

HOLCOMB IN SMALL FAVOR

Democrats Will Give Him Meager Support for Supreme Judgeship.

PROUT'S REPORT FINDS NO SHELF ROOM

Governor Refuses to Place the Document on File and Senate Committee Will Not Receive It Back.

LINCOLN, Aug. 1.—(Special.)—From the turn political affairs have recently taken in this city it is very evident that the Lancaster county delegation to the democratic state convention will not, as a whole, support Holcomb for the nomination for supreme judge. It is claimed by the anti-Holcomb men that twenty members of the delegation have already openly stated that they would not support him under any consideration and it is further stated that should he be nominated they will form an anti-Holcomb club in Lancaster county. This spirit has increased somewhat since the county convention was held last week and will probably have considerable effect in other counties.

No Meeting Place for Report.

The somewhat famous report of the senate investigating committee will probably be given a resting place in the dead letter post-office at Washington, as both Senator Prout and Governor Poynter refuse positively to accept it from the mails. The report was left at the capitol building about two weeks ago during the absence of Governor Poynter, but when that officer returned it was commended back to the chairman of the committee, who refused to accept it. The committee will, however, be held in session until the first of September, and unless either of these gentlemen claim it within two weeks it will be disposed of as undesirable mail matter.

Nebraska Killed in Illinois.

FAIRBURY, Neb., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—Edward Schreber, who lived here until recently, was killed at Aurora, Ill., last Wednesday by the bursting of an empty wagon in a factory there and his body was brought here for burial today. He was 32 years of age and leaves a wife and two small children.

Nebraska News Notes.

The Aurora Red Men have organized a branch here. The Chicago crop in Colfax county promises a big yield. A large addition is being built to the Hamilton elevator at Lehigh.

Democracy on a Picnic.

The Lincoln adherents of democracy who have accepted an invitation to attend the annual picnic of the Jeffersonian club at Omaha, have chartered a special train for the trip. About two hundred people from Lincoln will attend and other disciples of the creed will be picked up from towns along the route. W. J. Bryan will accompany the Lincoln delegation.

Sisson Speaks at Trenton.

TRENTON, Neb., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—Rev. F. M. Sisson of Omaha gave his lecture, "From Between the Flow-Handles," to a crowded house at the Methodist Episcopal church. Mr. Sisson is a very forcible and eloquent speaker and the lecture was

NO FUSION IN HOLT COUNTY

Democrats and Silver Republicans Turn Down the Populists.

SARPY DEMOCRATS CONDEMN CORNELL

Auditor of State is Arraigned for His Administration of Office and is Urged to Lay Down His Duties.

O'NEILL, Neb., Aug. 13.—(Special Telegram.)—The populists and democrats held their county conventions here yesterday and each placed in nomination a full county ticket. An effort was made by the populists to fuse with the free silver republicans and the democrats, but it was unsuccessful. The silver republicans telling them that they were not looking for anything and did not care to fuse, and the democrats refusing to join them because the populists would endorse the democratic nomination for clerk of the district court. The delegates to the populist judicial convention in the sixteenth were instructed to support Attorney J. J. Harrington for judge of this district. The result of the two conventions today makes the outlook very promising for the republicans in Holt county.

YOUNG DROWNS IN SALT CREEK

Telegraph Operator Seized with Cramp in Swollen Stream.

LINCOLN, Aug. 13.—(Special Telegram.)—A young child, a telegraph operator, met his death by drowning while bathing in Salt Creek, near this city, yesterday afternoon. With several friends, young rode to the state penitentiary in a street car and from there started in the direction of the creek. One of the party dared the rest to swim the stream, which was high and running swiftly, but young jumped in and swam around a bend and out of sight. His companions thinking he was trying to frighten them, paid no attention to the disappearance at first, but later a search was instituted. No trace of the man has been discovered, and it is thought that after passing the bend he succumbed to a cramp and went to the bottom. The creek has been dragged, but the body has not been found. Young was married and has parents living in this city.

School Lands Are Leased.

SIDNEY, Neb., Aug. 13.—(Special Telegram.)—Fifty-three thousand acres of school lands were leased here on Friday and Saturday, Land Commissioner Wolfe conducting the sale. Fifty thousand dollars bonus was the total received. There is still about 6,000 acres left in this county.

Harvey at Hartington.

