Corn and Oats Share in the General idvance on Transvani War Rumors-Slump in Primary Receipts of Wheat.

Beddes this, primary receipts showed a big falling off and the foreign demand for wheat was excellent. The demand was quite general at the opening, outside involvement buying being much in evidence and December opening at 73%674c, soon advanced to 74½c. This price was well above call figures and selling against those privileges and the usual realizing by longs caused a temporary decline, December realizing to 74c. This, however, was the only soft spot of the entire session. Prices were soon back to 74½67½c, and though the yolume of trading fell off for a time for further decline resulted. There was aparently a quiet absorption of all offeries by some important interests. Toward the close of the session the market again became very active and broad and prices advanced materially. A report that diplogramatic relations between England and the Transval had been broken off and market dail law proclaimed in Pretoria, put a suid of notice stating to the province of the session the market again became very active and broad and prices advanced materially. A report that diplogramatic relations between England and the Transval had been broken off and market tall law proclaimed in Pretoria, put a suid on stating to the practical certainty of war as any incident that has thus for cocurred, so that the explanation did not relief to the stock market depression.

Other big shipping points reported a similar condition. New York reported thirty-nine loads taken for export. The visible supply showed a heavy increase. 2,415,000 bu., but this had little effect on the market. St. Louis was a big buyer in this market. December advanced from 76%c to 77%c, and closed 11,261%c higher at 77%c.

Corn was fairly active and strong. Shorts were heavy buyers of both December and May and both futures scored material advances. Prospects of a war in the Transvial was a prominent factor in the advance. The shipping demand was unabated, the MOVEMENTS OF STOCKS AND BONDS.

Money Tension and London News Exert Depressing Influence. NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—The stock market had to face this morning the accumulated was closed here. The drop in prices at the opening was a wide one, numerous railroad stocks showing a loss of a point or over and Tennessee Coal showing an extreme decline of 7 points. The local traders were inclined to feel that London was unduly depressed, especially with reference to American securities, and they started to bid prices up again. The first loan of the day was made at 6 per cent, and this encouraged an optimistic view of the money outlook. The raily was short-lived and the course was quite consistently downward for the rest of the day. A sharp advance in the coalers on the advance in the price of an bracite was ineffectual to check the decline. London sold not only during the first hour, but as iong as offices there were open for business. Liquidation from that source reached between 40.000 and 50,000 shares. The violent decline in British consols had an important sentimental effect, although it was afterward explained that this was parily due to the expectation of a new issue. But the new issue is as significant of the practical certainty of war as any incident that has thus far occurred, so that the explanation did not afford relief to the stock market depression.

HOGS—As usual on a Monday, the receipts of hogs were very light and there celpts of hogs were very light and there were hardly enough on sale to make a test of the market. Packers seemed to want what hogs there were and were out early and soon cleared the pens, paying prices that were just about 2½c higher than Saturday's market. Some choice light hogs soid as high as 45.0, while heavy hogs sold will show the kind of prices paid for the different weights. Representative sales:
