BROOKLYN, Sept. 12.—Today's game was a slugging match in which the Pittsburgs fought a good up-hill battle, but were feetive pitching in the last three lanings. Dunn and Kennedy had been used up in the first half. Chesbro was batted hard during the early stages, but settled down toward the finish. Attendance, 2,400. Score:

Hudson to New York City and had a royal good time during the whole four weeks. And the best part of it all was that the company footed all the bills and proved an admirable host."

PALMER OUT IN ONE ROUND

Englishman is Really Never in it with the Brooklyn Lad.

McGovern's Arms Work Like a Piston | may be provided for pupils. Rod and He Simply Batters His Opponent Into Partial Insensibility.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.-Terry McGovern of Brooklyn whipped Pedlar Palmer of London thoroughly in less than one round in the arena of the Westchester club, near Tuckahoe, N. Y., this afternoon. With the victory went the title of bantam champion of the world, although both contestants were really in the featherweight class,

The Englishman, although forcing the and McGovern simply battered his opponent into partial insensibility. The Brooklyn lad's arms worked like piston rods and the punishment he gave Palmer was swift and terrible.

The battle did not last quite one round, the actual time of fighting being exactly two minutes and thirty-two seconds, at the end of which time Palmer was lying helpless, though half conscious, on the floor of the

The ringing of the gong was as purely accidental as it was unlooked for and the Englishman's handlers made no complaint on this score. Veritable Fighting Machine.

From the outset McGovern seemed to have his man well in hand, but his most sanguine admirers never imagined that Terry would win in such short order. It was a case of a hurricane fighter pitted against a clever boxer and the fighter won. McGovern is a veritable fighting machine and he went at his adversary with bulldog determination and lightning rapidity. His arms were never at rest for a moment and he beat down Palmer's guard with his sledgehammer blows.

The purse was $10,000, 75 cent of which went to the winner and the remainder to the loser. In addition to this both pugilists are guaranteed an interest in the privileges accruing from the kinetoscope pictures of the fight.

left again with force, but McGovern stepped back quickly and Palmer fell to his knees. When he arose they got to work at close quarters, Terry landing right twice on jaw and then bringing it down to the stomach, at the same time keeping his head inside of Pakaer's swings. Palmer landed a good left on Terry's mouth, but the Brooklyn man only shook his head and kept both hands working on head and body. When they had been fighting just one minute Timekeeper Poliock accidentally rang the gong at a moment when McGovern was evidently getting the better of his opponent. The principals broke quickly and went amazement. The referee seeing that a mistake had been made through pure accident called the boys together again and they resumed hostilities after a lapse of about welve seconds.

The got to close quarters immediately with eavy half-arm work but Palmer countered on the face. Palmer assumed a crouching attitude and seemed to old McGovern with his left hand, but Perry, quick as a flash, hooked his left to the head and Palmer dropped to the floor. Palmer got up within four seconds. He was groggy, and McGovern forced him to the opes, swinging both hands. The Brooklyn lad was over-anxious to finish his man, and Palmer, though half groggy ducked beautifully. McGovern was all over him without pausing for an instant, and kept working both hands to the body and neck. Palmer again got into a half crouching attitude and got to a clinch. As they broke McGovern threw his right hard over the heart and hooked his left to the point of the jaw. Palmer staggered from the effects of this blow and McGovern seeing his opportunity, threw the right over to the mark and Palmer fell to the floor in a half conscious condition. He made desperate attempts to get up, but they were ineffectual. McGovern, after he delivered the final blow. to the trip. * SOUTH OMAHA NEWS.

The boodle talk which developed at the versation on the streets yesterday. Those who are at all familiar with the condition surprised, but to a large majority the news order for the gifts. came in the nature of a shock. The reputation which the board has was shown by the letter read by Member Freitag in connection with the agreement to pay a certain sum for a teacher's position. This letter, Mr. Freitag says, he never answered, but he read it to show the impression which seems to prevail in connection with the conduct of affairs by members of the board. Of course Mr. Wyman denies that he ever sent word to Mr. Stewart that it would take $50 to secure the sale of five typewriters and there the matter rests. Those who demanded an investigation did not persist and the probability is that the matter will be dropped.

Some of those who are reputed to be unfriendly to the board stated yesterday that the contract for the new school building at Twentieth and O streets would never be allowed to go through. A restraining order is threatened on the ground that the board has exceeded its authority in allowing a contract for a sum exceeding $5,000. It is stated that there is a law preventing the board from awarding contracts above the sum mentioned, but if such is the case it has been frequently violated. Last year four rooms were added to the Lincoln school at a cost of $8,000 and there was no complaint. Soon after this the Highland school was erected at a cost of over $8,000 and this question of law was never brought | tend up, so that it may come in bad grace now to interfere with the erection of a building which is so badly needed. Superintendent Wolfe's report shows that the schools are full to overflowing and that the proposed new building is needed to reduce the prossure in three schoolhouses near the heart of the city. Wolfe and others who have the interests of the schools at heart hope that PUNISHMENT IS SWIFT AND TERRIBLE petty politics may be laid aside and that the construction of the building may be gone aheaq with in order that additional room

Pushing Armonr's Warehouse. Electric are lights have been placed about the excavations at Armour's so that the driving of piles for the new nine story warehouse may go on day and night. Over 2,100 piles are to be driven and in order to expedite the work a steam hammer pile driver from Chicago has been procured. This is something new here, as the old style drop weight has always been used heretofore. The steam hammer now in use here is the same one that was used in driving the piles for the new postoffice building in Chicago. The advisory committee from the Buildng Trades' Council, consisting of W. H. Bell, painter's union; Ernst Krantz, bricklayers; W. P. Clark, tinners, and J. M. Rose, plumbers, attempted last evening to bring about a settlement of the strike be tween the carpenters and contractors, without meeting with any success.
