

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE.

E. ROSEWATER, Editor. PUBLISHED EVERY MORNING. TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION. Daily Bee (without Sunday), One Year, $6.00...

STATEMENT OF CIRCULATION. State of Nebraska, Douglas County, ss.: George B. Tzschuck, secretary of The Bee Publishing Company, being duly sworn, says that the number of full and complete copies of The Daily Morning, Evening and Saturday Bee, printed during the month of June, 1899, was as follows:

Parties leaving for the Summer. Parties leaving the city for the summer may have The Bee sent to them regularly by notifying The Bee business office, in person or by mail.

Even the reform school boys in South Dakota object to popocratic rule. Bryan says he stands just where he did three years ago—on the outside of the White House fence.

Another crime in sight. Arrangements are being made to establish the gold standard in that last stronghold of the silverites—India.

The campaign in Nebraska will not be very long this year, but the republican orchestra will give the popocrats all the music they want while it lasts.

Judge Powell has suddenly become a second Daniel in the eyes of the Herdmanite mouth organ. But if the judge should happen to be renominated he will be lampooned as a judicial nonentity.

State Auditor Cornell was not invited to the governor's little private dinner when the new executive mansion was dedicated. Just at present the auditor is not sitting at the governor's right hand.

Telephones have just been introduced into Clay county, Kentucky, the scene of the Baker-Howard feud. They should be a great convenience to people who do not dare to go out of doors at night for fear of being murdered.

The three-tinged state convention should be moved out on the prairie instead of to Lincoln. There are no halls in the capital city of sufficient capacity to accommodate all the varieties of harmony that will be present.

The factory has discovered that the contest instituted by Winter against Shields originated in the cunning brain of Rosewater. In this respect the factory is as correct and truthful as it is in everything it says concerning the same individual.

Some of the democrats swear they will never swallow Holcomb as a candidate for supreme judge. A tight grip on the nose is likely to make them swallow the bitter pill, though there may be doubts as to whether it will aid the political digestion.

Judge Gordon's leniency toward petty criminals leaves the police department no alternative but to make life a burden for the vagabonds who cumber our streets. With any kind of co-operation on the part of the police judge the city could soon be cleared of these migratory outcasts.

State Treasurer Meserve is more than willing the governor and auditor should settle their differences without any interference from him. The deposit of insurance securities with the treasurer would increase the official bond of that officer, and guarantee company bonds cost money.

Mayor Jones of Toledo says he is not a candidate for governor of Ohio, but is satisfied to retain his present position, where he has all the trouble one man can comfortably dispose of. The mayor need not be alarmed over the burdens of the gubernatorial office, as there is no probability he will ever be called upon to shoulder them.

The Utlanders are not satisfied with the concessions granted them by the Transvaal. The Boers could easily settle the whole matter by turning the country over to the Utlanders, and if they will follow this up by moving on as they did once before and develop a wilderness they can live in peace—until they have brought the country to a condition making it worth England's while to gobble it up.

REORGANIZATION OR FAILURE.

A great many people in this city are directly concerned financially and otherwise in the success or failure of the Greater America Exposition. So is The Bee. Everything that promotes the growth and prosperity of Omaha tends to benefit its newspapers as well as all other established institutions.

When the Greater America Exposition was projected its purpose as heralded abroad and at home was to exhibit to the American people the natural products and resources of the new possessions. In view of the universal popular interest in the newly-annexed territory and its people the success of the project was assured from every point of view, providing the projectors kept faith with the people who contributed to its treasury, either in stock subscriptions, stock donations or gate money.

And this accounts for the heavy frost in the middle of July. Whatever pretense the managers may advance for refusing to raise the necessary $100,000 there is not a scintilla of doubt that that amount could have been raised had the executive committee seen fit to follow out instructions and conduct the enterprise with an honest intent.

Judge Powell has suddenly become a second Daniel in the eyes of the Herdmanite mouth organ. But if the judge should happen to be renominated he will be lampooned as a judicial nonentity. State Auditor Cornell was not invited to the governor's little private dinner when the new executive mansion was dedicated.

