There was some discussion benefited and damaged, the city attorney over the right of the council to divert the believed that the offer of Mr. Harr to remoney from the allotments to what would be virtually the lighting fund and the resolution failed to pass, Mercer then said that he had brought the matter up at the request of the chairman of the Board of Public Works, as that official had said that hereafter the board would not carry out instructions which involved the expenditure of the allotments for anything but street

City Engineer Rosewater, chairman of the board, said that such was the case and that he did not think in the first place that the allotments were legal. The effect of them was to do away with the functions of the board and vest them in each councilman for his own ward. This was contrary to the provisions of the charter.

Mercer then put the question whether the board would refuse to perform work ordered by the council when the necessary funds were provided. Mr. Rosewater replied work and deprived it of the necessary funds not legally enter into any agreement to good. divide the city's funds, which were intended its instructions.

Stuht said that the allotment system had replied that it could not be compared to districts and a superintendent placed in charge of each, who was not dependent on political favor for his position.

Veto of the Mayor.

Mayor Moores returned with his veto the resolution authorizing the lighting of the streets for the Ak-Sar-Ben parade at a cost of $2,500, the bill to be paid when funds were available. He stated his reasons in part as follows:

A prospective deficit of at least $10,000 confronts the city in the lighting fund and yet the council refuses to take any action toward cutting down the expenses in that fund. When the levy was passed over my rete, members of the cauncil who voted for it assured the city engineer and the city physician that they realized that the funds for their departments were inadequate, by that they would replenish these from the general fund. When, on account of the low levy for the fire fund, the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners was compelled to close the Harney street engine house and discharge the men on duty there, the coun-cil pledged itself to transfer $7,500 from the general fund to the fire fund in order that the Harney street company might be re-employed. Acting upon that suggestion and promise, the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners opened the engine house and reemployed the men discharegd, but no transfer of the promised $7,500 has been made. All of those outstanding promises are as yet unfulfified and cannot be fulfilled, since all the available money in the general fund is

I regard the Ak-Sar-Ben parades as well nigh indispensable to the prosperity of Omaha and I believe that the city can well afford to spend $2,500 or double that amount yearly in making them a success. I did my best when the 1899 tax levy was made to provide funds for this purpose, but my veto of that levy was overriden. The available funds of the city are now exhausted and for that reason it is impossible to set aside $2,500 for these parades. I regret the ne-cessity of this action, but any other course would be illegal and would be lacking in good faith. I therefore veto the resolution.
Respectfully,
FRANK E. MOORES, Mayor.

Bingham said he wished to correct one statement of the mayor's. The promise to transfer $7,500 into the fire fund had been made on condition that the money was first collected from the railroads on the claims for viaduct and subway lighting. The money had never been collected. He was aware that the council could not pass the resolution strictly according to law, but he believed the people and all the interests of the city would sustain the action.

Lobeck said that the council had at first fixed the prospective needs of the fire department at $125,000, but that the mayor had advised that the amount be cut 5 per cent. On his statement that the department could stand it the cut had been made. By a unanimous vote the veto was not sus-

The Midway concessionaires came in for a share of the wetting, as there was hardly a building along the street that did not leak. In some where there were pictures, tapestry and goods kept for sale, the damage was considerable. In one or two instances the back water from the street flooded the apartments to the depth of several inches, destroying floor bric-a-brac and floor orna-

Within five minutes all the members of the party were drenches to the skin. Their bedding was thoroughly soaked and they presented a sorry sight as they waded through the water in going the short distance from the camp to the Transportation building. The Indians themselves have looked over the two locations and express a preference for the place where they are now camped. They say that if they should be moved to the Bluff tract and an other such a storm should come on many of them would be drowned before they could reach a place of shelter.

[LETTER TO MES. PINEHAM NO. 29,602]

"Two years ago I was a great sufferer from womb trouble and profuse flowing each month, and tumors would form in the womb. Another Tumor I had four Removed by tumors in Lydia E. Pink-. two years. I went through ham's Vegetatreatment ble Compound with doctors, but they did me no good, and I thought I would have to resort to morphine.

'The doctor said that all that could help me was to have an operation and have the womb removed, but I had heard of Mrs. Pinkham's medicine and decided to try it, and wrote for her advice, and after taking her Vegetable Compound the tumors were expelled and I began to get stronger right along, and am as well as ever before. Can truly say that I would never had gotten well had it not been for Lydia E.

Pinkham's Compound." - MABY A.

What Mrs. Pinkham's Letter Did. "DEAR MRS. PINKHAM-After following the directions given in your kind letter for the treatment of leucorrhœa I can say that I have been entirely cured by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies, and will gladly recommend

The new wafer is just right (just crisp enough, just sweet enough, just gingery enough) and the sealed, air tight package keeps it just right until eaten. Ordinary ginger cakes and cookies, sold in the usual way, get moist and soggy in damp weather and hard and tough in dry weather. Uneeda Jinjer Wayfer keeps fresh and deliciously crisp and tender. Its high quality is assured by the fact that it comes from the ovens which
