76 games and losing 50, 503 per cent. The remainder of the teams finished in the following order: Detroit, Grand Rapids, St. Paul, Milwaukee, Kansas City and Buffalo. This year's Western league season has been marked by a remarkably close struggle. Not until a month ago did the race shape itself into any definite lines. Then Minneapolis and Indianapolis began to go to the front and from that until the last few days the race has been between the two clubs. President B. B. Johnson said today that, taken on the whole, it has been a successful season, it was infinitely between than last year, although it did not come up to the seasons of 1896 and 1897 financially. He also added that the next year of the Western league was a matter for grave consideration.

During the season forty-six shut-outs were administered. St. Paul proved handiest with the whitewash brush, shutting out opposing teams in nine games. Grand Rapids and Minneapolis, too, distributed numerous goose eggs, each team winning cight games of this sort. Indiahapolis was successful in six no-run battles, Buffalo and Kansas City in five each, while Detroit and Milwaukee only "Chicagoed" teams twice each. During the year, 135 games were won and lost by one run, Buffalo leading with twenty-two won and fourteen lost by one tally.

BRIGUS, N. F. Sept. 11 .- The Peary Harmsworth steamer Windward, Captain John Bartlett, from Etah, North Greenland, August 26, arrived here Sunday, reporting all well on board. It will be followed in a week by the Peary Arctic club's steamer Diana, Captain Samuel Bartlett, also from Etah. The Windward reports that all on board the Diana were well at the time the vessels separated.

The two steamers met at Etah August 12 and worked in company under the personal direction of Lieutenant Peary in collecting supplies for winter and equipment for next spring's campaign. The Windward was ice-bound in Allman bay on the north of Cape Sabine, from August 18, plished. 1898, to August 2, 1899, being in a sort of Esquimaux, were exempt from illness, accident or casualty of any kind.

His Class and Wins Easily.

DENVER, Colo., Sept. 11.—Kid Parker of Denver, champlon lightweight of the west, went out of his class and knocked out Frank Bartley of Binghamton, N. Y., in the third round of a bout scheduled for twenty rounds before the Colorado Athletic association tonight.

The men fought at 140 pounds, but Parker conceded about seven pounds. Bartley had much the advantage in height and reach. The men mixed it up from the start and after the first round paid little attention to science.

In the first round honors were even, Parker rushing Bartley, who evaded him cleverly, Parker once falling after missing a terrific right and left swing.

In the second round Parker set a fast pace, but Bartley was right with him and the second round Parker set a fast pace, but Bartley was right with him and the control of the second round Parker set a fast pace, but Bartley was right with him and the second round Parker set a fast pace, but Bartley was right with him and the second round Parker set a fast pace, but Bartley was right with him and the second round Parker set a fast pace, but Bartley was right with him and the second round Parker set a fast pace, but Bartley was right with him and the second round Parker set a fast pace, but Bartley was right with him and the second round Parker set a fast pace, but Bartley was right with him and the second round Parker set a fast pace to the second round Parker set a fast pace, but Bartley was right with him and the second round Parker set a fast pace to the second round Parker set a fast pace to the second round Parker set a fast pace to the second round Parker set a fast pace to the second round Parker set a fast pace to the second round with the second round In the second round Parker set a fast pace, but Bartley was right with him and in several warm exchanges had a shade the best of it.

Parker came up the strongest in the third round and forced Bartley over the ring, finally catching him with a stiff right swing on the jaw and knocking him out.

In the preliminary between Jim Scanlen of Pittsburg and Jack La Fonteise of Montana, middleweight, Scanlen's jaw was broken by a right swing in the first round, but he fought gamely until compelled to throw up the sponge in the fifth round.

A crowd of 5,000 persons witnessed the fight. Jack Stelzner was referee.

He also pushed a reconnaissance beyond Fort Conger to Cape Bereby, finding practically the same conditions of ice and sea as south of the former point. Subsequently he made a second trip to Fort Conger and in all four parties from the Windward reached that point and returned without further accident. As a result of the winter work four tons of provisions, two at Conger and the others distributed between Cape Sabine, Durville, Louis Napeleon, Frazer Sabine, Durville, Louis Napoleon, Frazer and other points not more than fifty miles apart, have been deposited and both natives and whites engaged in the work have been made so familiar with the route and caches that all risk to life and limb along this Lieutenant Peary's last sledge journey was an overland exploration westward from the winter quarters of the Windward, completely crossing Ellesmere land and connecting his work with that of Lieutenant Lockwood of the Greely expedition at the flord bearing the latter's name on the western flord. The case against Sighert Kahan, charged with selling policy tickets in his cigar store at Fifteenth and Dedge streets, was heard in police court Monday afternoon. To quote Deputy County Attorney Helsley it was a flasco. Witnesses who were called by the police because they furnished the information that Kahan sold the tickets to them denied they even knew what a policy ticket is. There was no evidence against the cigar store proprietor and he was discharged.

