The indications are tonight that the troops will be unloaded from the transport and marched to the Presidio tomorrow forenoon. There will be a big demonstration along the line of march. Along with the Nebraakans are the 257 Utah men, comprising the battery that did such good work. There is a very friendly feeling between the troops of the two states, coming from the way they supported each other on the field.

Associated Press Story.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 30 .-- The untimely arrival of the United States transport Hancock, having on board the First Nebraska regiment and two batteries of the Utah artillery, completely destroyed all the arrangements which had been made for a royal reception and an enthusiastic welcome to the fighting volunteers returning crowned with their laurels.

The Hancock dropped anchor in the stream shortly before midnight last night. The committees here from Nebraska and Utah had given up all idea of the vessel's arriving earlier than this morning and had prepared to be up at dawn today to greet the expected ship. Tugs and launches had been chartered and Governor Poynter of Nebraska had planned with all care and detail to be the first man aboard the Hancock and welcome the heroes from his state back to American soil.

But there were no reception committees affoat at midnight, and only one small delegation of Nebraska people, headed by Judge Robert Ryan of Lincoln, and C. O. Whedon of the same city, accompanied the customs house officials and the correspondents on the race down the bay.
