Too Many Rainy Days for the Good of the Retailers.

VALUES GENERALLY FIRM ON ALL LINES

Jobbers, Without Exception, Report an Active Business in Practically All Departments-Manufacturers Behind in Orders.

Weather conditions were not altogether favorable for promoting a large retail trade during last week. One or two rainy days k pt would-be purchasers indoors to a considerable extent, which always reduces the volume of sales. Still a very satisfactory business has been doing and leading houses report everything pirtaining to trade as in a very healthy condition, Heavy advances in values, brought about in most cases by combinations among the manufacturers, are beginning to be felt by consumers. Should the upward tendency in prices be continued much longer a point is certain to be reached when consumers will materially curtal their wants. That a tendency in this direction has not been noted already is manifestly due to the very favorable business conditions prevailing in all parts of the country which have ma-terially enlarged the purchasing power of consumers.

terially enlarged the purchasing power of consumers. The manufacturers located in Omaha ap-pear to be doing a very salisfactory busi-ness, with orders coming in about as fast as they can be cared for with present ca-pacity of plans. It is anticipated that the general prosperity enjoyed by Omaha manufacturers will have no little influence in bringing to this city other branches of manufacturers will have no little influence in bringing to this city other branches of manufacturers will have no little influence business was done last week, receipts of both cattle and hogs being iberal. About 60,000 hogs were disposed of during the week, the most of them being slaughtered by the local houses. Over $500,000, less fixed charges, were sent back into the country for hogs from that point during the six days under review, and if the money paid for cattle was included, it would carry the total way above the million point. This stream of cash running into the country from South Omaha must have a beneficial effect upon the general country reotal trade. So Other clroumstances have probably con-tributed to the same end, and all advices 4 from the country are of a most hopeful charbeter. Farmers, when not too busy in $ country are of a most hopeful Farmers, when not too busy in fields. are liberal purchasers of all staple merchandise.

Groceries Sell Freely.

Grocery jobbers of Omaha unite in pro-nouncing business in their line satisfactory. Orders from the country are coming in freely and the goods seem to be going rapidly into consumption. As regards the market, sugars remain practically un-changed at last week's quotations, but con-ditions would seem favorable for another advance in the near future. California canned fruits for fail delivery are attract-ing considerable attention. As noted a week ago, there are rumors that an asso-clation of California fruit packers is about to be formed, and indications would stem to point to the truth of this rumor. A fact that lends color to the report is that the large packers have withdrawn from the market. Whether an association is formed or not there is no quetseln but what con-Grocery jobbers of Omaha unite in promarket. Whether an association is formed or not there is no quetsoin but what con-sidurable higher prices will prevail this sea-son, as the crop of abples, pears and cher-ries is light. This, together with the in-creased cost of the cast, fabor, and in fact everything entering into the cost of pro-duction, must naturally advance prices on the fruit. In regard to eastern canned goods, the new pack of pineapples, straw-berries and string beans is quotably higher than a year ago. Spot corn is getting to grouds, the new pack of pineapples, straw-berries and string beans is quotably higher than a year ago. Spot corn is getting to be a very scarce article, and in consequence higher prices are being asked. Baltimore packers report that the quality of green peds offered packers this season has been the poorest for years, while the quantity has been smaller and the prices demanded exceptionally high. The long-continued drouth in that section of the country stunted the vines and encouraged insect pests. Many of the factories have been able to secure only enough to keep them going on half time, while others who make a speciality of fine stock have packed little or nothing, as the quality of the peas of-fered by the farmers of late has not been suited to that grade of stock. It is esti-mated that the output of early Junes will not exceed 50 per cent on an average pack and oresent indications point to an equally small pack of marrowats. In dried fruits no material change has taken place. Stocks in all lines are getting to be pretty well no material change has taken place. Stocks in all lines are getting to be pretty well cleaned up, with the exception of prunes and ratsins.

Other Lines Active. Jobbers of boots and shoes report busi-ness in their line as bling in a very healthy condition. As a matter of course this is not a very busy time in this department, but local jobbers are booking a good many fall orders, though comparatively little shipping is being done, as it is too early to send out goods for fail trade. Values have been advancing right along, though it is hinrd to say just why. It was popularly sup-posed among members of the trade that the combination aenong leather men had gone to pleces, and possibly it has. Peck-ers, sometime ago, forced the tanners into paying b ther prices for hides, and that fact may have something to do with keeping up values on shoes.

paying bitter prices for hides, and that fact may have something to do with keeping up values on shoes. Ruther men have been doing very well and, if an abundant rainfall is of any as-sistance, they certainly have been greatly favored by the weather. Increased building operations in Ornaha are contributing to the improvement of the local lumber trade. Dealers observe that it is no casy matter to secure stock from southern mills. This is especially true of hardwood lumber, timbers pilling etc. Fruit and Produce. There was a marked shortage all last week in the berry supply. Fruit and Produce. There was a marked shortage all last week in the berry supply. The strawberry season, so far as the southern crop was concerned, came to an end and it was not till the last of the week that a car of Hood River, Oregon, berries arrived. Not enough raspberries were received to satisfy the de-mand. California fruits are becoming somewhat more plentiful. Oranges and lemons advanced so rapidly that it was difficult to fill. orders at satisfactory prices, and at the same time the supply was so small that it was equally difficult to secur-the sizes desired. Quite a good many south-ern meions, both watermeions and canta-loupes, were to be had on the market. Old pointoes are now practically out of the way, while new potatoes are becoming more plentiful and at the same time a little cheaper. Eggs eased off a little towards the last of the week.