John Becker, a barber, told the attorney he had never seen a policy ticket and could not tell one if he saw it. "But you could tell one if it had the name policy ticket spelled out on it, couldn't you?" persisted the attorney.

"Well, yes, I might if the name was"

TUMBLED DOWN STONE STEPS Woman Receives Deep Cut on Head

While Trying to Escape from Custody of Policeman. Madge Edwards, a courtesan living at 101 South Ninth street, was seriously injured at the custody of Officer Riegleman late Saturday night. The woman fell down the flight of stone steps at the main entrance, striking her head on the sharp edge of the flagging and receiving a deep cut. She is now in the Clarkson hospital for treatment. The Edwards woman was arrested for fighting. While being led from the jailer's office up stairs to the matron's room to be searched she unexpectedly gave the officer a push, then turned and ran. Being intoxicated she missed her footing at the top of the steps leading from the door to the walk and fell clear to the bottom. The officer picked her up and carried her to the matron's room. where the city physician dressed the cut on the head. It was thought at first the skull was fractured. The next morning she was taken to her home, the doctor believing the injury was not serious. Later friends of the Walting to Hear from the National Executive Committee in Philadelphia.

In spite of the positive assertions on the part of the carpenter leaders that at least one-half of their men are at work, a canvass of the many contracts shows that very few men, either carpenters, bricklayers, plumbers or painters, are working, and each day from now until the matter is settled one way or the other will see less men at work. A number of carpenters have left the city to find employment elsewhere, pending the trouble. Some have gone to South Omaha, others to Council while others have gone still further from home. But in all instances they are recelving no higher wages than they did before the "walk-out" occurred. As near as can be learned the carpenters are now relying upon what they hear from the national executive committee in Philadelphia as to how to proceed. The facts leading up to and causing the "walk-out" have been laid before that committee and its sauction asked for. If the committee gives its approval of the course taken by the carpenters, then they will be in a position to order a general strike and thereby attempt to force the contractors, who are now holding out, to pay the demands made upon them. Should the committee decide that the carpenters have not given the contractors sufficient time in which to pay the increase asked for there is nothing left for the carpenters to do but to return to work at the old scale, give another notice for an increase and commence the fight over again. It is thought the carpenters will hear from Philadelphia today and that communication will be read at the meeting twenty-seven years ago. After being gradu- of the carpenters to be held in Labor temple in the evening. The Building Trades council will eneet Thursday night and it is expected that that body will take some action. Up to date, the council has refused to sanction the action of the carpenters and the appeal to the national executive committee was as much to get its sanction over the head of the local organization as it was to receive the financial aid of the national council which assistance local unions are will be pleased to learn that he is improv- entitled to when out on a legitimate and recognized strike.

Fraternal Parade Committee.

Delegates from a number of prominent fraternal orders met in the Commercial club parlors Monday night to organize a central committee to take charge of preparations for the fraternal parade which will be given Ak-Sar-Ben week. F. F. Roose called the meeting to order, R. O. Balley was made permanent chairman and M. J. Ford. jr., secretary. The parade was discussed in a general way, and it was decided that a strong effort would be made to get all the other orders interested in the movement at once. A committee on resolutions was appointed and the meeting adjourned to come together again, next. Thursday evening at the same place. Fraternal Parade Committee.

Inquest on Martin Wheeler.

The inquest to determine the cause of the death of Martin Wheeler, the youth who was found Sunday night lying on the Union Pacific railroad tracks, was held Monday. The jury decided young Wheeler was killed by train No. 5 a few minutes after midnight. Witnesses described finding the body by the tracks in a position which indicated that he had gone to sleep on the incline with his head near the rail. His head was apparently crushed by the engine beam. J. M. Wheeler, the father, came from Nebraska City and will hold his son's funeral this morning at 10 o'clock. Inquest on Martin Wheeler.