HARTINGTON, Neb., Aug. 13.—(Special Telegram.)—Last night "Coin" Harvey lectured to a fair audience on "Laws of Civilization." Mr. Harvey devoted the entire lecture to the story of free silver. He conceded that property had returned but that it was temporary. The audience made little demonstration.

Democracy on a Picnic.

The Lincoln adherents of democracy who have accepted an invitation to attend the annual picnic of the Jeffersonian club at Omaha, have chartered a special train for the trip. About two hundred people from Lincoln will attend and other disciples of the creed will be picked up from towns along the route. W. J. Bryan will accompany the Lincoln delegation.

Sisson Speaks at Trenton.

TRENTON, Neb., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—Rev. F. M. Sisson of Omaha gave his lecture, "From Between the Flow-Handles," to a crowded house at the Methodist Episcopal church. Mr. Sisson is a very forcible and eloquent speaker and the lecture was

IPPECAC IS SCARCE.

One of the Sovereign Remedies for Children, or most of them, will be pleased to hear that there is a scarcity of ippecac, reports the New York Press. This emetic is one of the sovereign remedies for children. The Rio variety is well known to the drug trade in the United States, while the importation of the Carthagen variety is prohibited by the customs authorities of Brazil. But the increasing scarcity of the Rio variety has directed attention to the Carthagen or New Granada root which, in appearance, does not differ materially from the Brazilian root, excepting that the rings which characterize ippecac are less conspicuous.

It is in its physiological effects that the Carthagen ippecac is supposed to differ from the Brazilian variety, the former containing less emetine than the latter, and owing its activity more to the active principle "cephaline," which is understood to have a different action from that of emetine. The prohibition of Carthagen ippecac is no doubt justifiable in view of the meager information regarding the physiological action of the drug as compared with Rio ippecac, on which the efficacy of ippecac as a therapeutic agent is based. It is surprising that physiological research to determine the action of cephaline, the alkaloid which distinguishes the Carthagen variety, has not been undertaken earlier. In this respect the history of the two varieties of ippecacuanha is in contrast with that of many other remedial agents which have been the subject of pharmacological study.

LONG DISTANCE AUTOMOBILES.

Proposal to Run Coaches from New York to Philadelphia.

History sometimes moves in circles. The implements of one generation are sometimes the tools of another. The automobile company in New Jersey that is illustrating both of these saws, reports the New York Tribune. It has just multiplied its capitalization of $100,000 by twelve and it is going to run more automobiles, and on the other hand, to supply seed, to be automobile establishments in various towns of New Jersey, and the president is quoted as saying: "We will establish a connecting system between New York and Philadelphia."

Democracy on a Picnic.

The Lincoln adherents of democracy who have accepted an invitation to attend the annual picnic of the Jeffersonian club at Omaha, have chartered a special train for the trip. About two hundred people from Lincoln will attend and other disciples of the creed will be picked up from towns along the route. W. J. Bryan will accompany the Lincoln delegation.

Sisson Speaks at Trenton.

TRENTON, Neb., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—Rev. F. M. Sisson of Omaha gave his lecture, "From Between the Flow-Handles," to a crowded house at the Methodist Episcopal church. Mr. Sisson is a very forcible and eloquent speaker and the lecture was

FIREMEN ARE LAID TO REST

Two Victims of Mercer Fire Receive Last Attention of Friends.

DEAN FAIR EULOGIZES CITY'S SERVANTS

Fitting Words Are Spoken Over Brave Men Who Died in Duty's Cause—Many Firemen and Policemen Are Present.

With imposing ceremonies befitting the burial of heroes, George Bendisen and Otto Gieseke, two of the four firemen who were killed at the Mercer block fire Wednesday night, were consigned to their final resting places Sunday afternoon. The incidents attending the rites of each were decidedly similar. There were the grieving relatives, whose heart-rending sorrow was pitiful to behold; there were the former comrades of the dead men, strong, magnificently built firemen, whose drawn faces gave evidence of their sincere sympathy and sorrow; there were the funeral orators, the flowers, and the music, and above all there was the honor and respect paid the memories of the dead men, such as is only bestowed upon heroes.

