HARVARD ALUMNI AT TABLE.

Prominent Men of Nation Are Guests of the Students.

JULES CAMBON EXPRESSES HIS GRATITUDE.

Degree Conferred Upon Him Taken as Token of Good Will for His Country—Recalls Similar Incident Over a Century Ago.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 29.—The crowning event of Harvard's commencement was the alumni dinner, which took place in Memorial hall after the graduation exercises yesterday. The guests included President Eliot, Ambassador Jules Cambon, Alexander Agassiz, General Leonard Wood, Governor Roger Wolcott and Admiral Sampson. President Eliot opened the speech-making by reporting gifts of $1,250,000 to the college during the year. Governor Wolcott followed in a brief address and Ambassador Cambon was introduced.

The French ambassador, M. Cambon, spoke in French and took occasion to refer to the part he had taken in restoring peace between the United States and Spain and to thank Harvard for conferring on him the degree of LL. D. He said:

I feel unable to express to you how deeply I appreciate the honor which Harvard university has done me by conferring upon me the dignity of doctor of laws. I am proud to bring hereafter to your university, the oldest in America, and I am glad to know that the thought which prompted the bestowal of this honor upon me possibly had in view a higher aim than any personal to me. I cannot forget that a very long time ago one of my predecessors, the Marquis de la Luzerne who in 1781 represented in this country King Louis XVI., was also made by Harvard an honorary doctor of laws. At that time the United States had hardly emerged from the heroic struggle which insured her independence. France had lent you her assistance, and your university inscribed the name of her representative among those of your honored ones. That was over a century ago.

Last year Providence designated France to take the lead of your adversary of yesterday, to place it into yours and to clasp both in her own. I was the chosen instrument of the humanitarian idea which inspired this act. By these feelings alone was I guided. Allowed to thank you for the personal honor you have shown me, as you did in early days to the Marquis de la Luzerne, because you thereby testify once more to the traditional friendship of our two nations.

As for myself, whose profession brings me in daily contact with the realities of public life, it is a rare good fortune to find myself in this atmosphere of learning and culture. I am a son of the University of Paris, a son of that glorious seat of learning, the Sorbonne. There it was that Dante, in the middle ages, leaving Florence, came to pursue his studies. In those days no frontier circumscribed the domain of art and science. And may we not hope that my presence at this distinguished gathering suggests that there continues to exist the same untrammeled spirit which makes the world of art and letters something more than the heritage of any one country.

Admiral Sampson and General Wood, who talked on war topics informally, also spoke.

Accepted Lomax's Terms.

CHICAGO, June 29.—It now develops that the terms on which the Union Pacific consented to enter the Western Passenger association, and upon which the deal was consummated, are identical with those first submitted by E. L. Lomax, Union Pacific general passenger agent, and over which six weeks have been wasted in unnecessary conferences.

The Union Pacific now becomes a member of an association having jurisdiction upon Colorado common points, namely, Denver, Colorado Springs, Pueblo and Trinidad. West of these cities the association has no power.

With the exception of the Union Pacific the other lines interested do not run from Colorado common points into Utah. The Union Pacific was asked to meet the competition of Utah lines, but yet do nothing contrary to agreement east of Colorado common points, which would obviously have placed "The Overland Route" in an embarrassing position.

Retail Merchants Confer.

MITCHELL, S. D., June 29.—(Special Telegram.)—The annual meeting of South Dakota Retail Merchants' association convened here this afternoon and there was a very fair attendance of business men from over the state. President H. J. Rice of Huron was present. Considerable interest was manifested in the report of W. J. Healey, the secretary, in reference to what had been accomplished in the last year that was beneficial to the business interests of the state. The association now has enrolled over 500 business men in South Dakota and members and the good work has resulted in maintaining and increasing the interest of business men. Important business matters were up for discussion during the session in which members took an active part with the result that new methods of handling business were developed. Mr. Rice was re-elected president and W. J. Healey was re-elected secretary, with practically the same executive committee.

Populist Camp Meeting.

ABERDEEN, S. D., June 29.—(Special Telegram.)—The populist camp meeting opened at Tacoma park today and will continue until July 1. The attendance and interest promise to be greater than at any time previous. An interesting program has been prepared, which will be participated in by speakers of the best and most notable in the west. Lenatus Donnelly of Minnesota spoke today, Governor Lee will speak Friday forenoon and in the afternoon W. J. Bryan.

On Saturday Rev. David Moore of St. Paul and Hon. R. F. Pettibrew will speak.

Sunday E. V. Debs will deliver an address on the labor problem.

Monday Thomas H. Lucas of Minneapolis will speak. The Fourth will be devoted to addresses, music, dancing, games and a general good time.

Black Hills Presbytery.

RAPID CITY, S. D., June 29.—(Special Telegram.)—The Black Hills presbytery has been in session in this city. D. E. Bates, who has been filling the pulpit of the Presbyterian church in this city for some time, was examined and ordained and he will continue to occupy the pulpit. W. H. Thompson left with his family last evening for Plankton, where he will take charge of the industrial school at that place. George McManus of this city went on the same train to take the position of chief printer and bandmaster at the same institution.

