-elected. This is to be done at this time in order that the teachers may know before their names are called whether they will be expected to return in the fall or not. Regular examinations for teachers will be held next week, and it is understood that the vacancies in the corps of teachers will be filled from among those who pass the examination.

Four enumerators are also to be named tonight in order that the work of taking the school census can commence at once. This census, which is taken in June of each year, must be completed by July 1.

Pawnshop Opens for Business. A pawnshop has been opened on one of the principal business streets of the city. For a number of years this close neighborhood has worried along without a pawnshop, but anticipating that some one would eventually engage in that business here the city council on July 23, 1894, passed an ordinance regulating such places. In the first place a license for $50 a year is exacted and no license is to be issued for less than one year. A bond of $5,000 is also necessary and this bond must be approved by the mayor. This ordinance further provides that pawnbrokers shall keep a suitable book in which shall be entered a description of every article pawned, along with the date, etc. This book shall at all times be accessible to the chief of police. The penalty for violating this ordinance is a fine not to exceed $100.

Lack of House Numbers. The lack of numbers on houses is the cause of considerable complaint from the mail carriers, newspaper carrier boys and delivery clerks. So many new houses have been erected in all parts of the city during the last year or two that it is a difficult matter to find people. The greatest trouble is experienced by the letter carriers, who say that without numbers it is hard to keep track of the families on their respective routes. It is possible that the city council may be requested to pass an ordinance requiring every house to be numbered, and if this is done the delivery of mail will be greatly facilitated.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Volz, Fortieth and Q streets, were surprised Saturday night by about fifty of their friends. Games of various kinds were indulged in, followed by delicious refreshments.

Councilman A. R. Kelly has gone to Cheyenne and Salt Lake City to look after his private business affairs.

Edward Burson, Jr., son of Police Officer Burson, has gone to Chicago to spend a couple of weeks with friends.

The picnic given by Court Allemani, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, at Sarry Mills yesterday was well attended and proved to be a very enjoyable affair.

In compliance with instructions from the city council, all dogs found running at large on and after today without a suitable tag will be shot by either the police or poundmaster.

Yesterday was South Omaha's sixth "dry" Sunday and, to all appearances, the saloons were closed tight. Mayor Ensor was about quite early and drove around to see that his orders were being obeyed. He had nearly every policeman on duty to carry out his instructions and arrest offenders.

It is reported that the management has sent to Berea for 125 tons of stone and that they will arrive on Monday. It is feared that trouble will result. The consideration was raised by the citizens of Mountain View and amounted in total to $34,380, and now "Oakdale," the rival town, is on wheels and strung out on the road to Mountain View. This is probably the first case of buying a whole town outright that the annals of the west record.