DEAN FAIR EULOGIZES CITY'S SERVANTS

The funeral of George Bendisen was held in Washington hall at 2 o'clock. It was conducted under the auspices of the Danish Brotherhood, of which the deceased was a member, and the exercises were participated in by the members of this organization and a large number of policemen and firemen, the latter being headed by Chief Redell. Rev. Mr. Anderson delivered the funeral address. The remains were taken to Springwell cemetery for interment.

DEAN FAIR EULOGIZES CITY'S SERVANTS

In the cozy little parlor of the home at Twelfth and Harney streets, where Otto Gieseke had lived with his mother and brothers, the funeral of young Gieseke was held. The parlor was a perfect bower of roses and the music, which represented the admiration of many sorrowing friends. One thing to contemplate at this funeral was that just in the rear of the cottage where Gieseke lay in his coffin was the scene of the dreadful catastrophe which had cost him his life, and the service seemed to be under the shadow of that awful calamity. There were young women and young men, and mothers—all of them friends of the once bright, happy Otto Gieseke—who with tear-dimmed eyes listened to the cheering words of comfort uttered by Dean Fair.

DEAN FAIR EULOGIZES CITY'S SERVANTS

This brave and daring young man—one of our Omaha firemen heroes—belonged to an organization that in all our American cities has characteristics of which we are justly proud. The fire departments of American cities stand out prominently as achievements which win our admiration and respect, and to other forces that the firemen in their communities, prove themselves equal to grappling with sudden emergencies and instantaneous dangers. It is to us out-landers a perfect marvel, how in a moment's notice a fireman reaches in a flash almost in every instance just the order which the case demanded. Quickness of decision, power of judgment, shrewdness, and unshakable courage are qualities which we see another by his side—unfettered by the shackles of a uniform. Our hero dead today is in your hands because he made the distance between the fire and the house in a day and a half or two days, or some such apparently fabulous time, and now that the little space of years has been bridged over by the temporary device of the railway coach, the fire of coaches again.

DEAN FAIR EULOGIZES CITY'S SERVANTS

It is hardly necessary to say that freight will be sent from New York to Philadelphia by an automobile coach, and that persons who are in a hurry to transact business will go that way at present, though that may not be far off, now that there is a line of comfortable, fast cars in New York and so for the present those who take such a long ride will take it for amusement. Thus, the coach which was the dire necessity of the former time becomes the plighting of the present.

LIVING BELLAMY FASHION.

Kansas Town in Which Co-Operation is the Basis of Success.

The little town of Morehead, the very northwest corner of Labecca county, Kansas, is probably the only town in the United States that is run on a co-operative plan to any extent. The little town has a population of about five or six people, but has adopted co-operative methods almost exclusively. It is situated on the Santa Fe railroad between here and Kansas City, and is about thirty miles north of here. It is the center of an agricultural section and the co-operative idea has been extended into the country, where several farms are run on the co-operative basis. The farmers raise their crops and divide up, so that one farmer has poor crops he need not suffer a total loss, as he would do otherwise.

DEAN FAIR EULOGIZES CITY'S SERVANTS

This brave and daring young man—one of our Omaha firemen heroes—belonged to an organization that in all our American cities has characteristics of which we are justly proud. The fire departments of American cities stand out prominently as achievements which win our admiration and respect, and to other forces that the firemen in their communities, prove themselves equal to grappling with sudden emergencies and instantaneous dangers. It is to us out-landers a perfect marvel, how in a moment's notice a fireman reaches in a flash almost in every instance just the order which the case demanded. Quickness of decision, power of judgment, shrewdness, and unshakable courage are qualities which we see another by his side—unfettered by the shackles of a uniform. Our hero dead today is in your hands because he made the distance between the fire and the house in a day and a half or two days, or some such apparently fabulous time, and now that the little space of years has been bridged over by the temporary device of the railway coach, the fire of coaches again.

DEAN FAIR EULOGIZES CITY'S SERVANTS

It is hardly necessary to say that freight will be sent from New York to Philadelphia by an automobile coach, and that persons who are in a hurry to transact business will go that way at present, though that may not be far off, now that there is a line of comfortable, fast cars in New York and so for the present those who take such a long ride will take it for amusement. Thus, the coach which was the dire necessity of the former time becomes the plighting of the present.

