Adjutant General Bobs Up with Statement Intended to Square Himself.

Two Thousand Nebraska Volunteers Who Paid Their Fare Cause Him to See a Nightmare-Bryan's Military Record.

LINCOLN, Sept. 28 .- (Special Telegram.) -Adjutant General Barry gave it out this Position afternoon that he would make a denial of the article published in The Bee this morning and that he would prove that the recruits to the First and Second regiments did not pay their own transportation to the place of muster. On this matter a number of soldier boys were interviewed today. One of the officers of the Second said:

If Barry makes any such statement he will get into an argument with 2,000 men who have knowledge of the facts. Only a few of the recruits from the home stations of companies had their fares paid. The boys who came in from the farms of Nebraska paid their own way to Lincoln and they have never been reimbursed."

Readers of the Bee will remember that last summer Lieutenant Hartigan, one of the recruiting officers who came back to Nebraska to get more men for the regiments in the field, in a public interview bitterly condemned the administration for refusing to furnish transportation for recruits, while it was at the time paying the way for every recruit who wanted to get into the Third regiment. Hartigan was a democrat, but was disgusted with the partisan methods of the state house crowd. He assisted some of the recruits with money from his own pocket.

Barry's Statement. Following is Adjutant General Barry's version of the matter: The Bee-Sir: An article appearing in your competent to be judge? Is there no other paper of Thursday, the 28th inst., on page 3, entitled 'State Footed the Bill and How Hoicomb Conducted the Military Affairs," in no other man in the silver republican party which it stated that Governor Holcomb. W. J. Bryan and Adjutant General Barry transacted military business and paid the expenses with state funds to the amount of $141 to bring in a crowd of Stormsburg men who intended to enlist in the Second Nebraska volunteer regiment and stating that the men never went to camp, but were called to the state house and after a consultation with Governor Holcomb, W. J. Bryan and Ajutant General Barry, returned

"That portion of the above statement that the men never went to camp and were called to the state house for consultation by the ers' homes from confiscation? Was it beparties named above I desire to state is not true, as the records of the office show. The facts in the above case briefly stated are as he was in favor of a democratic president

"On the afternoon of May 10, 1898, Company M, Second regiment, Nebraska National Guard, refused to muster into the United States service. A company organized at Stromsburg desired to replace those who did not care to muster in the volunteer service and on May 11th I wired Mr. Victor Wilson at Stromsburg to report with thirty-five recruits at Camp Alvin Saunders for examination and muster in. After this action had been taken Company M held a meeting and reconsidered their action and decided to muster into the United States service. That evening I immediately wired Mr. Wilson at Stromsburg revoking the order for transportation, but owing to the fact that the order revoking did not reach the station agent until after the recruits had departed the recruits from Stromsburg reported to the adjutant general's office at Camp Saunders on their arrival on the morning of the 12th. only to find that Company M had been mustered into the United States service. Five of these men from Stromsburg enlisted as recruits in other companies in the Second regiments. In this matter of recruiting Company M, my action was in harmony with parts one and four, general orders No. 13, A. G. O., Lincoln, Neb., April 30, 1898, which company commanders of the First and Second regiments, Nebraska National Guard, are hereby ordered to recruit their commands to the maximum number allowed by law, viz.: Seventy-nine (79) enlisted men.

4. Company commanders are hereby authorized to wire transportation if necessary (mails should be used if posible) to such number of recruits as may be necessary to with the regulations above men-

F. H. BARRY, Adjutant General. "These paragraphs refute the statement other persons offering themselves as recruits had to pay their own transportation. "In the matter of payment of this expense, why should the item of the recruits from Stromsburg be selected? Was there not just as valid reason for issuing orders otherwise and desire a convention and re- night by shooting herself with a 32-caliber for transportation for this particular company, as to authorize company commanders to recruit as per paragraph 4 of the above order quoted? The reasons why this bill was not paid prior to the time as shown in the records are as follows: "The transp rtation orders for these thirtyfive men from Stromeburg to Lincoln, and thirty men from Lincoln to Stromsburg, were issued to the Union Pacific railroad on May 12, 1898, and the same were presented to this office for payment on June 29, 1899. The voucher received the approval of the proper officers and a warrant was drawn for the same. This item of expenditure will be returned to the state by the general government under the act of congress reimbursing the state in the war with Spain. I am very respectfully yours,

"P. H. BARRY, Adjutant General." Bryan's Military Record.

