OUTLINE ANTI-TRUST LAWS

After Two Days' Speechmaking Conference Resolves and Dissolves.

TROUBLE DRAFTING THE RESOLUTIONS Committee Tolls Until After Mid-

night and Then Adjourns

Without Completing

Its Labors.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 21.-After two days of speechmaking the governors, attorneys general and other state representatives who satisfied with the scenery of the wild west. noon Major General J. R. Ellcott of Chicago have been holding a conference here on the invitation of Governor Sayers of Texas day night to witness the grand illumination the highest step in Odd Fellowship, upon adopted resolutions outlining the legislation of the White City, and also heard the solo nine candidates. The armory was beautineeded to control the so-called trusts and concert on the Plaza. The evening was fully decorated with paims, flags and buntcombines and adjourned sine die,

The recommendations embodied were agreed to after a long session of the com-mittee on resolutions. So widely divergent were the views presented for its consideration that it was after midnight when the committee was able to arrive at any conclusion. The whole matter was then referred to a subcommittee composed of Governor McMillin of Tennessee and Attorneys General Smith of Texas and Campbell of Colorado to put into proper shape.

The conference was to have met at 9 clock, but it was noon before it got down to business, as the committee on resolutions was not ready to report until then. The delayed regrets of the attorney general of Ohio were read and then Governor McMillin, chairman of the committee on resolutions, presented the report of that committee. It was as follows:
"The committee on resolutions, to which were referred several resolutions and papers, n lieu of them submits the following, with observance of the laws under which they are created. "3. The enactment by each state of laws

That no corporation shall own or hold any stock in another corporation en gaged in a similar or competitive business and that no officer or director of a corporation shall be the officer or director or the owner of stock in another corporation engaged in a similar or competitive business the object or result of which is to create a trust or monopoly.

"7. Recognizing that trusts are usually composed of corporations and that corporations are but creatures of the law and can only exist in the place of their creation and cannot migrate to another sovereignty without the consent of that sovereignty and that this consent may be withheld when desired, we recommend, as the sense of this conference, that each state pass laws providing that no corporation which is a member of any pool or trust in that state or elsewhere can do business in that state. "Resolved, That it is the sense of this conference that all the capital stock of private corporations should be fully paid either, first, in lawful money; or, second, in property of the actual cash value of the amount of capital stock, and that in all private corporations with a capital stock issued in excess of the amount actually paid up as above provided the shareholders shall be liable to the extent of twice the face

Governor McMillin, in presenting the resolutions, said he was aware of the fact that trusts and combinations to restrain upon federal, state or municipal governments for their continuance.

"This is no assemblage," he said, "to war on corporations or capital in any form. The object of these resolutions is not to crush corporations or destroy capital, but to regulate them. That is the whole object of this conference, and when that is obtained its whole duty will have been done.'

Attorney General Davis of Arkansas made few remarks in favor of the resolutions in the course of which he deplored the fact that anything had come up during the conference to mar the harmony of its proceed

Chairman Sayers then put the question and the resolutions were unanimously adopted by the representatives of the states remaining. Governors Shaw of Iowa and Thomas of Colorado and Attorney General Taylor of Indiana having gone home last Attorney General Campbell of Colorado moved that a committee of five be appointed resolutions adopted, and that each governor here present it to his legislature and recommend it to the chief executives of other states. Mr. Heifner of Washington and Governor Jones of Arkansas objected to this on general principles and the motion was