DEAN FAIR EULOGIZES CITY'S SERVANTS

This brave and daring young man—one of our Omaha firemen heroes—belonged to an organization that in all our American cities has characteristics of which we are justly proud. The fire departments of American cities stand out prominently as achievements which win our admiration and respect, and to other forces that the firemen in their communities, prove themselves equal to grappling with sudden emergencies and instantaneous dangers. It is to us out-landers a perfect marvel, how in a moment's notice a fireman reaches in a flash almost in every instance just the order which the case demanded. Quickness of decision, power of judgment, shrewdness, and unshakable courage are qualities which we see another by his side—unfettered by the shackles of a uniform. Our hero dead today is in your hands because he made the distance between the fire and the house in a day and a half or two days, or some such apparently fabulous time, and now that the little space of years has been bridged over by the temporary device of the railway coach, the fire of coaches again.

IVORY SOAP PASTE.

In fifteen minutes, with only a cake of Ivory Soap and water, you can make a better cleansing paste than you can buy.

DEAN FAIR EULOGIZES CITY'S SERVANTS

Fitting Words Are Spoken Over Brave Men Who Died in Duty's Cause—Many Firemen and Policemen Are Present.

With imposing ceremonies befitting the burial of heroes, George Bendisen and Otto Gieseke, two of the four firemen who were killed at the Mercer block fire Wednesday night, were consigned to their final resting places Sunday afternoon. The incidents attending the rites of each were decidedly similar. There were the grieving relatives, whose heart-rending sorrow was pitiful to behold; there were the former comrades of the dead men, strong, magnificently built firemen, whose drawn faces gave evidence of their sincere sympathy and sorrow; there were the funeral orators, the flowers, and the music, and above all there was the honor and respect paid the memories of the dead men, such as is only bestowed upon heroes.

DEAN FAIR EULOGIZES CITY'S SERVANTS

The funeral of George Bendisen was held in Washington hall at 2 o'clock. It was conducted under the auspices of the Danish Brotherhood, of which the deceased was a member, and the exercises were participated in by the members of this organization and a large number of policemen and firemen, the latter being headed by Chief Redell. Rev. Mr. Anderson delivered the funeral address. The remains were taken to Springwell cemetery for interment.

DEAN FAIR EULOGIZES CITY'S SERVANTS

In the cozy little parlor of the home at Twelfth and Harney streets, where Otto Gieseke had lived with his mother and brothers, the funeral of young Gieseke was held. The parlor was a perfect bower of roses and the music, which represented the admiration of many sorrowing friends. One thing to contemplate at this funeral was that just in the rear of the cottage where Gieseke lay in his coffin was the scene of the dreadful catastrophe which had cost him his life, and the service seemed to be under the shadow of that awful calamity. There were young women and young men, and mothers—all of them friends of the once bright, happy Otto Gieseke—who with tear-dimmed eyes listened to the cheering words of comfort uttered by Dean Fair.

DEAN FAIR EULOGIZES CITY'S SERVANTS

This brave and daring young man—one of our Omaha firemen heroes—belonged to an organization that in all our American cities has characteristics of which we are justly proud. The fire departments of American cities stand out prominently as achievements which win our admiration and respect, and to other forces that the firemen in their communities, prove themselves equal to grappling with sudden emergencies and instantaneous dangers. It is to us out-landers a perfect marvel, how in a moment's notice a fireman reaches in a flash almost in every instance just the order which the case demanded. Quickness of decision, power of judgment, shrewdness, and unshakable courage are qualities which we see another by his side—unfettered by the shackles of a uniform. Our hero dead today is in your hands because he made the distance between the fire and the house in a day and a half or two days, or some such apparently fabulous time, and now that the little space of years has been bridged over by the temporary device of the railway coach, the fire of coaches again.

DEAN FAIR EULOGIZES CITY'S SERVANTS

It is hardly necessary to say that freight will be sent from New York to Philadelphia by an automobile coach, and that persons who are in a hurry to transact business will go that way at present, though that may not be far off, now that there is a line of comfortable, fast cars in New York and so for the present those who take such a long ride will take it for amusement. Thus, the coach which was the dire necessity of the former time becomes the plighting of the present.

LIVING BELLAMY FASHION.

Kansas Town in Which Co-Operation is the Basis of Success.