LAST YEAR AND THIS YEAR.

A lie will travel seven leagues while truth is putting on his boots, and fakirs can fabricate more lies in a minute than truthful men can contradict in a month of Sundays. The official fakir organ asserts that this year's exposition exceeds that of last year in every respect.

Last year every foot of space in the Fine Arts building was covered with a fair representation of art. This year half of the Art building is vacant and the other half only partially filled. Last year the Mines building contained the richest and most complete mining exhibit ever seen in any exposition in the United States.

THE TRANSVAAL CONCESSIONS.

According to the latest information the situation in the Transvaal is still somewhat acute, though the danger of very serious trouble between the Boer government and Great Britain is much less than it appeared to be two weeks ago. It is stated that the concessions offered by President Kruger, who has to some extent yielded to the persuasions of representatives of the Cape Colony and the Orange Free State, are not satisfactory to the Utlanders.

The plan of franchise reform presented to the Transvaal legislature provides for the immediate enfranchisement of all Utlanders who have lived in the Transvaal since before 1890, all others to be enfranchised after a residence of seven years. The first provision is in accordance with the demand of the British commissioner, while the second makes the period of residence two years longer than was suggested by the commissioner.

PENSION ADMINISTRATION.

We noted, a short time ago, the manifestations of dissatisfaction in the Grand Army of the Republic with the administration of the pension bureau, particular reference being made at that time to the action of the New York state encampment in adopting a resolution expressing its disapprobation of the way in which the bureau is administered.

Admiral Dewey is to be presented with a sword, the gift of the nation, when he returns, and the ceremony to be conducted on the steps of the capitol. That is not all the people will do to him when he comes home.

THE CITY OF IT.

It is said that the women at the shore are at the old cry of not enough men. It is certainly a pity crying should go on where there is already so much salt water.

NOTHING LESS WILL SATISFY.

The Columbia showed three minutes' worth of heels to Defender. It now remains for her to repeat the deed of the Shamrock. Then national pride will be satisfied.

HE HAD NO MEGAPHONE.

One of the heroes who engaged in the deadly work of cutting the cables at Cienfuegos at the beginning of the war is dead. He didn't run for office or write a book, and his name was Willard Ellenberg.

HOW TIMES HAVE CHANGED.

Old-timers in South Dakota when they recall the days of 2 and 3 and 5 per cent a month must smile grimly when they read of the banks of the state refusing to receive deposits any longer to loan money at 5 and 6 per cent a year.

KIOWA'S WEARY PILGRIMS.

Of the 9,246 men who departed from Seattle for the Klondike during the past six months 5,359 have already returned, and nearly all of them have come back empty handed.

FREE SPEECH FOR PROFESSORS.

Of course college professors, like other human beings, sometimes say foolish things. The right of free speech means the right to speak nonsense when the speaker has no sensible views to impart. Little harm is done thereby.

SAMPLE OF MACHINE POETRY.

Painfully does Mr. Alired Austin, poet laureate of England, toll at his dreary task of turning out verse at command, but obviously without inspiration. His effort in commemoration of the sixty-third anniversary of the queen's coronation is even more listless than was the birthday ode.

GLIMPSES OF FUSION POLITICS.

Kearney Hub (rep.): It behooves those people at the State Industrial school who have not made their peace with Governor Poynter to keep their lamps trimmed and burning, for they know not the day nor the hour when a official scoundrel will leave them homeless.

The United States has refused to arbitrate the damage claims of Hungarians killed in the Hazelton, Pa., riots. Opinions differ considerably as to the justice of the court's decision, but inasmuch as the trial of the men responsible for their death resulted in a verdict justifying the shooting on the ground that the dead men were engaged in violating the law when killed.

Prosperity helps the churches as well as other institutions. Congregations in this city which found it expedient to get along with vacant pulpits are now taking on a new lease of life, having called ministers to lead them and having arranged for erecting new edifices and refurbishing up the old ones.

PERSONAL AND OTHERWISE.

Not for seventeen years has the Postoffice department come so near to being self-supporting as this year.

