TRUST CONFERENCE CLOSES

Noted Gathering Comes to an End in a Blaze of Oratory. BRYAN AND BOURKE COCKRAN SPEAK

CHICAGO, Sept. 16.—The conference on the uses and abuses of trusts closed its session today in a blaze of oratory, in which W. J. Bryan and Bourke Cockran, who were the main speakers, delivered the Nebraskaan, but disclaimed any intention of debating the conclusions of his immediate predecessor and declaring his complete concurrence in much that Mr. Bryan had said. The afternoon session opened with addresses by Attorney General T. S. Smith of Texas and J. S. Beard, who had a hand in framing the New Jersey trust law. A general discussion followed, which resulted in both Mr. Bryan and Bourke Cockran taking the platform. W. D. Foulke of Indiana made a short speech, in which he declared that he wanted to see that the remedies proposed by Mr. Bryan in the latter's speech during the morning session could result in the attainment of the object sought for.

monopoly has been lowering prices in order to rid itself of competitors, but when it has rid itself of competitors what you have to be the result. My friends, all you going to do is to lower prices. God made men selfish. Selfishness is merely the outgrowth of an instinct of self-preservation. It is the abnormal development of a man's desire to protect himself.

State and Federal Limits. "We have a state government and a federal government, and while this dual form of government has its advantages, yet both state and nation should have concurrent powers. In the first place, every state has or should have the right to create any private corporation which in the justice of the people of the state is conducive to the welfare of the people of that state. I believe we are entitled to have the right to create a state the settlement of a question which concerns them. If they create a corporation and it becomes destructive of their best interests, they can destroy that corporation and we can safely trust them both to create and to destroy it if conditions make annihilation necessary.

in which it is organized shall bring to that board or body proof that that stock is bona fide and that there is no water in it. In my judgment, when you take from monopoly the power to issue stock not represented by money you will go more than half the way toward destroying monopoly in the United States.

Trusts Unnatural Growth. "I have faith that these questions will be settled and settled right, but I want to protest against this doctrine that the trust is a natural outgrowth of natural laws. It is not. The trust is the nature of growth of unnatural conditions created by man-made laws. "You cannot hide behind the doctrine that it is here and you cannot get rid of it. I believe that the American people can get rid of anything that they don't want and that they ought to get rid of everything that is not good.

DEFENSE OF THE TRUSTS

"The defense of the monopoly is always placed on the ground that if you will allow people to control the market and fix the price they will be good to the people who depend on them. The only way to get the trusts right upon a money argument. If the trust will sell to a man an article for a dollar less than the article will cost under other conditions, then in the opinion of some that proves a trust to be a good thing. In both cases, I don't think it is necessary to place the price will be reduced. In the second place, if under a monopoly the price is reduced the objections to a monopoly from other standpoints far outweigh the financial advantage of the trust, and I believe the early years of Lincoln's administration sent a message to congress and in that message he warned his countrymen against the approach of monopoly. He said it was the attempt to put capital upon an equal footing with labor, or above labor, the structure of government, you are on the right side of a revolution that rests not upon reason, but upon force.

NO FEAR OF PARTY DEFEAT

Senator Hanna Has Confidence in Final Judgment of People. PARTY HAS FULFILLED ITS PROMISES

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Senator M. A. Hanna arrived here today on the St. Louis from Southampton. He said to a reporter that his health had improved somewhat while he was abroad and that he had had a good time. "My observations of England," said Mr. Hanna, "are that it is a country with a great political system. It is fully as good as our and England has built up a government full of stability. I was delighted with the outdoor life in England. "I suppose the English all have their opinion as to our Philippine policy, but I did not discuss the matter with any one. Of course I believe that President McKinley will be re-nominated, but then I have given my opinion on that matter so often that it has now become rather a cliche. As to Governor Roosevelt for vice president, I certainly will not discuss that possibility.

Speaking of the coming campaign, Senator Hanna said: "I think that industrial conditions and the Philippine war will prove factors in the coming campaign. The Philippine war will be made an issue by the democratic party, but we have nothing to fear. I would as soon see a so-called expansion made an issue as I would have the silver question, for silver is an old man of the sea. I am not afraid of the outcome among the people. I have reason to believe that the sound judgment of the people is in a manner to be changed by a change. I believe, by their own act, change the conditions of the country. "The United States has entered on an era of prosperity. The promises of the republican party have been kept. The commercial conditions of the country are sound and its prosperity is based on confidence. I am confident of a republican victory. "I am of the belief that there will be some difficulty in making the trusts a political issue. The republican party is just as much opposed to the amassing of wealth in a manner to injure the public as is the democratic. "Mr. Hanna would not discuss Ohio politics, but when McLean's nomination for governor was mentioned he said: "That's good." In speaking of the Dreyfus trial the senator said: "I heard of no expressions of opinion as to the Dreyfus trial while abroad except those made by Americans. Every American whom I met on the other side is heartily in favor of Dreyfus, but at the same time it appeared to me there was no disposition on the part of the Americans to protest or interfere in the matter. All this talk of boycotting the Paris exposition or the president interfering is all nonsense. This affair is one which concerns the French nation and is purely their business. We have no right to interfere."