Passes on Liquor Cases.

DEADWOOD, S. D., June 29.—(Special Telegram.)—Judge Joseph B. Moore passed upon the liquor cases of Mead county today. This was a case of thirteen indictments brought by the grand jury of Mead county against the saloon men of Sturgis. The defendants demurred, raising the question of validity of the present law. Judge Moore decided the case in favor of the demurrers on the ground that the new law is self-operative.

Life Sentence Awarded.

DEADWOOD, S. D., June 29.—(Special Telegram.)—Word has been received from the supreme court that the case of William Yokum, who was given a life sentence at Belle Fourche for killing James Barnes three years ago, has been affirmed.

TROOPS TRUE TO THEIR TRUST

Courage and Fidelity Shown in Trying Days Before Hostilities Began.

PROVOCATION WAS ALMOST INTOLERABLE

Insurgents' Efforts to Provoke Attack Called Out Rare Self-Control and Discipline—Brave Men Mentioned by Name.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—The report of Major General Thomas M. Anderson, commanding the First division of the Eighth army corps during the first battles with the insurgents in the Philippines, was published at the War department today. It is dated February 16 and relates mainly to the operations of February 5. The report in part is as follows:

A line of demarcation had been agreed upon between the Philippine command and the insurgent Filipino authorities. Finding that we did not hold our line of demarcation, the Filipino military forces advanced beyond this line and began to throw up a formidable line of entrenchments. They also constructed other fortifications. As the insurgents saw that their demarcation works approaching completion they became more insolent day by day and finally did everything they could in insolence and insults to provoke us to begin the conflict. As they were permitted to go and come through our lines as if they were our own what troops we had, where they were located and that we were making no visible preparations for defense. It seems proper to make these statements in order to justify the assertion that no troops ever behaved better under more trying conditions, showing excellent discipline and self-control. The First brigade of this division was under Brigadier General Charles King. The Second brigade was under Brigadier General Samuel Owenshine.

The only preparations which could be made for battle, were orders to stand on the defensive, was the assignment of the different organizations on the fighting line, and in securing positions for artillery. Nothing more apparently could be done, as our government had to preserve a waiting policy until the treaty of peace was signed. Nevertheless, as an attack from the front might be followed by an uprising in the city, this precaution placed the army under a great disadvantage.

Insurgents Begin Hostilities.

At 3:40 o'clock on the morning of February 5 the insurgents opened fire on Blockhouse No. 11 with Mauser rifles. I had just hidden up my headquarters in the city, from which I had telegraphic communications with every part of my command. I first telegraphed corps headquarters for permission to take the offensive when it became light enough to do so.

At 5 o'clock I directed General Owenshine to open artillery fire on Blockhouse No. 14 and the wood nearby and to be prepared to drive the enemy from the Malate front, and if he yielded easily to turn to the left with part of his command and sweep the enemy from his entire front. The Malate front line became heavier as the day advanced.

At last, at 8 o'clock, a telegram came from Major General Otis, authorizing an advance if not made too far. I went at once to Battery knoll, taking with me the Wyoming battalion. Finding there three companies of California volunteers, I ordered them to open fire on the command of Colonel Smith of the First California. I directed him to deploy and advance in line with the rest of King's brigade, substituting this for the intended co-operation of Owenshine. General King was present and was ordered to advance as soon as I gave the word. These officers received this order with delight and their troops with enthusiasm. The movement began at 8:20 a. m., with a rush over the creek in our front; a cheer and rattling volleys as the whole line advanced, not by rushes, but with a steady, unbroken line fell back before our advance, fighting, however, with spirit.

Californians' Gallant Assault.

At the same time the California battalion charged and drove the enemy out of Santa Ana, driving them from stone walls and convents, churches and houses and fighting their way through blazing bamboo huts from which the natives were firing.

Brigadier General Owenshine, commanding the Second brigade, had the North Dakota regiment under Lieutenant Colonel Treuman, occupying the other Spanish trenches from Port Malate on the bay to an almost impassable swamp which divided his line into two sections. At about 10 o'clock he ordered an advance. The North Dakota drove the enemy from their front back to the Carmelite convent. Major Potter, with Matlie's battalion, Fourteenth infantry, advanced through the woods. After a desperate fight the enemy was driven out, but without inflicting serious loss upon us.

Hearing of the successful advance of the North Dakotas I telegraphed General Owenshine to carry out the project I had arranged with him and attempt to roll up the enemy by a movement from right to left. As there was a long delay in carrying out this project I repeated several times by telegraph and aides were sent with oral orders. It was at last found that he was under a false impression that he had received other orders from the corps commander. When this misconception was removed he made the movement with complete success.

The coolness, energy and bravery of the officers and men of this division are worthy of highest consideration. Beginning on the left the Idaho regiment, under Major Higgins, did splendid work. The Wyoming regiment I expected excellent service. Colonel James F. Smith showed the very best quality of a volunteer officer. His services in every position in which he has been placed have been most valuable and efficient. I cordially recommend him as a brigadier general of volunteers.

Some of the same regiment proved he is a natural born soldier. He is not only brave, but cool and discreet.

