STONE OR GOEBEL IS THE MAN

Race for the Democratic Nomination in Kentucky Narrows Down to Two.

DAY SESSION BREAKS UP IN DISORDER

Kentucky Democrats Abandon Oratory in Favor of Ruder Missiles and Riotous Delegate Is Expelled from the Room.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., June 21.—The race for the democratic nomination for governor of Kentucky lies between William J. Stone and William Goebel. A committee of the followers of these two candidates today secured the organization of the convention, in the election of Judge David B. Redwine of Breathitt county to be temporary chairman.

In the district conventions this morning they secured all but four of the eleven. This, with the two members of each committee to be named by the temporary chairman, will give them a good working majority.

But there is doubt as to just what the Stone-Goebel combination will develop. On the surface the plan is to nominate Stone for governor and give Goebel's friends the remainder of the ticket and the state convention committee. It is not improbable, however, that Goebel may show sufficient strength in the convention to secure his nomination to the head of the ticket.

This finale of the afternoon session was as unexpected as it was lively. The sweltering packed jammed together mass of delegates, politicians and onlookers had yelled their hoarse, fanned itself pallid. It was more in a humor to do justice to a dinner than a prize fight.

Feeling was at high tension over an argument that was in progress before the chairman Johnston announced that the delegation from Kenton county, the home of William Goebel, one of the leading candidates for governor, Congressman Ellis of the Sixth district, a venerable gentleman of much prominence, was eloquently presenting the Goebel side of the case and was being interrupted at short intervals by noisy demonstrations of approval.

Former Bids Defiance. A 200-pound ruffian, a little the worse for political and spiritual excitement, mounted a chair and challenged Major Johnston to carry out his threat, announcing incidentally that force would be necessary in his case. Quick as a flash, Jim Williams started from the crowd, seized the intruder in a business-like way.

Williams is a local character of some repute and his activity was the signal for a stampede toward the exits. Almost everywhere was started a stampede, and an affair occurred and the result was a general scramble to get out of the way and a general disarrangement of furniture ensued. Half a dozen men surrounded each of the belligerents and the disturber was hustled out, not, however, without having cleared a space in the middle of the stage about thirty feet in diameter, having a fringe of huddled humanity around that edge, crouched in corners or behind sheltering walls.

The health of Rudyard Kipling, who was among the passengers, improved during the voyage. When interviewed here he spoke highly of the kindness he had received from Americans. The Teutonic proceeded to Liverpool.

ISLANDS ARE A GOOD BARGAIN

German Foreign Minister Defends His Recent Deal in Real Estate.

BERLIN, June 21.—The Reichstag today passed the third reading of the bill providing for the prolongation of the Anglo-German commercial treaty.

During the discussion of the supplementary credits for the protectorates and the loan therefor, the minister of foreign affairs, Baron von Buelow, again defended the acquisition of the Spanish islands, which he said, the government had long entertained, as it would tend to the complete restoration of Germany's old possessions.

The Reichstag subsequently passed the second reading of the credit for the purchase of the islands with the loan bill and the commercial convention with Spain attached.

During the course of the debate Baron Buelow said: "We hold it to be our first duty to see that our relations with other powers are undisturbed by the new acquisition and hope that our relations with the immediate neighbors of the islands, namely, the American and Japanese, will only become more intimate."

"The fact that I was elected without opposition," continued the senator, "indicates that the people of Tennessee are in harmony with this view. The people of the south are opposed to expansion. On this coast and especially in San Francisco, I have found the expansion principle largely favored and advocated by the wealthy citizens and wholesale merchants."

Estimated Treasury Deficit for Year Less Than Hundred Million.

WAR REVENUE TAX SWELLS THE REVENUES

Normal Expenses and Receipts Indicate Balance on Right Side of Twenty Million—Cost of the War With Spain.

WASHINGTON, June 21.—It is regarded as a conservative estimate that the treasury deficit for the fiscal year 1899, which closes ten days hence, will be less than $100,000,000. Already the receipts for the year aggregate over $488,800,000, while the expenditures barely $388,800,000 more, with ten days, judging from past years, of heavy receipts yet to be accounted for.

Up to this date the customs receipts amount to over $200,400,000; from internal revenue $283,550,000 was realized for the year over $15,000,000, spirits an increase of $3,500,000.

The total receipts from all sources last year amounted to $405,321,335 while the expenditures aggregated $443,368,582, leaving a deficit of $38,047,247.

From the closest calculation that can now be made the war revenue act, which, with the exception of a few items, went into effect July 1, 1898, will realize for the year a little less than $100,000,000.

TALE OF OUTLAWRY A MYTH

Chief of Rural Police Asserts that Organized Bands of Brigands Are Scattered.

HAVANA, June 21.—General Montegudo, chief of the rural police of Santa Clara, in an interview says: "We cannot attach political significance to the story told of outlawry. The only organized party, numbering twenty men, was scattered last week and eight of the outlaws were captured. There are a few outlaws in the hills, which are ideal hiding places. There is complete sympathy between the American province guards and the Cuban rural police. It will be impossible to exterminate the bandits until the latter have been increased in number."

Eighty Cuban soldiers have been paid at Santa Clara and money has been sent there for the payment of the remnant of Gomez's escorts.

