Union Testimony that They Operate with a Minimum of Labor and Reduce Wages.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25 .- The Industrial commission today listened to a statement concerning the operations of the Tobacco Workers' International union from E. C.

Evans of Louisville, Ky., founder of the order, and its secretary and treasurer. He said that about 80 per cent of the tobacco manufactured in the United States was produced by the two combines known as the American and Continental Tobacco companies, and he expressed the opinion that such combinations were not beneficial to labor. He cited one instance in which three manufactories had been absorbed by the American company, throwing 500 and 600 employes out of work. In another case wages had been reduced from $2.50 to $1.25 per day after consolidation.

Mr. Evans said that women stood on the same footing as men in the union, voting and holding office and drawing the same wages. He considered the indifference of the negro to regular hours or to a systematic scale of wages as the greatest obstacle in the way of the organization in the southern states.

The commission will not meet again take testimony until October 5.

GUADALOUPE'S MANY MISFORTUNES. An Appeal to the World May Be

No Liquor Selling This Year.

One of the questions the management has had to contend with in holding the fair in past years is that of selling intoxicating liquors upon the grounds. John Armstrong. that the Europeans, Anderson, Kuster and a member of the executive committee, says "Heretofore in conducting the fair it has been the policy of the local management to give to the public the statement that there would be no liquor sold upon the DEATH FOR THE ASSASSINS grounds, and the statement was no doubt given in good faith. But owing to the fact hat the guaranties were secured here in Yankton, a goodly portion being given by those wishing a privilege to sell upon the grounds, enough pressure was brought to bear upon that management to at the last moment gain the desired consent and liquor was sold. But this fall it will be different. I can assure the public. Notwithstanding the fact that the guaranty has been raised, practically the same as done in prior years, the state board will take the matter in hand and live up to the law. There need be no fear this year that the fair will be a to death, ten others were condemned to disgrace in any sense of the word, either

The stock department is well filled with a fine class of stock. The poultry show will be larger this year. Among those entering blooded birds from out of the state is A. R. Whitney, proprietor of the Sloux Valley Poultry Yards of Akron, Ia., who is exbibiting forty.

One of the notable buildings is the agricultural building. In other years this buildhas been well filled, but now it is running over. Four counties are there with full exhibits, namely, Brule, Bon Homme and Clay countles of Scuth Dakota and Houston county, Minnesota, heside numerous individual exhibitors from other counties. George A. Smith of Gayville has on exhibition as fine a display of corn of all colors and variety as can be seen at any fair. Brookings college offered a premium for the largest and finest display of native grasses and as a consequence a Mr. Warner of Sanborn county, among other competitors has secured a selection of sixty kinds of grasses that would do credit to many an older state. Owing to this crowded condition in the agricultural building the Brookings college exhibit was removed to another building.

The racing program will be worth going miles to seen. The purses aggregate for four days $3,000. Yankton this year belongs to a racing circuit. The two large barns are full of trotters and pacers, while the small sheds contain many running horses.