Charles Hean, lieutenant third artillery, in command of the engineer company, showed splendid efficiency. The Wyoming battalion, although not well handled at first, when it got into action showed the bravery I have seen before in Wyoming men.

In the Second brigade, the North Dakota made a dash for the front, the Wyoming Fourth cavalry under fire fought as well as they always have in their many battles. The fighting of the Fourteenth infantry under trying surroundings, in which they were placed, was little less than heroic; certainly it was most effective. They were well led by Major Potter, Captain John Murphy, a well tried veteran, and other efficient company officers, Hasbrouck, Lasage, Biddle, and in fact, all present, including Captains Martin and Frautough, who, although on duty, went to the front with their own regiment, performing excellent service. Captain Dyer, Sixth artillery, directed the artillery operations for me with rare skill and judgment. Lieut-

PEN SLIPS IN BECKER'S FAVOR

STATE COMPELLED TO NOLLE THE CASE

Alleged to Have Been Murdered—Accused Henry Case and Held for Trial.

CHICAGO, June 29.—The trial of August Becker, the South Side butcher, charged with having murdered and then dismembered and sold the remains of his wife, in order to leave him free to marry Ida Sutterlin, a 17-year-old girl with whom he had become infatuated, came to a sudden end today, when it was found that the indictment named the accused as Elizabeth, when it should have been Theresa. The court at once nolle prossed the indictment. The jury had been sworn in and the defense asked for a discharge of the prisoner on the ground that Becker had been placed in jeopardy and therefore could not be tried again. The court denied the request, however, and a bench warrant was issued and Becker rearrested. A new indictment will be drawn up. The discovery that the indictment was faulty caused somewhat of a sensation in the court room.

The result may be, however, that Becker will escape punishment, as the case is now in such shape that the prisoner's counsel are confident of a reversal by the supreme court of a verdict of guilty if returned. The jury had been sworn in and part of the evidence of the first witness heard when the attorney for the defense moved that the defendant be discharged and the jury instructed to return a verdict of not guilty, as the evidence produced related to the killing of one Theresa Becker, while the indictment alleged that the defendant had murdered Elizabeth Becker.

After a moment's excited conference between the prosecuting attorneys the state moved that a nolle prosequi be entered and the defendant be held on a bench warrant. The defendant's counsel then moved that the state enter a nolle prosequi of the case. The state maintained that Becker had not been in jeopardy for the murder of Theresa Becker. Judge Stein then entered a nolle prosequi and a bench warrant was issued for Becker. Judge Stein sitting as a committing magistrate and hearing evidence relating to the case. In this proceeding the defense claims another error was committed. The witnesses were sworn by the clerk of the criminal court. It was held by the defense that Judge Stein sitting as a magistrate, should have sworn the witnesses himself.

Dr. Thomas Takes Decided Grounds Against Expansion and Militarism.

BUFFALO, June 29.—The National Social and Political conference resumed its session today to discuss non-partisan reform in political reform. The subject is divided into eight subdivisions—"Expansion and Militarism," "Permanent Internal Tribunal," "Proportional Representation," "Recall or Impulsive Mandate," "Single Tax," "Non-Partisan Temperance" and "Organized Labor." Each speaker was limited to ten minutes, with twenty minutes for discussion under the three-minute rule. Rev. H. W. Thomas of Chicago presided and discussed "Expansion and Militarism." Mr. Thomas was one of the first to espouse the cause of the Cubans. In speaking of the war in the Philippines, he declared it the saddest thing in the history of the United States. As militarism tends to despotism, he opposed it, believing that industrialism means democracy and the preservation of the liberties of the people. During Dr. Thomas' remarks not a syllable of applause greeted Admiral Dewey's name. William J. Ghent of New York took the opposite side of the question and declared that popular sympathy was with the government.

"When it is possible," said Mr. Ghent, "for a man to mention the magnificent victory of Dewey, without the loss of a man or ship, and to speak of the great victory at Santiago, where not a ship was lost and only one life was lost—when this is possible in this country without a single sign of applause, I say to you that it simply illustrates the impotence of the body before which the remarks were made."

Men in the Southern Islands Ready to Fight, but Are Short of Arms.

VICTORIA, B. C., June 29.—Advices from Hakodate state that Captain Sakichi of the steamer Hokoku Maru, just returned from the Philippines, reports that in the southern islands the young Filipinos are constructing fortifications against emergencies. Every port is garrisoned by 1,000 or so volunteers, whose weapons, however, are very crude, only about 100 per cent being armed with rifles. They are, however, full of patriotism and state they will not yield to the Americans though the whole of the islands are destroyed. The Hokoku Maru was warmly welcomed by the Filipinos, who consider the Japanese to be of kindred race and hoped for assistance from them.

NEW YORK, June 29.—John Johnson, removed to the Norwegian steamship Krim, was moved to St. Lawrence island hospital this afternoon suffering from yellow fever, and tonight his condition is serious. The Krim sailed from Havana on June 20, for Matanzas, arriving at that port the same day. Mate Johnson, who had been ailing, was taken severely ill two days after his arrival at Matanzas.