Sloan at Greenwich, was today severely censured by the General Association of Congregational Ministers of Connecticut, of which he is a member. Dr. Barrows was present and personally apologized to the ministers, saying that he had been imposed upon by Mr. Belmont and Mrs. Sloan, but in spite of this resolutions were passed censuring him and forbidding any congregational minister of the association to marry any divorced person who have been shown guilty by the decree.

In passing the resolution the clergymen present bound themselves to take a firm stand on the divorce question and to use their efforts to bring about uniform divorce laws. The resolution also makes it impossible for them to remarry guilty parties in a divorce case, and parties who were forbidden to marry by the laws of any state, and the rules of another Christian church.

NEW ERA FOR SAMOA

Commission Completes Its Labors and Will Soon Start Home.

GOVERNMENT THOROUGHLY REORGANIZED

Report Recommends Abolition of King in Favor of Governor.

MATAFAA'S FOLLOWERS GRACEFULLY YIELD

Thousands of Rifles Given Up and Native Returning to Their Homes.

COUNTRY RESUMES PEACEFUL APPEARANCE

Under Scheme Proposed Executive Office is Completed by Council of Three Representing the Interested Powers.

APIA, Samoan Islands, June 14.—(Via Auckland, N. Z., June 21.)—Matafaa has surrendered 1,850 rifles and the loyalists have given up 2,000. After June 20 a heavy penalty will be enforced upon natives found with rifles in their possession.

The natives have returned to their homes. Malletta Tanu was recognized as king by the commissioners of the three powers and the decision of Chief Justice Chambers in the matter of the kingship was proclaimed.

Under the scheme the country would be divided into three municipalities, under a mayor and council, which it bears to relatives in the past. The report recommends the abolition of the kingship and the presidency of Apia and the appointment of a governor, with a legislative council consisting of three nominees of the interested powers, assisted by a native house.

CHANGES IN EXISTING FORM

Under this scheme the governor would have a veto over general and municipal laws; the nominees would be locally elected mental heads; consular, diplomatic and judicial functions would be abolished; revenue would be raised by an increase of duties and a diminution of the poll tax; the jurisdiction of the supreme court would be increased; the municipality, under a mayor and council, would be extended to include the postoffice would be under the general government.

The British cruiser Porpoise, Captain Sturdee, left via Fiji on June 8.

Apia and the country roundabout are resuming normal conditions. The American and British express satisfaction at the decision of the commissioners. Among the Germans it is rumored that Dr. Solz will be the administrator in the new native government.

DEAD SAILORS BROUGHT HOME

Bodies of Heroic Young Naval Officers Arrive on Cruiser from the Samoan Islands.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21.—The United States cruiser Philadelphia arrived here today from Apia, via Honolulu. The homeward voyage was not a fast one for the reason that the Philadelphia's bottom is very foul from long service.

In some respects the homecoming of the cruiser has been a sad one for it bears to relatives in this country the bodies of two Americans who lost their lives in the fight between the Matafaans and the combined forces of the American and British seamen. The story of the death of the two brave Americans has been told repeatedly and in brief is as follows:

A squad of Americans under Lieutenant Lansdale was caught in a ravine by the Matafaans and surrounded. A sharp fight followed, the odds being greatly against the Americans. The only boat on the order, Lieutenant Lansdale would be wounded in battle and after ordering his men to go on prepared to give up his life to the Samoans dearly. Ensign Monaghan ran to his assistance and a sharp hand-to-hand struggle followed. The most heroic Americans were killed and their bodies frightfully mutilated. The bodies were embalmed, wrapped in the flag of their country and placed on board the Philadelphia for conveyance to this country. Lansdale was well known in this city and shortly before being ordered to Samoa married a prominent young society woman of this city. Ensign Monaghan's parents reside at San Diego, Cal.

Admiral Kautz is in command of the cruiser and he is reported to have been in his duty in the matter of the Samoan trade and he believes that he has been subjected to much unjust criticism in certain quarters. He is fully convinced that he will be able to set himself right with the people and it is already known that his actions have had the sanction of the Navy department.

ALL POINTS ARE COMPROMISED

Report in Some Cases is Inconsistent and Generally Disappointing.

LONDON, June 21.—The correspondent of the Times at Apia, under date of June 15, says: "Although considerable success has attended the labors of the commissioners, it cannot be said that the outlook for the immediate future is altogether satisfactory. In order to secure unanimity the commissioners have followed to a perilous extent a policy of compromise with the result that many conclusions at which they have arrived are not only unsatisfactory to all parties. The only really satisfactory features are the disarmament and disbandment of the natives, the resignation of Malletta Tanu and the abolition of the kingship. These incidents greatly relieve the tension and modify the fears of another outbreak, but the proclamation of a provisional government is keenly criticized by natives and whites alike."

"During the absence of Herr Rose, the German consul, his duties will be in the hands of Herr Gronow, the vice consul, while a deputy commissioner will undertake the duties of the British consul, Mr. Maxse. I have the best reason to believe that the commissioners will take early action to secure the retirement of the present chief justice as the American consul, Mr. Osborn, although no definite decision has been reached. As there are many delicate matters awaiting consideration, it is very doubtful whether the commissioners will be able to leave by the end of the month."
