AUBURN, Neb., Oct. 6 .- (Special Telegram.)-The opera house was packed this evening to listen to Chaplain Mailley of the Fighting First Nebraska tell of the Philip pine war and its cause. On the stage with the chaplain sat about a dozen veterans of the civil war and for an hour and a half the speaker held the closest attention of the audience with his description of the conditions that brought on the war. His speech from start to finish was full of patriotism to Old Glory and the administration. The speaker was repeatedly cheered for his loyal and patriotic utterances. In time of war he believed it to be the duty of every American citizen to stand by his government, right or wrong.

The audience, which was composed of persons from all parts of the county, was more than pleased with the talk and went away with many expressions of gratitude to the speaker for enthusing them with more patriotism. Such speeches cannot help but make votes for the republican party.

Stockholders Liable.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 6.—In the United States district court today Judge Elimer E. Adams rendered a decision as to the liability of national bank stockholders. His decision, in effect, was that stockholders in a national bank, knowing it to be insolvent, could not transfer their stock legally to another for the purpose of evading the double hability law.