The little town of Morehead, the very northwest corner of Labecca county, Kansas, is probably the only town in the United States that is run on a co-operative plan to any extent. The little town has a population of about five or six people, but has adopted co-operative methods almost exclusively. It is situated on the Santa Fe railroad between here and Kansas City, and is about thirty miles north of here. It is the center of an agricultural section and the co-operative idea has been extended into the country, where several farms are run on the co-operative basis. The farmers raise their crops and divide up, so that one farmer has poor crops he need not suffer a total loss, as he would do otherwise.

DEAN FAIR EULOGIZES CITY'S SERVANTS

This brave and daring young man—one of our Omaha firemen heroes—belonged to an organization that in all our American cities has characteristics of which we are justly proud. The fire departments of American cities stand out prominently as achievements which win our admiration and respect, and to other forces that the firemen in their communities, prove themselves equal to grappling with sudden emergencies and instantaneous dangers. It is to us out-landers a perfect marvel, how in a moment's notice a fireman reaches in a flash almost in every instance just the order which the case demanded. Quickness of decision, power of judgment, shrewdness, and unshakable courage are qualities which we see another by his side—unfettered by the shackles of a uniform. Our hero dead today is in your hands because he made the distance between the fire and the house in a day and a half or two days, or some such apparently fabulous time, and now that the little space of years has been bridged over by the temporary device of the railway coach, the fire of coaches again.

DEAN FAIR EULOGIZES CITY'S SERVANTS

It is hardly necessary to say that freight will be sent from New York to Philadelphia by an automobile coach, and that persons who are in a hurry to transact business will go that way at present, though that may not be far off, now that there is a line of comfortable, fast cars in New York and so for the present those who take such a long ride will take it for amusement. Thus, the coach which was the dire necessity of the former time becomes the plighting of the present.

DEAN FAIR EULOGIZES CITY'S SERVANTS

This brave and daring young man—one of our Omaha firemen heroes—belonged to an organization that in all our American cities has characteristics of which we are justly proud. The fire departments of American cities stand out prominently as achievements which win our admiration and respect, and to other forces that the firemen in their communities, prove themselves equal to grappling with sudden emergencies and instantaneous dangers. It is to us out-landers a perfect marvel, how in a moment's notice a fireman reaches in a flash almost in every instance just the order which the case demanded. Quickness of decision, power of judgment, shrewdness, and unshakable courage are qualities which we see another by his side—unfettered by the shackles of a uniform. Our hero dead today is in your hands because he made the distance between the fire and the house in a day and a half or two days, or some such apparently fabulous time, and now that the little space of years has been bridged over by the temporary device of the railway coach, the fire of coaches again.

IVORY SOAP PASTE.

In fifteen minutes, with only a cake of Ivory Soap and water, you can make a better cleansing paste than you can buy. Ivory Soap Paste will take spots from clothing; and will clean carpets, rugs, kid gloves, slippers, patent, russet leather and canvas shoes, leather belts, painted wood-work and furniture. The special value of Ivory Soap in this form arises from the fact that it can be used with a damp sponge or cloth to cleanse many articles that cannot be washed because they will not stand the free application of water.

A WORD OF WARNING.—There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the Ivory," they are not, but like all counterfeits, lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for "Ivory Soap" and insist upon getting it.

COPYRIGHT 1899 BY THE ROEBER & GAMBLE CO. CINCINNATI

LIKE DIAMOND-STUDDED WALLS.

Beautiful Appearance of the Interior

On the north side of the Osmond range of mountains, about four miles east of Eden creek, there is a natural cave of quite large dimensions, relates a Nevada paper. It is in the limestone formation and has the appearance of a cavern, and the appearance of a cave without difficulty made out a remarkable resemblance to the traditional figure of St. Anne.

John O'Rourke, the proprietor, discovered the figure three weeks ago. There had been a small rockslide on that side of the quarry and Mr. O'Rourke inspected the cliff every morning to make sure that it was safe for the men to work in that vicinity. One morning he was surprised to see a shining figure. He said nothing at all, however, but when it remained for weeks as bright and sharply defined as at first, he became interested and on a Saturday called the attention of some of his workmen to it.

The Italian immediately declared the figure to be that of St. Anne and proclaimed the appearance a miracle. Several priests visited the quarry, but who were could not be learned. Bystanders said the clergyman seemed much impressed with the figure.

