Thousands of Excited Men Block the Right of Way and a Boulder in Circle of Fire Delays Traffic for Several Hours.

CLEVELAND, July 23 .- A Euclid avenue car loaded with passengers was wrecked by an explosion of nitroglycerine or guncotton shortly after 11 o'clock tonight. Six persons were badly hurt, the names of the injured being: Mrs. E. C. Martin, 79 Alanson street, compound fracture of the skull, right arm broken and internal injuries, which will probably prove fatal. E. C. Martin, right arm badly cut and bruised about legs and body. Mrs. Catherine Harris, 25 Cornfrew street, injured by shock. A. E. Smith, 69 Vienna street, injured about legs and body.

Albert E. Fassett, 12 Wallace place, legs injured. Dora Schessler, 11 Oakdale street, bruised about the body. The explosion tore out the front end of the car, smashed all the windows and destroyed the brake. After considerable difficulty the car was stopped and a call for ambulances was rung in. The motorman was dazed by the shock, but the conductor, Frank Schroeder of St. Louis, escaped injury. The force of the explosion was so great that it shook all the houses in the neighborhood and was heard for two or three miles.

The identity of the person who placed the explosive on the track is not known. Persons living in the neighborhood say they saw a man in a buggy stop at the corner of Kensington street and get out by the railroad track. He remained there a short time and then drove rapidly away.

Within a few minutes after the explosion a crowd of a thousand people assembled, and the injured, who were suffering from the shock, were cared for until the ambulances arrived. Most of them were not seriously injured, their hurts being confined to bruises about the feet and legs. Mrs. Martin fainted before she was taken from the car. All were taken to their homes in ambulances. The motorman on the car said: managed to get out of the vestibule of the arrives. The strike, of course, has caused contained the car and then fell to the street, but he siderable trouble and expense to our comought to be proud of their representatives. the passengers from the wreck.

Car Remains on Track

Passengers who were on the car say the explosion seemed to lift the whole front end of the car and it ripped up the floor for more than half the distance from the front end. The car was, in fact, a complete wreck, but, strange to say it did not leave the rails and was taken to the barns by the next outward bound motor.

The police were quickly summoned to the scene of the explosion and a force of men was detailed to investigate, with a view of running down the person who placed the explosive on the track. A boy living on the corner saw the mysterious man in the buggy. He said he noticed the buggy drive up there and stop and saw the man get out. He fumbled about the rails for a minute or two and then jumped into the buggy and drove away at a gallop. There seems to be no doubt now that Mayor Farley will call out the three or four available military companies in this city in addition to those already under arms. The call will include the battery of artillery, and the governor may be requested to send other troops to the city.

In the vicinity of the Holmden avenue barns today there was continuous rioting for three or four hours. Every car that passed was attacked with stones, and several pistol shots were fired at them. There was a lively fusiliade at one time, the nonunion crews returning the fire. The only person hurt was a woman, who was shot in the finger as she stood in her doorway. The police made twenty-five arrests in that neighborhood.

Rioting continued all along Broadway tonight and it took three squads of police as many hours to escort three cars a distance of four miles to the barns. Fifteen or twenty of the strikers were taken into cus tody.

Later reports from those injured show that they were burt much worse than at first supposed. It is now said that Mrs. Harris suffered a fracture of the skull and may die, while F. A. Smith had both legs broken. Three or four other persons in addition to those whose names are given above were hurt, but none seriously.

BROOKLYN STRIKERS ARE BEATEN.

All Lines Except the Nassau in Brook lyn Run on Usual Schedule.

NEW YORK, July 23.—The trolley car strike, both in Manhattan and Brooklyn, seems to be practically at an end. General Master Workman Parsons, at the meeting today, launched the scheme for a new political party, and at the same time urged upon the delegates of the various trades unions in Greater New York the expediency of contributing to a fund to aid the strikers, and the delegates promised their support. This is what probably causes Master Workman Parsons and Deputy Master Workman Pines to promise important developments in the strike situation this week. It is a fact, however, that both yesterday and today cars were being run under almost normal headway on all the lines, except the Nassau, throughout Brooklyn, even to the various branches, and carrying large numbers of passengers. In New York, except for the presence of several hundred policemen on Second avenue and guards about the power houses, no sign of a strike was apparent. There has been no delay in trolley car service in Manhattan, on any of the ines, except on the Second avenue line, and that is effected very little.

It is stated by the police officials that tomorrow or Tuesday, at the farthest, most those of Saturday. pany, but I am glad to say that nearly all the lines were able to run today on regular themselves that they had been able to tie up traffic to Coney Island, but they cannot boast of that now, for tomorrow we will be carrying all who want to go. I am sorry for the men who were led astray by profes sional agitators. I am willing to take back the men who left their positions on the Brooklyn Heights line, but I am determined that none of the Nassau line men will be reinstated as motormen or conductors."

In strike headquarters the men of the Nas sau line assembled. Master Workman Par sons did not appear. District Master Workman Pines was busy trying to encourage the strikers. He told them that even if the strike were unsuccessful, still they would have the satisfaction of having rebelled against the evil system of hours and wages introduced and maintained by Rossiter. Mr. Pines added that if a certain section of the press and corporations magined that the strke would be over in a day or so they would soon discover they were badly mistaken. He said that by Tuesday or Wednesday all the lines of the Brook lyn Rapid Transit company would be tied up as tight as a drum.