Major General Otis sends a cablegram to his wife regularly on the 1st and 15th of each month. It is to be hoped that these dispatches at least escape the censor.

A statue of the late United States Senator Zebulon B. Vance is to be placed at the eastern entrance to Capitol square.

STOCK JOBBING PATRIOTISM.

The truth is this. The British Outlanders in the Transvaal go there to make money. As very few of them have any intention to remain when they have made it, the question of the franchise after a residence of five or seven years is a matter of very secondary importance to them.

PIONEER BUSINESS HOUSES.

The first store at Nebraska City was established by Nuckolls, Hall & Van Doren. The firm built and occupied a large two-story frame building east of the court house square.

FORERUNNERS OF THE DEPARTMENT STORES OF THE PRESENT DAY.

The reason why all the stores of the Toolies of St. Joseph, the Nuckolls of Nebraska and the Bosbyshells of Glenwood, and Jim Jackson of Council Bluffs were in 1854 country department stores was sparseness of population. There were not enough people at Nebraska City in 1855 to maintain the expense of a separate grocery store, an exclusively dry goods store, a drug store, a shoe store.

ECHOES OF THE WAR.

Rev. Clay MacCauley, a minister of the Unitarian denomination stationed at Tokyo, Japan, writes the Boston Transcript, by undated date of June 7, a remarkable letter on the Philippine question. It occupies four columns in the Transcript and deals with events and incidents leading up to the insurrection of the natives.

North Platte Tribune (rep.): Down in the east part of the state it is the prevailing opinion that Judge Neville will be the fusion nominee for congress in this district. This opinion is based on the fact that Neville is part and parcel of the fusion "machine," and it has been demonstrated in the past that the "machine" is mightier than the "common people."

Central City Nonpariel (rep.): Auditor Cornell has refused to turn over the state insurance department to the governor in pursuance with the provisions of the new law which went into effect July 1.

TRIBUTE TAKE-OFFS.

Cleveland Plain Dealer: "Did o' a Major Stiggins get the drop on you when you asked for his tribute?" "I guess he did. He fell on my neck."

Town Topics: Hewitt—"I don't believe in putting off until tomorrow what you can do today."

Chicago Record: "What do you read in summer?" "Congressional Record."

Indianapolis Journal: "This is the time of year," said the "Constitution," "when a man can send his wife out in the country to save expenses and can then loaf around town."

Brooklyn Life: Grandma—"What time did Mr. Lippincott leave last night, Grace?" "Grace—"Why, grandma, he started home at—"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

TRIBUTE TAKE-OFFS.

Cleveland Plain Dealer: "Did o' a Major Stiggins get the drop on you when you asked for his tribute?" "I guess he did. He fell on my neck."

Town Topics: Hewitt—"I don't believe in putting off until tomorrow what you can do today."

Chicago Record: "What do you read in summer?" "Congressional Record."

Indianapolis Journal: "This is the time of year," said the "Constitution," "when a man can send his wife out in the country to save expenses and can then loaf around town."

Brooklyn Life: Grandma—"What time did Mr. Lippincott leave last night, Grace?" "Grace—"Why, grandma, he started home at—"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

TRIBUTE TAKE-OFFS.

Cleveland Plain Dealer: "Did o' a Major Stiggins get the drop on you when you asked for his tribute?" "I guess he did. He fell on my neck."

Town Topics: Hewitt—"I don't believe in putting off until tomorrow what you can do today."

Chicago Record: "What do you read in summer?" "Congressional Record."

Indianapolis Journal: "This is the time of year," said the "Constitution," "when a man can send his wife out in the country to save expenses and can then loaf around town."

Brooklyn Life: Grandma—"What time did Mr. Lippincott leave last night, Grace?" "Grace—"Why, grandma, he started home at—"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

Chicago Post: "Have you made up your mind what college you will send your boy to?" "Oh, yes. That's all settled. 'What one is it?"

BAKING POWDER. ABSOLUTELY PURE. Makes the food more delicious and wholesome. BROWNING KING & CO.