Strength of Outside Markets Brings Chicago Wheat Up Several Fractions.

EVERYTHING ON 'CHANGE CLOSES HIGHER

Continued Buying of September by Elevator People a Feature-Corn Up for September, with Lower Futures.

CHICAGO, Sept 6.-Wheat was influenced by the strength of outside markets and by the improvement in the export demand. It ruled strong all day and closes %3%c higher. A feature was the continued buying of September by elevator people, Corn closed We higher for September, but a shade lower for December. Oats closed With higher and provisions 502'ye higher for October products, Wheat opened unchanged for December and a little lower for September, the latter on account of the heavy receipts in the northwest. Little wheat was offered for cale and shortly after the opening the change in the aspect of outside markets which have been relatively weaker than Chicago for some time past, but which to day were comparatively stronger, induced some covering by the more timil shorts and a good advance in prices took place. December opened at 11971%c, while September on the carried prices back fractionally, but after a long period of comparative duliness during which December hung around 714471%c, the continued strength of the northwest and other outside markets and the improvement in the export demand, increased the volume of trading in the speculative market and again advanced prices. The strength shown by September was especially noticeable. There was a good demand for this from elevator people and shorts, and the spread between September and December narrowed to 1½c. The strength was in spite of the liberal country movement and free offerings. Minneapolis and Duluth received 740 cars, against 373 cars last week and 750 a year ago. Chicago receipts were 255 cars, 19 of contract grade. Total primary receipts were 355,000 bu., compared with 1,304,000 bu. a year ago. Atlantic port clearances of wheat and flour aggregated 1,000 bu. New York reported anvwhere from 60 to 72 boatloads worked for export, and Duluth reported 300,000 bu. of that amount worked from there. Bradstreet's reported an increase in the world's visible of 2521,000 bu. This was unexpected, but had little effect. Buying by shorts was quite heavy during the late trading and the best prices of the day were eached shortly before the close. December advanced to 71½c and closed at 71½c 1000 fermer at 11½c.

Corn was firm for September and about teady for deferred futures. Reputs of serious damage by hot dry wea on account of the heavy receipts in the northwest, Little wheat was offered for cale and shortly after the opening the ficularly for lard. There was some realizing through commission houses, but prices advanced steadily under a good general demand and closed at about the top. Cables were higher and confidence in present market prices was expressed. At the close October pork was 12½c higher, at $3.25; October 507½c higher, at $5.3505.37½; October ribs, 12½c higher, at $5.32½405.35.

St. Paul's Report Followed by Large Buying-Tennessee Coal's Flight. NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—St. Paul was the central figure in the market today. The publication of the annual report with its great detail of facts and figures, all showing extraordinary prosperity, was the mo-tive of the buying, which was very large tive of the buying, which was very large and which carried the price steadily upward nearly 2 points. So wide a movement in a standard stock of St. Paul's character was looked to arouse some sympathetic strength in the general market. The St. Paul movement in the upper stages of the advance showed tome signs of manipulation for the purpose of sustaining the general market. There was quite a lot of free selling wherever there was a notable advance in price and the last hour was given over to an active realizing movement, which clipped off half of St. Paul's gain and carried prices generally below last night's level. The slump in call money to 6 per cent induced the realizing. The exceptions were a number of usually obscure stocks which were marked up in quite a sensational manner.

exceptions were a number of usually obscure stocks which were marked up in quite a sensational manner.

Tennessee Coal dashed up and down in an eracte manner all day, climbing 3½ points in the first hour and dropping again to within 3 points of last night. The feverish demand for this stock is attributed to a large short interest which finds itself obliged to settle with a practical corner in the stock according to the current rumor. This is Wall street's effort to explain the movement, which seems extraordinary without it, in a stock which has paid no dividend for twelve years and which has a preferred stock ahead of it upon which six years' dividends have accumulated and are payable before a dividend is due on the common.

The movement in Colorado Fuel, which reached about 4 points, was in close sympathy with Tennessee Coal. See was that of 3 points in Hocking Coal. There were rather sensational advances also in Pullman, the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburg stocks, which gained about 7 points each, and Colorado Midland preferred. Southern Pacific and Central Pacific recovered about 1½ of their recent declines and the Norfolk & Western stocks and the coalers advanced temporarily, but more than lost the gain. Sugar underwent the same experience, rising 2 points on the declaration of the regular dividend and then reacting an extreme 3%.