Situation Serious at Evansville. EVANSVILLE, Ind., July 23 .- The striking miners held a big meeting at the Central Labor union hall today and discussed the strike situation. After the meeting the head of the police department, Detective Fred Brennecke and Sheriff Koepke called upon John Ingle and asked him to disarm his negro miners. He said he would willingly to so if he had assurances that the striking miners would not carry arms. He said that while his men carried arms openly the strikers did not display their weapons. The situation still remains serious.

Cashier of a Leading Lincoln Bank Says Prosperity is Here and the Financial Institutions Give Proof of It.

LINCOLN, July 23 .- (Special.) - The fusion campaign managers are preparing to revive the department of publicity that was maintained in the state house last year for the exploitation of popocratic theories and misstatements and steps have already been taken toward securing the publication in the fusion press of the state of an article seeking to show that the banking institutions of Nebraska are in an unsound condition. This is but a repetition of the feeble attempt made by the state officials last year to cause a panic while President McKinley was in the state by hiring an irresponsible person to issue a circular from the capitol building calling attention to the fact that while the demand liabilities of all the banks in the state at that time was $53,095,755, the cash on hand amounted to only $5,710,880. This statement was so idiotic in its purpose that it was laughed at by fusionists all over the state. The person who conceived this popocratic argument was employed by the state house officials at a salary of $10 per week and was furnished with an office in the capitol building along with other conveniences.

The same person, whose name is T. H. Tibbles, is again at work on the same kind of an article, intending to show that on account of the decrease in the amount of cash carried in the various banks they are in a shaky condition and that there is not as much money available in Nebraska at the present time as there was a year ago.

"The banks of Nebraska are certainly to be congratulated that they are enabled by the restored confidence of the people and their depositors to invest the money placed on deposit," said the cashier of one of the Lincoln banks, in speaking of the cash on hand in the banks as an indication of the prosperity of the state. "It is of course true that the banks in Nebraska do not carry nearly so much money as they did during the boom times, but the reason for this must be evident to every thinking man. During the five years beginning in 1892, when there was an almost incessant run on the banks by suspicious depositors, it was necessary to carry a large amount of actual eash on hand, but with the return of confidence came a change in the banking business and it was no longer necessary to overload the vaults with currency, when there was no demand for it. Increase in Bank Deposits.

"There certainly is no better evidence of the prosperity of the state than the enormous increase in bank deposits. If money deposited in a bank was kept in a vault the bank would have no source of revenue and the expenses of maintaining it would increase. The total cash and sight exchange or the available cash that belongs to Nebraska banks is about five times greater than during the panic times. This money, or a large portion of it, is on de-Colonel Ingersoll died poor. He was a posit in eastern banks, drawing 2 per cent or more, and would be returned immediately upon demand. The cash on hand is, of course, less in amount than two or three years ago, but the one direct cause for this state of affairs is the renewed confidence

> The following is a sample of the kind of political arguments that were ground out for the official campaign committee by Tibbles last year for the munificent salary of $10 per week:

The last report of the condition of the 493 banks, state and national, doing business in the state has caused a good many o put on their thinking caps. It appears that the banks are owing demand liabilities to the amount of $53,095,755 and the total cash in their possession only amounts to $5,710,880. Here is a pretty state of affairs— $1 of money and $10 of wind. The limit of safe banking has always been considered $1 of money to $4 of credit, but in these days of sound money the banks are going it six petter. That statement shows the frail foundation upon which all business rests in this state. A single breath would knock the whole row of cards down. But suppose we only had a gold standard and only gold Where would we be was legal tender. Instead of having $5,710,880 to pay off their indebtedness of $53,095,753, they would have only $2,461,770, or $1 of money to $26 of wind. Wind is a pretty good thing but if too much of it is forced into any receptacle it is sure to burst. If only one-tenth of the banks' creditors should take notion that they wanted their money the whole 493 would go up the flume in fifteen minutes. The time for another panic is close at hand. This bank report shows that the conditions which produce panics are already here Deputy Insurance Commissioner Bryant says that he doesn't care whether the insurance commissioner rides on a railroad pase or not, but he seriously objects to charging up mileage if the examiner is favored, as examiners have been. Mr. Bryant will insist on having all fees paid at the office of the insurance commissioner and will not permit the examiner to receive any compensation at all from the companies he examines. The examination of insurance companies will begin next month.

Operation of Labor Law.

Nearly a month has passed since the female labor law went into effect and up to date only one Lincoln merchant has closed neon address Catholic children at the opera his store regularly every Saturday night at 7 o'clock. Proprietors of other stores where female labor is employed have adopted the custom of opening a little later in the morning and reducing the number of hours for the female employes to conform to the guest of Bishop Messmer. He will leave law by permitting them to report for duty three hours later than usual on Saturday morning.

Prof. C. E. Analey, who resigned from the chair of English literature of the State university last week to study law, has accepted a position with the faculty of the Iowa State university.

Attorney Charles O. Whedon and Judge Robert Ryan will leave Lincoln tomorrow for San Francisco to meet the First regiment when it arrives in port. Both have sons in the regiment.