Mr. O'Rourke himself believes there is something supernatural about the manifestation, although he refuses to say why. He was asked yesterday to have a stairway and platform built to enable pilgrims to reach the figure, but would not do so. A number of boys tried to climb the steep sides of the cliff, but were at once ordered by Mr. O'Rourke to come down.

The stone in which the figure has appeared is a solid face of limestone, and the figure seems to stand out in relief. In the sunlight it seemed to be of copper or brass, and when gazed at through a glass of faint radiance, such as reflected by bright metal, could be distinguished.

Belated's Hand at the Den.

Belated's hand will begin its sojourn in Omaha by experiencing the sensations incident to initiation into the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben. Immediately after the concert at the exposition grounds Monday night the band will leave for the Den, where they will be entertained by the knights. Incidentally the band will render a selection or two and the board of governors expect to make the evening one of the most interesting of the season.

SACRED IMAGE ON A CLIFF.

Belated's hand will begin its sojourn in Omaha by experiencing the sensations incident to initiation into the Knights of Ak-Sar-Ben. Immediately after the concert at the exposition grounds Monday night the band will leave for the Den, where they will be entertained by the knights. Incidentally the band will render a selection or two and the board of governors expect to make the evening one of the most interesting of the season.

Strange Figures Cut in Rock in a Mountain Quarry.

In these final days of the nineteenth century one does not look for miracles, but sometimes they do occur. A few miles away from here, in New Jersey, reports the Philadelphia Times, there is the manifestation of a miracle that is attracting thousands daily, all intent upon a glimpse of the divine work, for such they really believe it to be.

Long processions of people, mostly the Italians living in the neighborhood of the Oranges, are daily making their way to the stone quarry of John O'Rourke, half way up the steep side of the Orange mountain, to do homage to a peculiar yellowish spot in the side of the cliff. The figure is declared by those who have seen it to bear a striking resemblance to St. Anne, and not one of those who have made the pilgrimage could be induced to believe other than that the yellow spot in the cliff is an appearance of the saint and child as they are pictured in sacred paintings.

The place where the figure has appeared is at the west side of the quarry, and about fifty feet up the face of the cliff, which is

Drugs Prescriptions THE ALOE & PENFOLD CO., Largest Retail Drug House, 1608 FARNAM, OMAHA, OPPOSITE FAXTON HOTEL

The Framing of Pictures—

Has become an art with us—There are two ways of framing—one is the right way, the other is the wrong way—We have framed so many that we know only the right way—then we give you the largest assortment of mouldings to select from you ever saw in our life—Right up to date, too—Nothing adds so much to a room as a picture well framed—We invite visitors to our art department.

A. HOSPE,

We celebrate our 25th business anniversary Oct. 23rd, 1899.

Music and Art. 1513 Douglas.

The Latest News—

That is most interesting of all is the tan shoe bargains we have in women's shoes—We've taken a high priced line of ladies' vesting and kid top shoes—marked every one of them $3.00 a pair—this is no broken line to be closed out, but a much higher priced shoe that we have decided to give a little extra value in—To fully appreciate the shoe at the price you must see it—so see it is to buy it—It is to be the most satisfied shoe purchaser that has ever left our store—and some mighty well pleased people have left it.

Dr. Lyon's PERFECT TOOTH POWDER

AN ELEGANT TOILET LUXURY. Used by people of refinement for over a quarter of a century.

Drexel Shoe Co.,

Omaha's Up-to-date Shoe House, 1619 FARNAM STREET.

NO MORE WAKEFUL NIGHTS followed by weary days, if you take at meal time and before retiring. Efficacious as a tonic and decidedly pleasing to the taste. Invigorates but will not intoxicate. Awarded First Honors at Trans-Mississippi and International Exposition. When you order this tonic, your druggist give its full name with emphasis on "BLATZ."

Harvey at Hartington. HARTINGTON, Neb., Aug. 13.—(Special Telegram.)—Last night "Coin" Harvey lectured to a fair audience on "Laws of Civilization." Mr. Harvey devoted the entire lecture to the story of free silver. He conceded that property had returned but that it was temporary. The audience made little demonstration.

Dr. Lyon's PERFECT TOOTH POWDER AN ELEGANT TOILET LUXURY. Used by people of refinement for over a quarter of a century.

Drexel Shoe Co., Omaha's Up-to-date Shoe House, 1619 FARNAM STREET.