that the Keene colors have been in front The Futurity today was worth nearly $42,000. It was won by the favorite, and was altogether the most satisfactory futurity ever run. Twenty horses went to the post with the Keene trio. Chacornac. Virginia Earl and Doublet ruling favorite at 8 to 5. They were sent off with but a few minutes delay and were seen in the distance coming down the chute in a straight line through a cloud of dust. Modrine was first away with Doublet and Chacornac right beside him. It was work with hands and knees to get into the stretch and Spencer had Chacornac in front as they rounded the long turn. Near the judge's stand Brigadier came through from sixth place with a rush, cutting down Windmere, St. Finnan and Modrine, and being beaten by only a scant half length at the end.

The attendance was very large in spite of threatening weather. lot of youngsters reached the post and their noses were turned toward the barrier. In less than five minutes Fitzgerald caught them in line and yelled "come on." Every one of the score jumped at once, the white flashed past the starter in almost a perfect line. Down went the red flag and they were off on their journey in the shortest time ever seen at a big race. The last furlong pole was reached in safety without jostling or crowding, and then it was apparent that it was over, for Chacornac was going easily, Spencer having a bit up his sleeve in case of accidents, while every boy up was driving hard be

Brigadier was in second place, clear of the others, while Windmere staggered home a scant head in front of St. Fignan and there was little daylight between the others. Modrine, who had made the pace, had to be content with fifth place. Summaries:

His province is one of the most important in that gigantic system, both to the public and the corporation. Yet he is scarcely ever thought of by the patrons of the road, and the few who do know his name have the haziest sort of an idea of what he does and how he does it. In the first place, relates a New York exchange, Mr. Daniels is to a great degree responsible for the comfort of some 43,000,000 people every year-25,000,000 carried by the New York Central proper and 18,000,000 by its leased lines. He hears the complaints of the "kickers," arranges the schedules for trains, attends to the immense and varied advertising and is responsible for over 20,-000,000 tickets being properly printed and distributed.

Not an easy task, you say? It isn't; and only the most perfect system and mastery of detail as well as all the qualities of a diplomat combined with executive power could produce such perfect results as are found on the Central. A Product of the West.

Like many of New York's strong men, Mr. through various grades on the road, and when the war broke out he was, although only 19 years old, well on the way to a responsible executive position. He threw over this prospect, however, for the sake of the flag, and served Uncle Sam faithfully and these must be guarded against. To until the armies were disbanded in 1865.

If you left Chicago at 5 o'clock in the evening you did not get to New York until the second morning after. Now there are twice as many roads, and the run is made in about twenty-four hours, a saving of about eighteen hours in the running time. Then, too, the modern trains are unspeakably better than the old ones for comfort, and the roadbeds are now almost perfect. There is practically no dust or smoke, and the railroad travel in this country is now a luxury instead of a task and