The New York municipal stocks all weakened during the day, Brooklyn Transit having declined 2½ after an initial rise and Consolidated Gas showing a loss of 3½. New York Airbrake dropped 8 points. Republic Steel, after gaining 15, dropped abruptly 3½ and American Smelting was conspicuously weak. The marked activity of the trading was very unevenly distributed, but brought forward quite a large number of unusually lacetive stocks.

There was no marked change in the condition of the money market today. Call and time money rates were quite stillly held. There was a further deposit of $150,-500 at the subtreasury for shipment to New Orleans. New York exchange at interior years indica afternoon, when New York bought specialities, causing strong close at the top. St. Paul touched the record, 139%. Norfolk issues, the Louisvilles and Southern Railway preferred were wanted. Spanish 4s were 59%; Tintos, 46.7-16; Anacondas, 11.7-16. Gold in bars to the amount of £178,000 were bought by the bank. This week's inflow amounts so far to £416,000 and the price is caster by 19d. Money is stagnant. Calls are at 2 per cent. Bills are steadler and cyery scarce. very scarce.

FAN NIPS HIS BEARD.

When Jonathan Pettigrew of Burr Oak. Kan., returns to his wife and children it is a question whether they will recognize him as the paterfamilias. He left his home a couple of days ago and reached Chicago late couple of days ago and reached Chicago late yesterday afternoon, relates the Chronicle of that city. He is sorry he ever came here to sell stock and seek enjoyment. Besides the cattle he chaperoned to the stock yards he brought along a most luxuriant growth of the hirsute appendages, dropping down from each chin gracefully and with so much artistic design that Lorado Taft, had he seen him, might have been tempted to hire him as a model of the typical farmer. No him as a model of the typical farmer. No longer has Jonathan that extraordinary growth of beard. And an electric fan was the cause of it all. Naturally, like all other strangers in a olg city that raise corn and potatoes and hings when they are at home and see the inside of a metropolis like Chicago once in lifetime, Mr. Pettigrew, after he had sold his cattle and stuffed his pockets with bank rolls, wandered almiessly down into State street. He had been told of Chicago's in-teresting "levee" and he was prepared for thugs, confidence men and others. Disressing to account, poor Jonathan's reading and precautions had not prepared him for

Mr. Pettigrew struck a saloon a little south of Congress street. He had frequently drunk beer in Burr Oak and he promptly ordered a 5-cent lunch of the Chicago brand, He heard a "z-r-r" at the other end of the bar. Being of a curious frame of mind, he went to investigate. He got too near. The bre ze, like a magnet, attracted the beard. The beard, like a child near a rattle, was willing enough to offiliate with the wind-mill. A commotion followed. The beard and the fan became jumbled together, the farmer unwillingly began to do a buck step, the fan kept revolving, customers crowded around—yes, there was plenty of excitement.

The bartender, thoughtful man, rushed to the rescue. He grabbed the fan and the farmer backed away. Then Jonathan looked in the mirror. He was not himself. He had lost his most cherished article—his CATTLE—There is not much to be said about the cattle market today, as the trade was without new featurse of importance. The offerings were light, and as there was a good demand practically everything sold in good season and at prices that were not much different from yesterday.

No grass beef cattle were in the yards, at least none of any importance, and there were only a comparatively few loads of cornfed sieers. At the same time the packers all wanted supplies, and under the incattle changed hands at an early hour and at steady prices. While there were some pretty good cattle in the yards, there were none that could be called choice or fancy to put a top on the market.

Cows and helfers were in very moderate supply and the market was active at steady to a little stronger prices. Everything in the way of butcher stock was disposed of in a very short time.

Cows and helfers were in very moderate supply and the market was active at steady to a little stronger prices. Everything in the trade in that department of the market was active at steady to a little stronger prices. Everything in the trade in that department of the market was active at steady as compared with yesterday, but speculators seemed to want them a little more than they did yesterday, and for that reason the trade was brisker and the feeling better. Strange Disappearance of Child. LODI, S. D. Sept. 6.—(Special.)—The young son of John Hampton, a farmer living near this place, has been missing from his home for nearly three weeks and no race of him can be found. The parents are alarmed and fears are entertained that he may have wandered to the Vermillion river, which flows near the farm home, and been drowned. The lad is about 10 years old.
