NEWS IN CHURCH CIRCLES

Representatives of Home Mission Society in the City—Observance of Jewish Day of Atonement.
Miss Bishop, representative of the Home Mission society of Chicago, will conduct the Sunday evening services at Immanuel Baptist church, Twenty-fourth and Blinney streets. She is a very entertaining speaker and will have something of especial interest to say to the women. It is expected that a larger number of women from other Baptist churches will be present to hear the speaker. From Omaha Miss Bishop goes to Chattanooga, Tenn., where she will be permanently located.
The Omaha City Endeavor union will hold its September meeting in the Young Men's Christian association parlors Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. The annual election of officers will take place at this meeting.

and bringing the mind into the right attitude for it, namely, prayer, repentance and charity. Wednesday evening, the eve of atonement day, the subject of Rabbi Simon's address will be "Reconciliation." Thursday morning a sermon on "Justice" will be given, and in the afternoon the congregation will listen to their pastor's tribute to the dead.
A few changes have been made in the order of Sunday services at St. John's church, Twenty-fifth and California streets. Beginning with today low masses will be celebrated at 7, 7 and 9 o'clock, followed by high mass at 10:30. At the 9 o'clock mass there will be congregational singing by the pupils of St. John's school, and a short instruction will be given by Rev. Charles Coppens, P. J. The reverend fathers connected with the Creighton university will in turn preach at the 10:30 high mass. The well known orator, Mr. John A. Schenk, will preside at the organ, and the choir will be again under the able management of Mrs. C. Burkhard. St. John's school opened September 5 with an increased attendance, especially in the higher grades. The school is in charge of the Sisters of Mercy, and with Sister M. Mechthildis as principal and Sisters M. Laurentis and Borgia as her assistants.

ants the prospects for a successful school year are very bright.
The solemn consecration of St. Philomena's congregation to the sacred heart of Jesus will take place Sunday evening at 7:30. Bishop Scannell will give benediction of the blessed sacrament, assisted by a number of the local clergy. The sermon of the evening will be delivered by Father Smith of Council Bluffs.
At a meeting of the congregation of the Central United Presbyterian church Wednesday evening a committee of nine was chosen by ballot to take charge of the selection of a pastor. This consists of three from the session, Messrs. McCulloch, Gillis and Wallace; three from the trustees, Mr. Westergaard, Mr. Herdman and Mrs. Bowman; and three from the women of the church, Misses Finley, McAda and Bowman. So far the session has had in charge the correspondence and other details.
Evangelist J. A. Dooley and wife will return from Council Bluffs Monday, where they have been engaged in a ten days' meeting, and will commence holding meetings in the new tabernacle, corner of Fifteenth and Davenport streets, Monday evening at 8 o'clock.

The new church building of the First United Evangelical congregation will be dedicated tomorrow by Bishop Dubs of Chicago.
The choir of the First Methodist church will be in the place Sunday morning and evening. Director Kelly has arranged some excellent programs for both services, which will consist of organ, numbers, solos and anthems. There will be two tower hymns at each service.
Child Savings Institute.
One boy was sent to a home in Stanton, Ark., during the past week by the Child Saving Institute. One little girl was provided with a home at Long Pine, Neb., and another was taken to a home in South Omaha. Three homeless children were received for adoption during the week. The women in charge of the nursery department, there being so many homeless babies in the nursery, request friends of these little ones to help them in providing cribs, or little iron beds. Any one who can assist in this direction is asked to telephone the Child Saving Institute.
The sewing school has opened with a large number of pupils. There is a lack, however, of teachers and helpers in this important department.

The Sunday night gospel meeting will be conducted by Rev. A. E. Keable, who will use his large stereopticon in illustrating gospel themes and songs. These dissolving views are most impressive. The Sunday school will meet as usual at 2, and the open air Sunday school, near Twentieth and Poppleton, at 4:30.
The attendance at the kindergarten is larger than ever, and the outlook for this work is full of promise.
Y. M. C. A. Notes.
The men's meeting Sunday afternoon at 8 o'clock will be addressed by Rev. R. Dubs, D.D., of Chicago. This gentleman is a bishop in the United Evangelical church and is said to be a very strong speaker.
Physical Director Barnes is out on a vacation. He will visit the associations at Washington, Philadelphia, New York and Boston.
Plans are being laid for the gymnasium classes, which will open October 1. All classes will be covered this year—business and professional men, young men, high school students, working boys and school boys. Indoor athletics, base ball, basket ball, practical talks and special instruction will be among the features.

The regular monthly meeting of the board of directors will be held Tuesday at 4:30 p. m.
Great are the expectations for the boys' meetings this year. The first meeting will be held next Sunday at 3 p. m. Chairman Lindsay is now at work arranging for the opening meeting. All boys between 10 and 16 are invited.
The state committee has been hard at work this summer holding young men's Sundays in various parts of the state. Tomorrow they will be at Norfolk, where several speakers from Omaha will assist.
Shoots Tame Pigeons.
Three members of the Todtenhoop family, living at 2019 South Fifteenth street, were arrested on a warrant Friday night charging them with killing pigeons belonging to their next door neighbor, Fred Schoening. For several months Schoening has been raising select breeds of pigeons and owned more than half a hundred of the birds. They were so tame that the whole flock would come at Schoening's whistle and alight on his shoulders and arms. In the last three days Schoening says the members of the Todtenhoop family have been shooting the pigeons and eating them until the flock has been reduced to less than half its former size and the birds are so tame that no longer answer his call. Mr. and Mrs. Todtenhoop and two children were arraigned in police court yesterday and the hearing was set for next Wednesday.

Channell Gets Judgment.
Justice Long yesterday handed down a decision in the suit of Samuel M. Channell against the Nebraska Mercantile Mutual Insurance company, awarding plaintiff judgment for the full amount of his policy, $100. Notice of appeal was given. In this case the insurance company did not plead any defense except that the goods were over-insured and were not a total loss. In the trial of the case the company's attorney tried to show that there were grounds for belief that Channell set fire to the house, but the court ruled this evidence out because the defense had not pleaded it.
Negro Robs a Chinaman.
Joe Chung, proprietor of a Chinese laundry at 2233 Cumming street, complains to the police that a shrewd negro robbed his money drawer of $7. Chung said the colored man entered the laundry in a hurry and told him the building was to get to the rear. Chung made haste to get to the back of the laundry, and after examining the premises without finding traces of a black he returned, supposing he had been the victim of a joke. The money drawer was open and the negro and money were gone.
