> To Collect a Delinquent Tax. WAHCO, Neb., Aug. 30 .- (Special.) -- Some stir is being made in official circles of this county over the collection of Swift and Company's delinquent taxes. The company has an ice plant in section 35-13-9, just north of Ashland, which includes about 240 acres of land, buildings and ice handling tools. The plant is considered worth $50,000, the tax is delinquent for three years and amounts to about $2,200, which the Swifts refuse to pay, for the reason that it is an illegal tax. W. L. Selby, the company's atorney, was in this city yesterday and stated that the company would abandon the plant before it would pay such an exorbitant tax. The county commissioners consider the tax equitable and propose to proceed to collect