Bryan's reference to his military record at O'Neill several days ago has revived the question as to whether or not he was elected captain of Company A of the Third regiment before being promoted to colonel. The intention of the popocratic organizers of the regiment was to have Bryan enlist as a private, be elected captain and then be raised colonel by promotion. The night of the election of officers for Company A it was etated openly at the meeting that Bryan withdrew from the race before a vote was taken, there being another candidate for the same position. It was generally believed that the free silverite withdrew to save

BARRY IS MOVED TO REPLY defeat. The meeting was secret, but nearly everyone present admitted that Bryan was everyone present admitted that Bryan was not elected. Horace G. Whitmore was elected to take the place of captain of the company, but later reeligned for political reasons. In a recent interview Bryan asserted that there was no opposition to him and that not until after he withdrew was Whitmore a candidate. A paper is being STATEMENTS BY THE BEE WORRY HIM circulated for signatures of populists and democrats who were present at the election denying this assertion. Colonel Vifquain today made the following statement concerning the matter:

"When I gave that interview to the press last week concerning the organization of the Third regiment, I never thought of Whitmore. I remember now that he was elected captain after Mr. Bryan refused to accept the

"He wasn't connected in any way with the regiment after his resignation, and I suppose thatels the reason I did not remember him. I never thought of him until I saw his name mentioned in Mr. Bryan's interview given to the papers a few days ago.

"Whitmore was slated for the position of first lieutenant when Bryan was talked of for captain, so when Bryan refused to accept the position to which he was elected chief executive to remove Sprague from the by an unanimous rising vote, Whitmore was chosen in his stead. The next morning he mained in office until some time after his came out in a long article, resigning from the position to which he had been chosen. The whole production bore evidence that his Sprague's official conduct and for doing so move was premeditated."

PHELPS' CLAIM IS ALLOWED

Steward of the Beatrice Institution is Paid What State Owes Him.

CORNELL FINALLY PASSES UPON IT

Outgrowth of the Trouble Between Governor Poynter and Superintendent Sprague - Matter Hung Up for Some Time.

LINCOLN, Sept. 28 .- (Special.) - The claim of C. W. Phelps against the state for $222.21 for services alleged to have been rendered as steward of the lustitute for Feeble Minded at Beatrice was allowed today by Auditor Cornell and referred to Secretary Porter for approval. This claim grew out of the trouble which existed for several months between Governor Poynter and Superintendent Sprague. An attempt was made by the institution, but the latter resisted and resuccessor was appointed. Phelps furnished the governor with testimony regarding he was discharged.

An affidavit signed by Governor Poynter was filed with the auditor in support of the claim of Mr. Phelps, in which it was stated that Superintendent Sprague had requested the removal of the steward, but that he afterwards withdrew his request and consented to have him remain. Ex-Superintendent Sprague denies the statements of the governor in another affidavit, swearing that he did not withdraw his request for removal and adding, further, that Phelps was not in the employ of the institution after April 1, 1898, from which day the claim was dated.

In the face of these conflicting statements Auditor Cornell hesitated somewhat before taking any action on the claim. Today Secretary Fred Jewell filed with the auditor a supplementary affidavit corroborating the assertions of the governor. Mr. Jewell claims to have been present at the interview between the governor and the superintendent of the institution in which the latter is alleged to have withdrawn his request for the removal of Phelps. The claim was still further strengthened by the admission of Mr. Sprague that while Phelps was not steward after April 1, he was allowed to remain at the institution until June 20. The claim of Mr. Phelps amounts to $222.21. During the period of the claim another man acted as steward, who will also be paid the same

STRENGTH IS NATURAL—WEAKNESS UNNATURAL.

The weakness of the parent is bound to be born in the child. This fact is food for sober thought. Youthful errors and excesses causing organic weakness, nervous and glandular troubles in men and women is the bane of life. Why is it that men and women, will allow themselves to suffer the tortures of the unredeemed and slowly but surely sink into a living hell of misery and woe, when positive relief and an absolute cure is within such easy reach—can be had almost for the asking. To weak, deblitated men and women I offer a free book if they will only write for it. It will tell you just why drugs will not cure and why ELECTRICITY is now the greatest remedial agent known to modern science.
