

SCALPER ORDINANCE STICKS

Writ of Habeas Corpus Refused and Measure Held to Be Valid.

IT IS NECESSARY TO PROTECT THE PUBLIC

Judge Baker insists that the Council has Authority to Prohibit Hawking Tickets on the Streets.

The effort of local ticket brokers to defeat the new ordinance has resulted in a decisive failure. The application of C. Larson for a writ of habeas corpus was argued at length before Judge Baker, who refused the writ and decided that the ordinance does not violate any principle of constitutional or personal rights.

The attorney who represented the brokers based his most vigorous contention on the fact that the ordinance prohibits the sale of tickets from windows or doorways, or on the street. He argued that every man has a right to do as he pleases with his own property, and that the tickets from a window could not possibly be construed as inimical to the public safety or welfare.

Judge Baker differed very decidedly from the view. He suggested that the sale of railroad tickets on the street or from a window or doorway was dangerous to the public welfare. He made a distinction between the sale of tickets and that of other articles with which the people are more familiar.

MYERS RUNS AGAINST STATE

Accused by Partner of Attempted Intimidation in the Moore Case.

Fred Myers, known among the backmen as "Shoenie" Myers, was arrested upon the complaint of William Partchner, who charges him with having attempted to intimidate him in the interests of Charles Moore, who is accused of the murder of John DeMoline. Partchner was the best witness who appeared before the coroner's jury, his testimony being clear and intelligible in every particular.

Getting Warm for Zacharia.

The first really sensational testimony in the Zacharia-Nathan arson case was brought out yesterday when John Clark, former employe of the firm, was placed on the stand. Clark testified that he was employed to deliver goods and act as a sort of man on all work around the establishment.

Ask for Arbitrary Instructions. The evidence in the case of the state against the Bartley bondmen is all before the jury, but if a new contention of the state is sustained the duty of the jury will be merely perfunctory. Yesterday Atorney General Smyth asked the court to summarily instruct the jury to find that the testimony in regard to the defalcation, as shown by the records offered in evidence, is conclusive. This is a point that was not raised in the previous trial of the case.

Lincoln Hotel Troubles.

Judge Munger Wednesday dissolved the injunction issued against the Penn Mutual company and issued a restraining order against the Lincoln Hotel company restraining the hotel company from taking away from its hotel any of the property or allowing employees to injure or carry off any property. The company is also restrained from acting in such a manner as will tend to destroy the patronage of the hotel, pending the final settlement of the case.

Discarded Flues Are Used

Wooden Railroad Fence Posts Replaced by New Iron Ones Manufactured from Engine Flues.

The practical working of an idea originated by General Superintendent Calvert of the Burlington has proven a success. It is the conversion of old and discarded locomotive flues into fence posts for use along the lines of the Burlington.

GASOLINE BURNS HER HANDS

Mrs. George Nelson Suffers Excruciatingly While Striving Pluckily to Extinguish a Fire.

While Mrs. George Nelson was preparing her midday meal in her rooms on the second floor of the frame flat at 1515 Farnam street yesterday morning her gasoline stove suddenly flamed up and set fire to a paper around it. The flames spread in a flash. Mrs. Nelson rushed over and attempted to extinguish them. Her hands and arms were painfully burned before she gave up and turned her attention to saving what clothing she could.

The fire spread through the two rooms occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Nelson and burned everything in them. The department soon extinguished the fire. The building was not damaged. Mr. Nelson estimates his loss at $50. He had no insurance.
